The New Silver is Looking and Doing Well, Says Manager Farnsworth.

THE MAIN SHAFT IS 1,600 FEET DEEP.

See Mill at Work, Ready to Start Up, in the Exchange-Metallurgical Mining Items.

Mr. F. F. Farnsworth, manager of the New Silver at Frisco, returned this morning from a trip to the famous silver mine at Frisco, which has to the producer a prospect of over five million dollars, and which promises to be a large mine that will be a great asset to the metal market.

The mine is situated in the heart of the Frisco district, and is a very old mine, having been worked for many years. It is a very large mine, and is a very important one to the metal market.
