

had quieted down some and when Nichol left she seemed to be all right. Mr. Nichol suggested that they take a trip to Los Angeles and his wife partly consented. Her mother was going and the next day he made arrangements for his wife and child to go to California. They left on Sept. 14.

On the night of the 8th, after Nichol left, his wife said: "If you will send me a letter, I will tell you I never want to see him again." She went to the telephone and called Dr. Beers. He came over. Walker did not know that Beers had come down on the train from Ogden with his wife.

Mrs. Walker objected to Walker being present at the interview. He watched them and Beers related Mrs. Walker by the arm. She said to the telephone and called No. 4. Walker, hearing the number, entered. He asked if his wife wanted him and she said yes. Beers got out of the room at once. Walker called to him to come back. He returned. Walker asked his wife if she had told Beers and she said "Yes, and I will do so again."

Walker said to Beers: "You have done me a great wrong." Beers said he did not think he had done Walker any wrong. "When a man meets his affinity you and no one else can come between them," said Beers. Walker told him that was enough of that kind of talk, that he had better go his way and they would go theirs. Beers then left, promising to keep away forever.

Walker wrote another letter to his wife that night and enclosed $10.

The letter was introduced in evidence and read by Atty. Hutchinson to the jury. It was brief but in vein similar to the other one.

After a recess of 10 minutes the examination was resumed.

A third letter which Walker wrote to his wife on the same date was also introduced and read to the jury. It was full of endearing terms and promises, with strong appeals to her to be true to him.

When he mailed these letters witness said he was living alone at the Lenox hotel. Mrs. Donohue told him that Beers had been telephoning his wife all week telling her that he had saved $100 for her future. He then began to wonder if Beers would follow his wife. Mrs. Donohue said he would not for three months. She told him then that his wife had been to Ogden on other occasions then when he permitted her. She said Mrs. Walker had been at Ogden on the 25th and came back on the 26th. Before Mrs. Walker left on that occasion she said she was going to her mother's. Mrs. Donohue said Mrs. Walker had not taken the baby with her to Ogden.

On the Monday Mrs. Beers called him up by phone. She was in Salt Lake. She said: "Mr. Walker, do you know Dr. Beers will follow your wife to Los Angeles?" He said he did not think so because they had an understanding. She again told him about his wife and the doctor being at the Hotel. She said: "Mr. Walker, why don't you go to have an understanding like a man and see him and see what he is going to do?" He replied he did not want to see the doctor again.

Mrs. Beers called at Walker's store and told him the doctor had sent her away. She said she had tried to commit suicide and showed a mark on her neck as if she had tried to cut herself. Walker advised her to go back and ask the doctor to take her back and not to upbraid him for what he had done.

Mrs. Beers told Walker that the doctor had been writing and telephoning to his wife. His last interview with Mrs. Beers was on Monday, Sept. 17.

On Tuesday, the 17th of September, he was at his desk as usual. That afternoon he talked with Attorney Hutchinson about the matter. The attorney advised him to write the pastor of the same church in Los Angeles as he attended in Salt Lake to go and see his wife and have the ladies of the church see his wife also, and see if they could divert her attention from Beers. Walker wrote the letters.

From the office of Mr. Hutchinson witness testified he went to the office of the Chief of Police McKenzie and

Autumn Chills

Caused by the wet and changeable weather, are especially dangerous this year, because of the debilitating effects of an uncommonly trying summer.

In their grip, the whole system suffers. Catarrh of the stomach and liver are deranged, indigestion and constipation occur, there are the chills of malaria, twinges of neuralgia and rheumatism, and liability to blood diseases like the grip, diphtheria, typhoid, scarlet fever, etc.

It is important to take a reliable blood medicine now to nourish and enrich the blood, cure or prevent autumn diseases and protect general health. The best is told him a man was following his wife. That he had sent her to Los Angeles to get her out of the influence of Dr. Beers. The chief informed him he could do nothing in the case officially, but that he would ask Detective Dick Shanon in Ogden to look up the matter and the chief gave witness a letter to him and advised that if he did not get to see Shanon to take the letter to Chief of Police T. E. Browning.

Walker then went to his office and telephoned Lawrence that he would be in Ogden on the 6:10 train, leaving Salt Lake City, and arrived here at 7:30 p. m. Lawrence was at the depot to meet him. They stopped at a cafe and had supper, then went to the store. At first he did not tell Lawrence about the trouble with his wife. They talked over some alarm clocks. Attorney Hutchinson objected to this testimony, but Attorney Hutchinson for the defendant argued that the evidence should be given as it tended to show that on the evening before the assault Walker did not think of beating Beers or doing him any bodily harm and the testimony was important to show that Walker did not premeditate the crime. The court overruled the objection and Mr. Walker told of going with Lawrence to see the chief of police. They met Capt. Brown, who said he and his wife were happy until Beers came between them. He asked Capt. Brown to keep the matter quiet. Capt. Brown told him he sympathized with him, as he too had a family, that he had heard of this man Beers before. Walker asked that Beers be watched, as his wife would be good if he could get her out of his influence and he left the case in the hands of Capt. Brown, as he had to return to Salt Lake in the morning.

Witness then told of his parting with Lawrence and going to the Healy hotel to stay for the night, and discovering his wife's handwriting in the name of W. W. Wallace on the register. Court then adjourned.

JOY FOR SCHOOL BOYS.

Announcement of Christmas Vacation Made from Headquarters.

Vacation for the city schools will commence next Friday, Dec. 20. The schools will reopen Monday, Jan. 6. All teachers will be paid next Friday for 20 days of December, giving them a little Christmas money. The teachers will also receive at least half pay for the time they will spend in Provo at the annual state teachers' convention. During vacation all school buildings will be cleaned and fumigated as a precautionary measure and with the reopening of school after the holidays the school authorities say they believe all infectious and contagious diseases among pupils will have disappeared.

STATE MENTAL HOSPITAL.

Superintendent D. H. Calder Submits Report on Year's Work.

Dr. D. H. Calder, superintendent of the state mental hospital, in his report to Gov. Cutler for the year 1907, says that out of 121 patients committed to the institution during the year, 62 came from Salt Lake county. There were 246 patients confined in the institution at the time the report was made, Nov. 30. This is against 356 for the same time last year. During the year 24 deaths occurred at the institution. Thirty-five women and 89 men have been discharged from the institution during the year. Of this number 56 were fully recovered, 41 had improved, while in seven cases there was no change in condition. The cost to maintain for the year amount to $50,108.97, or $137.24 for each patient.

In his report, Dr. Calder again brings to the attention of the governor the fact that there is no provision for separation of patients really insane and those who are merely feeble minded. In his report to Gov. Cutler last year this same fact was brought out, as also was it in the report of Dr. T. B. Beatty, secretary of the state board of health.

VIADUCT IS DANGEROUS.

Two Girls Held Up by Drunken Men On Unlighted Highway.

The need of lights on the North Temple street viaduct has again been brought to public notice, and citizens of the Third precinct are much disturbed. Two girls returning home from work Thursday night, were held up on the viaduct by two half-drunken men, and grossly insulted. They struggled and managed to escape, but only after being badly frightened. An effort will be made to persuade the city council to light that locality. With no lights, and locomotives passing underneath, making the immediate atmosphere thick and heavy with smoke, there are plenty of opportunities for holdups to ply their trade.

JAPANESE CADET.

He Takes First Honors in High School Inspection.

In the inspection of High school cadets yesterday afternoon Siki Togo, a Japanese student, came to the front of the cadets on point of excellence in drilling, and finally emerged from the contest as the "best drilled cadet in the corps." For winning the honor his name will go at the head of the cup provided for the best drilled man.

The inspection was conducted by Lieut. Arns, X. G. U., and he awarded to Company C the first place in the general inspection, with D company a close second. Togo, the Japanese boy, showed up best in the general inspection on equipment and arms, as well as in going through the manual.

Christmas Present

There is no question in our whole years experience which so effects and interests the minds of all classes. Since the first Christmas the practice of gift-making has grown, until today, from childhood to old age, it commands attention. Many of us are not in a position to make the gifts we would like to. Calls upon us are heavy, and perhaps means to be used for such purposes are small. We in this store, like to meet people who feel that economy as well as inclination must be considered. We have so gauged prices that no matter how heavy or light the purse we are sure to show something which will be appropriate and yet easily bought.

It is hardly possible to give in this space a complete list of all our Christmas suggestions, a suit of clothes or an overcoat will surely please the most fastidious. These are Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes you know, they're the best made. $20 to $50 is not all they're worth. We've headwear for all purposes from the dressy silk and opera hat down to the traveling cap. The line is unbroken and the quality unexcelled.

Mufflers 50c to $4
Gloves $1.50 to $6.50
Neckwear 50c to $3
Suspenders and Belts 50c to $5
