THEATRICAL.—Last night Mr. Graham had a crowded house at his benefit. "Jack in the water" was not played near as lively as it might have been, though Mr. Graham, Mr. McKenzie, Mr. Lindsay, Miss Alexander and others acted with considerable spirit. The dances were loudly applauded, and the comedy made a great amount of mirth. There was a loud call for Mr. Graham after the first piece, but he was unconscious of the demand, being engaged dressing for his next appearance.

To-morrow evening Miss Alexander will take her Farewell Benefit, and will present "The Unpretended Female." Between the pieces Miss Louise will read a humorous piece "Widow Bedott" by Mr. Hardie will sing, and Miss Louise and Miss Annie will dance. The reading of "Widow Bedott" will be one of the great attractions of the evening. This is a most attractive bill, and we bespeak for Miss Alexander a crowded house on her last appearance and Farewell Benefit.

AT ECHO.—Dr. Durant, Gen. Dodge, Col. Seymour, Supt. S. B. Reed and party, arrived at the railroad station, mouth of Echo, on Monday evening last. They passed up the Weber, taking a view of the work en route, and were gratified with the vigor with which the grading is being pushed forward at points all along the line.

The party numbered some seven persons, including some of the "great lights" of the U. P. R. R. and several tourists from Boston, among the number were Government Commissioners Mitchell and Latham, Prof. Hayden, Geologist; Col. Dodge, Inspector General; T. S. A. and several French ladies. They took their departure for the terminus on Tuesday morning.

NEWS FROM BRITAIN.—The Millennial Star of September 19th, is to hand. We learn from it that the following appointments had been made by President F. D. Richards, prior to his leaving Liverpool on the 11th inst. to visit Wales, at which Elders Elias Morris, Nephew Pratt, John S. Lewis, William C. Thomas, Robert Lloyd and Levi W. Richards were present. From the reports of the Branch Presidents and Elders Richards, the Conference President, the work is prospering in that region.

PERSONAL.—Elder Franklin D. Richards called in to see us this morning, the busy time of Conference being over.

Bro. Franklin started from this city on the 11th of August, 1888, on a mission to Europe. He sailed from New York on the steamship City of Paris, and arrived there on the 11th of September. During the latter part of that year and up till July of 1887, he traveled and labored in various parts of the European Mission. He made one tour through Denmark and Sweden and another through Scotland, holding meetings and preaching in the various Churches. He also made a tour through the Welsh Conferences, and visited many of the places in England as business and the requirements of the Conference demanded. When Elder Brigham Young, Jun., left Europe, Elder Richards took charge of the Mission, and presided over it until relieved by Elder Albert Carrington, editing the Millennial Star, attending to emigration matters, and the business of the Mission. During the remainder of 1887, he visited and held Conference meetings in most of the Conferences in England.

During the latter half of last year and first half of this year, he labored in the Church, in the Mission, 3,435 souls. There were emigrated during that time about 3,200.

After getting out of the emigration this year, he made a visit to the Swiss Mission. The Spirit of the Lord was poured upon the people during that visit, and many were added to the Church there, ten being baptized in one week. That mission which has for a length of time been formed of two Conferences, the German and French, was re-organized, the German portion being divided into three Conferences and the French portion remaining in one. Elder Karl O. Maeder, who is in charge of the Mission, is full of the fire of the Holy Spirit, and is ready to call from many parts of the country to visit people and baptize them. Elders Heber Young, Willard Richards and Louis Grant are working with him with much spirit and energy. In the short time that elapsed from the departure of the emigration until the time Bro. Richards left the Swiss Mission, there had been as many baptized there as had emigrated this season.

He started from Liverpool on his return home, on the 12th of September, two years and one day from the time he landed, sailing on the steamship City of Paris, and arrived in New York in nine and a half days. He remained in New York a short time, and left for the mountains, arriving in this city after a seven days' trip, on Thursday, October 1st.

We are pleased to greet Bro. Franklin once more to the bosom of his family and friends, after having been so blessed and prospered on his mission.

PROFESSIONAL.—We clip the following from the S. F. Call of the 4th. Our music-loving public would appreciate such a visit:

"Movements of the Parpa-Rosa Opera Troupe.—This Italian Opera Company will leave this city in about two weeks for a trip through the interior. Previous to leaving, however, an attempt will be made to give an English opera season of five nights, commencing on Saturday next. To-morrow they sing for the benefit of Mr. Thomas Maguire on Wednesday concert at Oakland. The route to be traveled, as at present laid down, embraces Stockton, Sacramento, Marysville, Grass Valley, Nevada, Virginia City, Salt Lake, Omaha, St. Louis, and through all the principal Southern and Western cities, and the principal places in Canada, to New York and Boston.

The same paper also gives us this information concerning these "erratic stars" who wandered eastward some time ago:

"We have heard from the wandering 'stars,' Messrs. Barrett and McCullough are now in New York city, looking out for attractions in the way of properties and plays, with which to open the new California Theatre, in this city, about December or January next. They will leave for this side of the mountain, about the 1st of November, and on their way back will play a short engagement at Salt Lake. We wish them every success."

DIED.—This morning, Mark, infant son of Mark and Mary Croxall, died, of teething, aged 13 months and 3 days. The funeral will take place to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, from Bro. Croxall's residence. Friends are invited to attend.

BIRTH.—The wife of Br. George A. Alder presented him last night with a daughter.
