Special Correspondence.

Diamondville, March 1 .- "Charlte" Mahan, the hero of the Diamondville mine No. 1 disaster, was born in Lexington, Ill., thirty-one years ago, and as his name indicates, he is of Irish extraction. Among other things Mahan has, during his career, been a surveyor, member of Light Battery A of Wyoming, when he saw service in the Philippines; he also has been a coal digger, which avocation he follows to the present time. In both latter capacities he has faced death unflinchingly many times. To quote Mr. Mahan, when approached by a "News" representa-tive, he was "born lucky." "I always was lucky." he said with a smile, as he egistered a questionable double-ushion carom on the billiard table at registered the Daly hotel at Diamondville. "Look at that for instance. Just when the bodies of the en-tombed miners will be found is a mattr of doubt. In the previous fire in the same mine twenty-eight months ago, one of the bodies was not recovered until three months after he perished. It is not thought, however, that much trouble will be encountered in the present fire and when the bodies are reached they will be all brought out together.

SITUATION TODAY.

Men Working Like Heroes Amid Intense Heat-Bodies Not Recovered.

(SPECIAL TO THE "NEWS."[Diamondville, Wyo., March 2, noon .---Situation at Diamondville this afternoon remains unchanged, as the time is being consumed in fighting the fire in the sixth level, opposite the 45th room, where the blaze originated. Superintendent Sneddon announced at noon that they had made no further progress in the last few hours, he had had 60 men in the level all this morning trying in every way to fight the fire, which extends from the 45th room. How far back the fire has run is a matter of conjecture but it is reported that the fire extends from the 45th to 47th room, a distance of probably one hundred feet. This will have to be passed before the bodies of the eighteen miners can be recovered. Sand and other materials are being hurried down the mine to accomplish this purpose, and as very lit-tle air can be taken in the level the work is very trying on the men as the heat is something terrible.

Although they are up to a point where the fire occurred it will be some hours yet before anything will be accomplished. Several mine inspectors are bere and everything possible is being done to recover the bodies. No work is being done in any other part of the

University Students Highly Amused Last Evening.

The Zeta Gamma and normal cieties of the University presented a very interesting program to a large body of students in the normal building last evening, W. S. Burton, president of the normal society, acted as chairman, and the program consisted of selections from the University glee club, an ad-dress by Dr. James E. Talmage, a burlesque on the Utah-Nevada debate, that was very amusing, the debaters being Mr. H. B. Fry, and Frank Soul, with L, J. Muir acting as judge; recita-tion by Prof. Maud M. Babgock. The program closed with some amusing wongs by the "01" and "02" give clubs. was necessarily a great sameness in struct of Portland, on them, and they became monotonous to many of the hearers. In the Taber-nacle there was an excellent oppor-tunity to preach the Gospel, and the re-rolled up in my baseball cap and thrown into the trunk. That's the kind of luck I have. Then there was this last affair. My partner, Ward, got a bat on the side of the head in a the night before and was laid up and did not show up to work. He was pretty mad at the time but he was lucky and yesterday he shook hands with the man who laid him out and saved his life. As my partner was not at work I quit a little earlier on the afternoon of the fire; if I had stayed five minutes later I would never have got out alive. That is the kind of luck I have. Just pure and simple luck, and I don't know what I have done to deserve it.'

'I should think you have had enough of coal mining," suggested the reporter. "Well, I am no good for anything else. I have no accomplishments that else, I have no accomplishments that would fit me for any profession. My sole accomplishment is," he said, while his dark blue eyes lit up with a merry twinkle, "that I can swear in eight different languages-American. Finn, Swedish, Italian, French, Filipino, Spanish and polygot. That is nothing to be proud of and I wish it were something more useful. I picked that accomplishment up in the coal mines with the exception of the Filipino. It I could only talk those languages it would do me more good, I guess."

"Charife" was very loth to talk about his experiences in the mine on the afternoon of the fire and seemed to think that the rescue of the two drivers was nothing out of the common. "I went on ahead," he said, "and the boys followed; we got out-and we were lucky." Among those who have been attracted to the scene of the mining disaster here is a Mr. P. Emerson Glafeke of Cheyenne who bears the reputation of being practical mining man and one ughly versed in coal mining in all its phases. Upon his arrival here he

PRIESTHOOD MEETING.

The general Priesthood meeting of the Stake convened in the Assembly Hall last night. Stake President Angus M. Cannon presided. The meeting was commenced by singing the hymn, "O. say what is truth, 'tis the fairest gem,' Prayer was offered by E'der A. W arison, and the meeting continued by singing "Redeemer of Israel, our only delight,' etc., after which the roll was called by the Stake clerk and the minof the last meeting read. utes The different wards and various quorums were well represented by the Bishops and officers. Several young men, the ames of whom were read by President annon, were sustained by unanimous ote to be ordained Elders.

A few opening remarks were made by Elder Joseph E. Taylor who wished to express his satisfaction and the pleasure he had felt and the spirit made manifest at the recent conference of the presidents and secretaries of the Elders quorums and with the favorable reports that were gives. Some refer-ence was made to the importance of Bishops obtaining a true knowledge of the character and worthiness of an Elder, before recommending him to go through the House of the Lord. Elder C. W. Penrose explained that the idea which had obtained, that the custom of inviting returned mission-aries to speak in the Tabernacle and of placing them on the home missionary list, was a rule that had to be followed. is a great mistake. The revelation states that meetings are to be conducted as the Elder in charge is led by the Spirit of God. If the custom which had prevailed for some time was de-parted from, no one should take offence. The services in the Tabernacle were attended by many persons not of our faith, and the discourses delivered there should be of a kind to instruct all who meet to worship God. Person. ally he enjoyed most of the addresses from returned Elders, and was thank-ful to hear their testimonies. There was necessarily a great sameness in

Selections for home missionaries should be made, and it ought not to be thought imperative that all recently returned Elders should be placed upon the list. It was likely that a change would be made in both these particulars Elder Penrose spoke of the duties of the Bishopric to intruct the lesser Priesthood-the Priests, Teachers and Deacons, that they may be trained and gradually advanced. He also touched upon the everlasting nature and glory of Divine authority sealed upon the heads of men chosen to bear the Priesthood, and its value above all things that are temporary, The next speaker was Elder David McKenzie who said the Lord judges us by the desire of our hearts and having a desire to do right, we will receive a corresponding strength from our heavenly Father accordingly to carry out our intent. Those who are without that desire have no interest in the work and it appears to them to be a mere form only. He endorsed the previous remarks, and announced that the gene-alogies of the High Priests were wanted by the quorum.
