The Cleveland doctors thought a boy there had hydrophobia, but finally decided that the spasms were caused by over-study at school.

"Mammy!" said a precious little boy, who, against his will was made to rock the cradle of his baby brother, "If the Lord has any more babies to give away, don't you take 'em."

Every man deems that he has precisely the trials and temptations which are the hardest of all for him to bear; but they are so only because they are the very ones he needs.

A countryman was shown a bust of Napoleon, and informed whom it represented. He looked on with an incredulous grin. "Napoleon never lost both arms," said he.

The Congregationalist comments upon a trade circular in an English paper, recommending "a very good black tea dust at 1s. 4d. per pound, well adapted for charitable purposes as a gift to the poor," and adds that there is a great deal of this species of giving.

The record of Christmas crimes in New York city shows that there were four serious stabbing affrays, five murderous assaults, and two assaults with boiling water, besides the usual endless chapter of robberies and lesser crimes. The suburbs nearly double the list.—Ex.

Balm to the lacerated heart should not be injudiciously administered. The Denver News says a Monroe woman, weeping over the loss of a child, was assured by a sympathizing neighbor that "there are just as good fish in the sea as ever was caught."

The Saturday Review calls Mrs. Muloch-Craik's new story, "Hannah," "a deceased wife's sister's novel," and says "Hannah" is rather a tract than a novel, and a tract in two volumes, devoted to preaching up the duty of marrying our wives' sisters.

The local editor of the Paducah Kentuckian lately attended a party, and, according to his own words, saw nothing towards the close of the evening but "a beautiful billowy ocean of foaming skirts, which in their virgin and uncontaminated purity, rolled and puffed and surged in the gas-lit air."

There is a man in Decatur, Ill., so penurious that, when shelling corn and a kernel flew into the wood pile, he removed seven cords of wood to find it. A neighbor standing by dropped a kernel where the searcher was looking, but when he found it he said: You can't fool me with that small kernel; the one I lost was a large one.

"Thomas, I have always placed the greatest confidence in you. Now, tell me, Tom, how is it that my butcher's bill is so large and that I always have such bad dinners?" "Really, sir, I don't know, for, I am sure, we never have anything nice in the kitchen that we don't send some of it up into the parlor!"

A young man having put a crown piece into "the plate" in an Edinburgh church, by mistake, instead of a penny, asked to have it back, but was refused. In once, in forever. "Aweel, aweel," grunted he, "I will get credit for it in heaven." "Na, na," said Jeems, the doorkeeper, "ye'll get credit only for the penny ye meant to give."

A few nights since about thirty of the most respectable ladies of Medora, Ill., proceeded to a low shop near the depot in that village, and demolished all the glasses and bottles in the establishment, and emptied the whisky and cider on the floor. They would have made the job more complete by emptying the proprietor into the river.—Mo. Republican.

Gibbon, in his Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire, 10 p. 49, extracts this anecdote from the pages of Cardonna—He states that in the closet of the Kaliph Abdalrohmman the following confession was found after his decease:

"I have now reigned fifty years in victory or peace; beloved by my subjects, dreaded by my enemies, and respected by my allies. Riches and honor, power and pleasure, have waited on my call, nor does any earthly blessing appear to be wanting to my felicity. In this situation I have numbered the days of pure and genuine happiness which have fallen to my lot. They amount to fourteen. O, Man! place not thy confidence in this present world!"
