CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

The Vice-President laid before the Senate the resolution received from the House for a final adjournment of that body, with the concurrence of the Senate, on Monday next. On motion of Edmunds, the motion was passed upon by a viva voce vote.

The Vice-President stated that, under his interpretation of the order prescribing the business of the present Senate, memorials and petitions which might be presented could not be referred to committees, but must be placed on the file of the Senate.

Mr. Edmunds sent to the Secretary a resolution which he asked to have read. Conkling renewed the question of order, submitted by him yesterday, that the resolution could not be received, inasmuch as no other could be entertained than the matters specifically stated in the order lately adopted.

The Vice-President ruled, that a resolution to instruct a committee to report a bill, was in the nature of legislation and could not be received, but that a mere resolution of inquiry, or calling upon the President or a department for information, was not. The Chair would, however, submit the question upon presentation of the resolution to the Senate. He then read from the official report of the Globe of the proceedings of the Senate at the called session in March, 1861, for executive business, on the introduction at that time of a resolution by Douglas, calling for information concerning the acts of the Southern insurgents. Objection was raised to its introduction and the then Vice-President, Mr. Hamlin, decided that it was not in the nature of legislation, and could therefore be received. In the opinion of the Vice-President, a resolution for executive information, expressive of the sense of the Senate upon any subject, or affecting the rights of members, could only be received.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Outrage on a U. S. official.

WASHINGTON, 24.—Col. Huggins, of Aberdeen, Miss., Assistant U. S. Assessor of Internal Revenue, arrived in this city last evening. He reports that he was seized while making assessments in his district, in Monroe Co., Miss., recently, by a band of disguised men. He was severely horsewhipped and warned to leave the country at once. Col. Huggins has seen Commissioner Pleasanton and Secretary Boutwell, and has been assured that he and other officers shall be protected at any cost. Since his arrival here, he has received a letter from Aberdeen, stating that the schools are breaking up, and that a number of teachers are now at Aberdeen for protection. Other U. S. officers have been ordered to leave the State, under penalty of being dealt with in the same manner.

Ex-Senator Thayer, of Nebraska, is a prominent candidate for Minister to Brazil, in place of Blow, resigned.

Some weeks since an order was issued from the War Department, reducing the staffs of commanders of military divisions and departments to a peace footing. Some forty-five officers, filling nominal positions and performing nominal duties, at various headquarters, have been restored to their regiments or placed on active and useful duty, to the advantage of the service.

The San Domingo commissioners will probably arrive at Charleston to-night, and may be expected in this city on Sunday. On Monday their report will be sent to Congress, as soon as submitted to the President.

The reception of the President's message on Southern affairs, in Congress yesterday, and the action of the House in referring it to a special committee, together with the evident determination of the Senate to secure some legislation for the South, puts the question of adjournment into next month; for it is now virtually agreed there shall be action in both Houses, and that there shall be unlimited debate in either House on the bill that may be reported. We may not look for the adjournment of Congress for two or three weeks yet, perhaps not for a month.

Sumner will undoubtedly attempt to present to the Senate to-day his resolutions arraigning the President for his course in regard to San Domingo, and the question will be whether, under Anthony's resolution, this subject can come in. The Vice President will probably submit the question for the reception of the resolutions to the Senate, for its decision, as it affects so closely the right to do any business.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Prussians will Occupy Northeastern portion of Paris—Big Railroad Accident—People in Paris Terror-stricken.

LONDON, 23.—Scollettin, the Prussian Commander, in a dispatch to the commander of Paris, says the Germans will occupy the northern and eastern forts and maintain a passive and friendly attitude while nothing hostile is done. The deputy of foreign affairs replied that the election was purely municipal and not aggressive. He had no jurisdiction to discuss the preliminaries voted by the Assembly at Bordeaux.

The Official Journal threatens that writers attacking the insurgents will be brought before the central committee, and officials not returning to their posts before the 25th will be discharged.

The Debats has a bold article by Le Moinne, strongly attacking the national government. The Debats says some of the insurgents have fired at each other and several are wounded. The nationals are determined to incorporate the soldiers in Paris with the nationals. The committee has issued a proclamation again postponing the elections.

At a meeting of the mayors and deputies, Soisset was made commander-in-chief of the national guard, Langlois chief of staff, and Schoelcher chief of artillery. The appointment of Soisset has inspired confidence among the friends of order.

The Belleville nationals have occupied the mairies in the Rue Ducet and first arrondissement.

After long negotiations with the nationals of the quartier, with whom a number of zouaves and mobiles of the Seine are seen, the latter demanded arms to fight the insurgents who have barricaded the Place Vendome. At noon the city was quiet.

By a railroad accident at Colombiers, twenty-two were killed and seventy-two wounded.

It is rumored that disturbances occurred at Lyons. Another dispatch says Lyons has proclaimed for a commune and hoisted the red flag. Thiers telegraphs to the prefect to work with the anarchist Lyonnese.

At the sitting of the Assembly on Wednesday, it is said to have been decided to hold municipal elections before the 10th of April. A military measure against Paris was also adopted. General Charette is at Versailles commissioned to raise a volunteer legion in the west, with appeals for the defenders of order and religion to join the ranks.

The News' special says the people are flying from Paris terror-stricken. The rebels are preparing for a desperate encounter to recover lost ground.

The Times' special says the Montmartre insurgents stopped the train taking prisoners to Versailles and released them. The 69th regiment, having resisted the seductions of the Montmartres, arrived at Versailles and were received enthusiastically. The officers were promoted.

The Telegraph's special gives the commander of the nationals a justification for the massacre in the Place Vendome. The demonstrators provoked, yelled and fired first, and killed one of the nationals. Among the victims is an American named George Tunnel.

Dispatches from Marseilles say the civic guard at Marseilles has seized the telegraph service Spainward and stopped it.

In the House of Lords last night, Granville announced the receipt of a telegram from Lord Lyons, who describes the massacre, but is confident of an early restoration of order.

In the Commons the government was sustained on a vote on army reorganization by 304 majority; and a motion, by Latham, reducing the army appropriation £20,000, was rejected by 230 majority.

It is rumored that Ducrot has been shot by his own troops in Paris. Paris quiet, shops closed, few pedestrians.

The minister of the interior has notified the national guards of Rouen to make preparations to defend the government.

In the French Assembly, yesterday, the government proposed a law organizing the volunteers, which was adopted. Every department is to send to Versailles a battalion immediately.

A proposition for a committee of fifteen to proceed to Paris and assist in restoring order was favorably considered. The fugitive mayors of Paris were invited to seats in the Assembly. On entering, the "left" applauded, and the "right" protested against a tumult.

FRANCE.

The Government will Appeal to the Nationals.

VERSAILLES, 23.—The government intends to appeal to the nationals and mobiles of the departments. A Paris deputy, who parleyed with the insurgents at the Hotel de Ville, says the committee is losing the upper hand of the men.

On Saturday the nationals expelled the insurgents from part of the 8th arrondissement, comprising the Faubourg Honore, the 2nd arrondissement comprising the Bourse, and the 9th arrondissement, comprising the Rue Drouet, and then occupied Lagare station.

The government at Versailles has asked for reinforcements of troops to retake the railway crossing where the insurgents control the traffic. The orderly nationals occupy the space between the Rue Richelieu boulevard and the Rue Montmartre, Rue Halles, Pont Neuf, Germains, Auxerrois and Rivole. The Mairie of the 1st arrondissement is defended by two guns. The insurgents have reinforced Vendome and have two guns; they have also occupied the Mairie and the Pantheon, but failed to seduce the scholars of the Polytechinque, who are on a week's holiday, and joined the orderly nationals in the Place Bourse, where there are large forces and great vigilance, expecting an attack from the Montmartre insurgents.

SPAIN.

The Elections.

The Spanish elections for deputies show 50 Carlists, 45 Republicans, 15 Moderates, 12 Montpensierists and 200 Ministerialists. The Senate is 152 Ministerialists to 19 Opposition.

PRUSSIA.

The Reichstag.

BERLIN, 23.—In the Reichstag Simpson was elected President, Prince Hohenlohe, Vice-President, and Weber, second Vice-President.

WEST INDIES.

West Indies Discontent.

HAVANA, 22, via Key West, 23.—News from Porto Rico, by the Spanish steamer, confirms the reports of the agitated state of affairs in that island. The radical party of creoles and the conservative Spaniards, are not only waging a war of words, but the latter threaten recourse to arms. There is much secret discontent with the new King of Spain, and events of the past few days show that Spain is in greater danger than ever of losing her remaining American colonies.

It is rumored in Cuban circles that Gen. Quesada has landed an expedition successfully in the vicinity of Trinidad. The removal of a prominent officer has excited indignation among those in Havana who desire to run the government of the Island of Cuba; and they have sent a dispatch to Madrid, asking that the removed officer be re-instated. Should the reply be unfavorable, it is said that the authority of King Amadeus will be quietly ignored.
