The day was quite lively on the exchange, but the trading was confined almost entirely to the lighter priced stocks. Daly-West handed out 50 shares at higher figures and was wanted at $31.20 per share at the close. Ajax opened the trading at 81%. After this stock was called the brokers hurried down the line until Consolidated Mercur was reached, when 1,800 shares of cur was reached, when 1,800 shares of this security changed hands at figures around $3.20 per share, the last sale being effected at $3.20. Lower Mammoth sold at about $2.75, while Mammoth handed out 700 shares at a little over the two-dollar mark. Sunshine was traded in to the tune of 900 shares at 24 and 25 cents per share. Tesora was weaker today, while Valeo was dealt in at about the old figures. About 500 shares of Ben Butler were released around at a slight advance over 6 cents, while 10,000 shares of Boston & De Lamar brought $21 for the lot. De Lamar brought $21 for the lot.

Among the non-traders Grand Central was strong and was wanted at $5.95. There was an offer of $1.02 for Rocco Homestake, while Crecle was posted at 90 cents, but did not find a taker. The other stocks were firm closing about as

MAY DAY STRONGER TODAY. NORTHERN LIGHT ANNUAL

Shows a Deficit-Copper Boy of Bingham Forms Basis of Incorporation.

Word reached the city this morning of a strike in the North Mammoth mine which joins the Mammoth on the north, It also joins the Grand Central's north east boundary, in fact, a portion of the ground overlaps the Grand Central. For some time the company has been running a tunnel into the hill with the intention of getting under the ore bodies which the directors know are dipping in the direction of their ground from both the Mammoth and Grand Central mines. This they expected to be able to accomplish in about 2,700 feet. The tunnel was in 960 feet when a cross fissure was encountered running east and west. This fissure proved to be 12 feet in width and highly mineralized. Assays from average samples across the fissure show as high as 12 ounces silver, 50 cents gold and a small percentage of lead. It is the intention of the company to drift east on the fissure to get under the old discovery shaft which is down about 30 feet and which had a good showing of mineral on its bottom. on its bottom.

The owners, who are, Mr. J. D. Wood, president and manager, J. Barnett, treasurer; Jacob Bamberger, A. Hanauer, R. G. Wilson, David Keith and M. Christensen, have always felt that they had the making of a mine and in consequence the tunnel has been run with the greatest care. It is 5 by 7 feet and is said to be the most perfect one in the district. Work on the original plan will be continued, until the tunnel is run in about 2,500 feet, which will cost about $30,000 before completed. In the spring air compressors and Burleigh drills will be installed. Mr. Haganbarth, who gave the information of the strike said this morning that he felt sure this was only the first of a series of sensa-tions the property would make.

NORTHERN LIGHT ANNUAL. Directors Desire to Open the Mine at Greater Depth.

The annual meeting of the Northern Light Mining company was held yes-terday afternoon. The secretary's report showed that the total receipts for the year were $25,936.99, while the dis-bursements amounted to $31,251.81. The sum of $16,339 was derived from assessments, $7.863.75 was obtained from cyproduct and $1,297.16 from the sale of high grade ore. In the opera-tion of the mill the sum of $3,154.54 was expended, while $21,162.94 was spent in working the mine. Other expenses such as maintaining the pipe line and to $7,957,92. The company year with a deficit of $10,825.41.

In their report to the shareholders the directors express the opinion that the ore found in the east side tunnel can be tapped at greater depth. The extension of the tunnel of the Circle Mining company, 700 feet further, will, it is said, tap the ore bodies about 340 feet under Chloride Stope, and it is probable that the management will decide on this work during the present year. The board of directors consist of A. Hanauer, S., E. H. Airis, J. J. Stew-art, William H. Dale, and James E. Clinton. Mr. Hanauer is president; E. H. Airis, vice president, and treasurer and George E. Airis, secretary.

COPPER BOY INCORPORATES. New Bingham Company Formed With Capital of 1,500,000 Sh ares.

The Bingham Copper Boy Mining company filed articles of incorporation with the county clerk today. The capital stock of the company is placed at $1,500,000, divided into 1,500,000 shares of the par value of $1 each. The officers are: C. W. Morse, president; A the par value of $1 each. The chalers are: C. W. Morse, president; A. Hanauer, Jr., vice president; J. H. Hurd, secretary, and W. A. Cooke, treasurer. John Deam is the other director.

The company owns the Copper Boy, Copper Boy No. 2, Copper Queen, Copper Queen No. 2, Gracte C., Florence C., Great Chief, East Extension of Butte and Boston, and O. K. Fraction lodes, situated in West Mountain mining district. The property less immediately. situated in West Mountain mining dis-trict. The property lies immediately west of and adjoining the Great High-land Boy mine. About 1,500 feet of work has been done on the property, and some large bodies of low grade ore have been exposed. The company expects to resume work shortly.

Mining Suit.

A damage suit was yesterday afternoon commenced in the district court, by the Chicago and Bingham Mining company, against John Hodgens et al. company, against John Housens et al, to recover $690. For cause of action plaintin alleges that the defendants contracted to do development work on the Liberal lode mining claim at Bingham, but failed to do so, hence plaintiff claims damages in the sum mentioned.

SPECULATION CONFUSED.

The Movement of Prices at the Opening of the Market Very Irregular, Sharp Rallies from Yesterday's Xtreme Depression-Fluctuatichs in Steel Stocks.

New York, Feb. 19 .- The tone of speculation was very much confused and the movement of prices irregular at the opening. The steel stocks were especially unsettled, one or two of the common stocks scoring sharp rallies from yesterday's extreme depression and the preferred stocks showing continued strength. Federal Steel and Steel and Wire were heavy, the former losing a point and the Reading stocks and Southern Pacific were weak, National Tube common and Tin Plate preferred shot up 3 points, and Federal Steel preferred and Tennessee Coal. 1/2 each. Delaware and Hudson moved up a point.

Wide and confusing fluctuations of the steel stocks were an unsettling in-fluence. The opening depression in Federal Steel and Steel and Wire was not continued and they recovered their losses. National Tube lost 4% in all and Hoop preferred got up two points. Meanwhile Federal Steel preferred and Tin Plate preferred broke sharply on profit taking. Elsewhere weakness was general, particularly for Sugar, Brook-lyn Transit, Western Union, Missour, Pacific and Burlington, which re-acted 1914. Delaware and Hudson slumped 10119. Delaware and Human renewed selling of the common issues of the steel companies, Tin Plate declining 34. National Tube, 3; Steel and Wire, 14. and Federal Steel a point, Support then appeared in the railroad quarter and the grangers. Pacific and Trunk lines rallied strongly. Some of the steel shares hardened, but their movement was feverish and uncertain. volume of business fell away notably. Buying of some of the high priced les active stocks supported the general list for a while. Brooklyn Union Gas advanced two points, and Pullman, Amatvanced two points, and Pulifiam, Almar-gamated Copper and Illinois Central rose 1½ to 1½. Weakness cropped out among the Southwestern railroads, Denver and Rio Grande, Texas and Pa-cific, Kansas and Texas preferred, Missouri Pacific, Wabash and St. Louis Southwestern declining 1 to 2 points below last night. Low prices of the morning were made by some of the leading railroads and specialties. Before mid-day, there was a heavy de-mand for Sugar, which pulled it up over 2 points to 136½ and strengthened the market all round. Bonds were irregu-lar, with marked strength in Southern Pacifics 3½'s.

OFFICER COMING FOR M. T. WARD

Charged Today With Being a Fugitive from Justice.

CHARGE, GRAND LARCENY.

Accused of Detrauding Two Women Out of $1,000 -Employed Counsel This Morning.

When M. T. Ward was arrested yesterday afternoon at Ogden, it was on the charge of obtaining goods under false pretenses, and it was understood that he would be prosecuted on that charge regardless of the charges now awaiting him at Denver. Today, however, the case has taken a different turn, and the gay deceiver will escape punishment for his escapades here.

Last evening Chief Hilton received two telegrams from the police authori-ties at Denver asking that Ward be held by all means. The second telegram stated that an officer would start for Salt Lafle today, armed with requisition papers. Accordingly, Ward is being held in the city bastile, and today Judge Timmony drew up a complaint charging the prisoner with being a fugicharging the prisoner with being a lugitive from justice. The charge against Ward in Denver is that of grand larceny. It is alleged that he stole over $1,000 from Mrs. Jaquette and Mrs.

The accused still maintains absolute silence, and refuses to talk with anbody save his attorney. This morning he sent for Attorney G. M. Sullivan and had a long interview with him in the city jall. When seen by a reporter he said he had nothing to say, and then at once proceeded to give the papers particular fits because they had published the accounts of his adventures. "The papers are totally responsible for my trouble," said he, "and I intend to make them pay dearly for it." Although the opportunity was given to him re-peatedly to state his side of the case, if it had a side, he declined to say anything about it.

An effort is to be made to prove that he had another wife at the time he married Miss Fox, and if it is accomplished, he will have a more serious charge than that of grand larceny to face. Miss Fox, who married him on the 10th of this month, says that she will do nothing in the matter until it is proved that Ward already had a wife when he married her. Ward is a very large man and not

Ward is a very large man and not altogether prepossessing. He has a heavy shock of tangled hair, and a heavy and partly gray mustache adorns his upper lip. He has not shaved recently, and the stubby beard and coarse red skin does not tend to make him what, to use a common expression, constitutes a "good looker." It is freely asserted that he is a "smasher" of ladder bearts but it can not be truthfully dies' hearts, but it can not be truthfully said that he looks the part to perfec-tion.

In relation to the fabulous wealth he was supposed to have, it may be said that his total fortune when arrested reached the sum of five cents! In Ward's clothing were found a number of letters, some of them are from women but of rea interest whatever to cutsile.

Had the financial part of last night's but of no interest whatever to outside parties. Others are of a purely "busi-ness" nature in relation to contracts, etc. One letter which seems to bear out the theory that he was a married man before he came to Salt Lake, is from one James Hallhan, dated Mason City, Ida., December 20, 1900. The writer sald something about investing in mines, and mentioned the scarcity of money at that time. He also mentioned his appreciation of the good treatment he had received at the hands of Ward and had received at the hands of ward and his "good looking wife."

In Ogden yesterday afternoon he strenuously denied that the woman who committed suicide in Denver on the 14th was his wife. He claimed that he did not know her and that he had never here in the Calenda patentally. been in the Colorado metropolis.

This afternoon the personal effects belonging to the man Ward were attached by Constable Caffel upon a writ issued from Justice Sommer's court at the instance of Mr. Schwartz, who claims that Ward owes him $38 for champagne furnished.

······ AMUSEMENTS.

It is doubtful whether the New Grand ever had such an opening night stock company performance as last night on the occasion of the presentation of "Nell Gwynn" by the Cummings company. The production created a surprise that was little short of the gensational. From first to last it went with a dash that fairly rang with the true dramatic spirit. Even the most ardent friends of the company expressed their astonishment, while Manager Mulvey surveyed the situation from the rear of the house with a smile of intense satisfaction. "It's a hit; it's a hit," he exclaimed repeatedly in high glee. And the audience agreed with him though it did not understand the whys and wherefores. To the

I never before saw such earnest rehearsals; and this is the result. It proves what I have said—that Mr. Cummings can take this company and with two or three star-pieces like "Nell Gwynn" and the "Litthe Minister" and make a big success in the northwest." It must be said, however, that Mr. Cummings has little opportunity in either production to display his strength as an actor. Charles II affords but little more latitude in this particular that the "Little Minister," though it was very prettily—artisticalthough it was very prettily—artistically interpreted. The honors of the night, however, were essentially won by Miss Hall, who was more warmly received than in any triumph heretofore scored by her in Salt Lake. Of course many Salt Lakers have read the story of "Neil Gywnn," either under that title or as "Mistress Neil," or "Sweet Neil of Drury Lane," and all who saw Miss Hall last night as the chic and pretty orange girl and accomchic and pretty orange girl and accomplished actress will readily agree that the delineation was astonishingly true to the character. Blanche Douglas the delineation was astonishingly true to the character. Blanche Douglas made a striking Lady Oliva, and Edith Angus a hit in Lady Castlemaine. The strongest male character in the play is Lord Jeffreys, Chief Justice of England, and Robert Cummings enacted it capitally. In the small part of Percival, a provincial player, Mr. Giblyn again demonstrated the fact that he has in him the material of which suc-

Mr. Samuel Siegel, the loss is decidedly to the Salt Lake public, as few could afford to miss the treat provided last night in his masterly handling of the little instrument which is commonly regarded rather as a medium for accompaniments to pretty ballads than as a vehicle for the expression of difficult musical gems such as Mr. Siegel ren-dered to the delight of his audience last dered to the delight of his audience list night. The art manifested in his change from the tenderest passages of a juliaby and reverie to the rattling jingle of a cake walk melody was a revelation in musical feeling and expression through the instrument used. Of the selections rendered the "Spring Flower Garotte," a charming piece composed by the artist himself, was perhaps the favorite, Mr. Siegel having to respond to an enthusiastic encore with the bright bit of musical harmony. Ruben-stein's "Melody in F," came next, and the "Fantasia," from Carmen, after, though each selection when played seemed the individual gem of the even ing. Mr. Siegel had an excellent plano accompaniment of our own artist, Arthur Shepherd, for the most of his selections, and each duo was enthusias-tically applauded. The assistance ren-dered by Prof. Radeliffe, and Mr. Schettler's mandolin club was a notable feature of the evening, and also re-ceived the hearty applause of the lis-teners. "Schubert's Serenade," by the club, was an exquisite bit of work and reflected the highest credit on the performers. The appreciation of the audience for the entertainment was so marked as to call for the suggestion from several to have Mr. Siegel stay over another day and give a concert to night so that the public might have another opportunity of hearing him, but the remembrance of the Ridges concert tonight in the Tabernacle, which without doubt will absorb the majority of the concert-going people of the community, doubtless daunted those who would have been glad to see the talented musician perform before another and larger audience, and the suggestion which was made by Mr. Schettler from the platform was at the close of the concert withdrawn. Mr. Siegel may be fairly well assured, however, that a second visit to Salt Lake would be attended by the financial suc-cess which his wonderful gifts deserve.
