

Witnesses Subpoenaed.

PLEASANT GROVE, May 12, 1888.
Deputies McClellan and Redfield gave Pleasant Grove another of their periodic visits on Thursday last. They called at the house of the alleged plural wife of B. W. Briggs, and subpoenaed three children. After searching the premises they next went to Major Rose's residence and told that gentleman that they had a warrant for Mr. Briggs. They said they had been informed that he had stayed at the Major's. The officers were politely shown through the house, but the object of their search was not found.

They then proceeded to Thomas Woolley's farm house and arrested Mrs. Susanah Woolley, the alleged second wife of Mr. W., whom they escorted to Provo, where she was placed under $300 bonds to appear at the fall term of court. J. E. Booth and George Sutherland were sureties.

From the Australian Mission.

A small company of Elders and Saints, in charge of Elder John L. Blythe, arrived May 16 from the Australian mission. The returning Elders were Ezra F. Richards, of Farmington, who stopped off at Sacramento to visit relatives; F. H. Wright, of Coalville, Summit County; and Elias Johnson, of Provo. All of these Elders left their homes April 6th, 1885, excepting Elder Richards, who departed for his mission field October 21st, 1884, and they all have been laboring among the Maories of New Zealand. Elder Alma Hayes, of Georgetown, Bear Lake, also returned with the company, being released, on account of ill health, after an absence from home of about a year.

They were accompanied by the following Saints: Annie Latimer and her niece Minnie McClellan, from Adelaide, South Australia; Wm. Armstrong, Mortlake, New South Wales; Samuel Cox, Cambridge, New Zealand; John Clark, Daisy Flat, N. Z.; Maggie Mortensen, Napier, N. Z.; C. J. Lee, his wife, child and sister-in-law, from Melbourne, Victoria, accompanied the party as far as San Francisco, which they visit on a business and pleasure tour.

Elder John L. Blythe, president, till his departure, of the Australasian Conference, is of Salt Lake City and has spent three years in the mission field. He has been well received on the island and has baptized over twenty converts; though in general much indifference is shown to the teachings of the Gospel.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, MAY 19, 1888.

An Explosion.

Last evening Mr. Frank Browning, a 14-year-old son of C. S. Browning, of this city, who is engaged in weighing coal for Harris and Farr, picked up a substance which he saw lying with a baggage check on the road. He had no sooner done so than the substance exploded tearing the flesh of his left hand in a very painful manner. His pants above the knee were also burned. He could not explain what the explosive was.—Ogden Standard, May 17.

Robbery at Elko.

Night before last Wells, Fargo & Co's office at Elko was entered and a treasury box containing $4000, which was awaiting shipment to Tuscarora, stolen. The robbers effected an entrance into the express office by breaking through a glass door. There were two treasury boxes in the office, one containing $6000 in gold and the other $2000 in gold and as much more in silver. The robbers took the heaviest box—that containing the silver—put it on a wheelbarrow and wheeled it off in the sagebrush. They then carried the box some distance, and for some cause left it, and it was found in the morning unopened. The money was being sent to Tuscarora to pay the employees of mining companies.—Nevada Silver State, May 15.

Murdered in Arizona.

Michael Whalen, an old and well known former resident of Mount Fort, Weber County, was cruelly murdered in Arizona on the 8th inst. He kept a store in Globe City, Gila County, and had gone on a journey to purchase goods. Upon returning he was waylaid by bandits and cruelly shot. His body was afterwards found by travelers, thrown into the brush. His remains were taken to Globe, where an inquest was held, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the above facts. Mr. Whalen was between 50 and 60 years of age. He left this county nearly four years ago, and has since then resided in Globe. His wife and children reside in Mount Fort. He was the father-in-law of Mr. W. G. Wilson, who resides in Ogden canyon; he was among the early settlers in this county, and his many friends will be pained to learn of the fate which has overtaken him. The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.—Ogden Standard.

Bled to Death.

Yesterday, at 3:10 o'clock p. m., Hubert Brown, a 20-year-old son of J. M. Brown bled to death. The young man had suffered for nearly a year from quick consumption brought on by exposure to cold. He had not been able to be about much during this time, but it was thought that lately he was materially improving. Yesterday he ate a hearty dinner, and seemed to be as well as usual. At the hour named he went out on the porch of his father's residence on South Main Street, and he was taken with a fit of coughing and vomiting of blood. His mother was immediately on the spot but could do nothing to stop the flow. In ten minutes the clotted blood had choked young Hubert, and he was dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown and family have the sincere sympathy of the whole community in their great and sad loss. They have lost three grown sons during the past few years, making the present bereavement even greater, if possible, than under other circumstances. The funeral will take place from the residence on South Main Street on Saturday the 10th inst.—Ogden Standard, May 18.

Immigration Matters.

By cable from Liverpool we learn that a company of Saints numbering 187 souls left that port this morning by S. S. Wyoming of the Guion line. From the same source we learn that a company of Danish Saints will leave Liverpool on June 2d, and that a company of Swiss Saints will sail from that port on June 9th. The main June company of British Saints will leave Liverpool June 23d.

The fare from Copenhagen to Salt Lake City, Ogden and Provo is $60.50. The rate from Liverpool to any of these points is $35. Parties in this country sending for their relatives or friends should include a few dollars in excess of fare to provide food on the way from New York to Utah.

Body Found.

The body of Mrs. E. W. Holland, the woman who so mysteriously disappeared from her home in Cokeville, Wyoming, a short time ago, has been found in Bear river where it had been for twenty-one days. It seems she was in trouble about something, and going onto the bridge she tied her hood over her head, completely covering her face and then jumped off.

Coroner Code being notified, secured the services of Dr. Hocker and went to Cokeville, where an inquest was held. The doctor could not find any marks or bruises on her body, and a verdict of temporary insanity was rendered.

Mrs. Holland was one of the earliest settlers in this locality and has always been known as a patient, hard working woman, and highly respected by all her acquaintances. She has, with her husband, reared a large family under trying circumstances, having always had to struggle with poverty.—Evans-ton Chief, May 18.

Utah County Notes.

The woolen mills received a shipment of ten carloads of wool on Saturday from Sanpete County, while Mr. James Dunn yesterday bought $1000 worth.

Orlando Herron, of Pleasant Grove, was arrested last night by Deputy Norrell on the unlawful cohabitation charge, and brought before Commissioner Hills this morning. He waived examination and was bound over in $1000 bonds to appear before the next grand jury. He has already served one term in the penitentiary for unlawful cohabitation.

A lady named Hawkins was arrested by Deputies Norrell and McLellan Sunday night at Benjamin, and placed under bonds by Commissioner Hills, to secure her presence as a witness in the case against her husband for unlawful cohabitation. When arrested she struck at Herbert, "the Benjaminite spotter," and pulled him from his horse.

Saturday morning the yard and barn of Lucius Whiting, of Springville, were burned to the ground. Mrs. Whiting was called up at 3 a. m. to attend a sick child, and saw the fire, which had got under considerable headway. A call and two pigs were burned to death, and several other animals were scorched, but not seriously. The fire is supposed to have originated from some ashes which had been thrown in the chicken coop the night before.

After the mantle of night had covered the earth last Friday evening, Deputy Marshals Norrell and McLellan bled themselves to Springville and succeeded in arresting Lorin Harmer and W. H. Kelsey, two well-known and respected residents of Springville, on charges of unlawful cohabitation. They were brought to Provo before Commissioner Hills Saturday morning. Harmer was bound over in the sum of $1000 to appear before the next grand jury, and Kelsey is to have a hearing in the near future, when the prosecution is expecting to bring evidence against him.

One of the finest things that ever happened to Utah County occurs in the erection of one of Wolf & Hamaker's full roller mills in American Fork, Mayor Robinson, of that place, and the Co-op. owning equal shares in the landable enterprise. G. M. D. Robinson, brother of the mayor of American Fork, arrived last Sunday from Pennsylvania to superintend the construction of the mill, which will be the only one of its kind south of Salt Lake City. The machinery is on the way, and, as soon as it arrives, will be placed in position. Work on the building is now in full blast.

Yesterday morning we had a call from Mr. J. M. Pierce, of Springville, who informs us that last Saturday the family of George Watson had all been poisoned. They had gathered some fresh pie plant and stewed it in a tin pan, letting the fire go down. The acid in the fruit drew out the poison in the tin. They partook of the pie plant freely, and soon after were all deathly sick. We are glad to say they have all recovered, with the exception of the mother, who is still very low. This should be a warning to all people who will still insist upon stewing or preserving pie plant in tins.—Provo Enquirer, May 15.

On Wednesday last Deputies McLellan, Redfield and Norrell arrested John Flowers, constable at Heber city, on an indictment found by the last grand jury charging him with assault with a deadly weapon. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000.

Deputy Redfield arrested Albert Haws, of this city, in Provo Valley, on Wednesday, as also his alleged plural wife, Harriet Mayberry. They both appeared this morning before the Commissioner, when Mr. Haws waived examination and was released on $1,200 bonds. Miss Mayberry was held in $600 bonds to appear as a witness in his case.

Early Tuesday Morning Deputy McLellan arrested Wm. Kelly, of American Fork, on the unlawful cohabitation charge. He was allowed, on his word, to appear before Commissioner Hills to answer to the charge, on Wednesday, which he did. He waived examination and was bound over in the sum of $600, to answer before the next grand jury.

On Wednesday, Deputy McLellan strolled to Provo Valley on official business, and in the evening arrested John Walton, of Alpine, on the charge of unlawful cohabitation, and also arrested his alleged plural wife. They both appeared before the Commissioner last night, when Mr. Walton waived examination and was released on $1000 bonds. The lady was held to appear as a witness against him in the sum of $600.

Provo, at the present time, is over flooded with drummers and commercial men of every description. The mildest of our merchants say they are being bored to death, and are under the unpleasant necessity of neglecting their customers. Among the many drummers is one all the way from Chicago selling shirts to, not only business houses, but to private individuals. The same shirt can be purchased at any of our stores at half the price asked, yet we understand many have been won over by his oily tongue, and have patronized him. Drummers on the road will understand by this, that enough is as good as a feast.—Provo Enquirer, May 18.

Provo Points.

The weather here is fine.

Albert Haws was arrested last evening on the charge of unlawful cohabitation.

The fruit crop this year promises to be exceptionally good, but the worms are not all dead yet.

"Pinafore" is to take the boards a week from tomorrow evening, with local talent in every part.

Those who ought to know are expecting the Midland Railway down Provo Canyon this summer, without fail.

The real estate boom seems to have struck Provo in real earnest. Prices have not, however, advanced so much here as in Salt Lake.

For allowing his dog to bite the child of John Grier, Allen Thompson had a hearing before Justice Booth on Thursday, and was fined $5.

Only a fair house attended the theatre last evening to hear McKanlass and company, but the audience was well satisfied with the entertainment.

The number of flowing wells about town is steadily increasing, and there is as yet no diminution in the flow of any of them. On the bench above town, however, no water has yet been obtained.

The flowing wells along Centre Street will obviate the necessity of the city going to the expense of a street sprinkler, as each owner, with very little trouble, can keep the street in good condition.

The Provo fruit canning factory is no longer a doubtful project. Mr. A. A. Noon has returned from Fillmore, where he purchased a plant, and the building is now under way near the depot. Tomatoes will be the chief product the present season.

The police report a noticeable increase in the number of drunken persons to be seen on the streets since the high license went into effect. Whether it will continue so is the question that is exercising the members of the city council, as well as the constituents.

Provo, May 18, 1888.

Information Wanted.

John Spekman, whose address is 11 Smith Street, off Fold's Road, Bolton, Lancashire, England, desires to be known, or learn the whereabouts of, the following persons: Hannah Spekman, who left Runcorn, Cheshire, England, about thirty years ago; John Sent and John Millington, who left the same place about twenty-five years ago; Robert Gill, formerly of the same place, and Edwin Tydlesley, who went from Wigan, Lancashire, about three years ago.

Indian Murderers.

United States Marshal Carr has recently received a number of letters and telegrams from Agent Jones, of the Shoshone, Fremont County, Indian reservation, in relation to a mysterious tragedy and consequent incidents transpiring within the agency jurisdiction.

Several months ago one Jewell, a white man visited the reservation for the avowed purpose of buying Indian ponies. Soon after he mysteriously disappeared. But little attention was paid to the circumstances as Jewell was a stranger in the region.

About two weeks since Jewell's body, with a bullet hole through the skull, was uncovered in a slough beside the Popoagie River, by a son of Black Coal, a sub-chief of the Arapahoes. The youth was at once charged with the commission of the crime, soon proved his innocence.

Circumstantial evidence led the investigators to believe that Sharpnose and Garfield Wolf, a pair of crazy Arapahoes, had murdered the home trader and concealed his remains. A rifle identified as the property of Jewell was found in the possession of Sharpnose, who claimed that the weapon had been presented to him by a traveling malefactor. Jewell's horse and saddle were found near Sharpnose's tepee. Garfield was suspected on account of his intimacy with the alleged murderer, the couple being inseparable companions.

Trouble now commenced in earnest. The settlers clamored for the punishment of the Indians, and according to Jones a certain element insisted that they be executed without the formality of a trial. It was known that Jewell had money and the Indian's story regarding the gun was regarded as altogether improbable. Excitement ran high, but no unlawful acts were performed.

Upon the advice of citizens Sheriff Sparhawk, of Fremont County, visited the agency and demanded Sharpnose and Garfield Wolf. Col. Jones refused to permit their arrest on the reservation, citing Judge Carr's ruling placing the Indians beyond the jurisdiction of the local authorities. The sheriff and his posse consequently returned empty handed.

Agent Jones at once wired Marshal Carr a synopsis of the occurrence and asked that gentleman's advice. The United States representative deputed McCabe, the chief of Indian police, by telegraph, and instructed him to locate Sharpnose and Garfield Wolf. The men were at once placed under arrest, and no further steps have since been taken in the matter officially.

Washakie, the veteran chief of the Shoshones, friend of the whites and nominal ruler at the agency, and Black Coat, the Arapahoe chief, unite in expressing the belief that Sharpnose is the murderer of Jewell.—Cheyenne Leader.
