

LION HILL'S BONANZAS.

bifurcacy of Water Causes a Shut-Down at the Chloride Point Mill.

NEW WRINKLE IN THE CYANIDE PROCESS.

Now that there is no Exchange Banknote Reserve Tumultuous - North Main - rail Mill Capacity.

William Leathem, whose name for the present or not we have been steadily tracking with the miners of Lion Hill and vicinity came in from that several yesterday to spend Thanksgiving with his family and friends in this city.

Talking to a "News" reporter today Mr. Leathem spoke in glowing terms of conditions in that locality, the gentleman stating that to all the miners and prospectors there was a good market for the future, and accordingly those interested were exceedingly hopeful concerning him. Mr. Leathem paid a visit to the Chloride Point, where he found the mill shut down on account of insufficiency of water from the private spring. To counteract the effects of this and again get the mill in motion, Superintendent A. J. Williams had a force of men at work purifying a geyser to the Gila River water tank on the divide between Opie and Mormon, with which he explained he would be able to start up the mill in a few days. Measures are being made to increase the private spring.

Arrangements have been made by Mr. Williams to improve the mine and further its operation on the present process of reduction, whereat values of $100 per ton are now realized. In the first two or three preceding weeks, the company has placed ships of ore and in the others have been sent to the smelters. This will result in a greater saving of value per ton than ever before. Measures are also being made to increase the water supply.

With the increased water supply, Mr. Williams believes he will shortly be able to work 150 tons per day.

In order to make possible the increased output of the mine Superintendent Williams is making arrangements with the smelters to have more water available and therefore developing the ground up through and downstream, property which will be available to furnish a good supply of ore, ready values of which have shown $10 in gold and from $100 to $150 in silver. The values of the ore are now about $100 per ton.

At the present time, Mr. Williams says, the necessary buildings have been completed to make possible the development of the mine through the smelters, which are added to the dimensions of the mine, six in number, situated on the head of Quartz gulch creek, just above the mine.

The smelters are now in full operation, and the mine is being developed rapidly, and it is expected that in a few months the mine will be turned over to the smelters.

Mr. Leathem said on his return to the Northern Light, from which he had been absent for a week, that the mine was progressing well, and that the new developments were very encouraging.

John Green, who is working in the Northern Light group of claims, where he has been engaged for some time, is steadily increasing in values and doing well indeed.

SLOW BUT SURE.

Little by Little the Stock Brokers Hoped They Could Buy Their Business.

Local stock brokers apparently are no much better off yesterday than they were last night, as the morning's call is still too impossible to bring them into the market, and the afternoon's call is still too uncertain to induce them to buy.

The result was a long drawn-out session with no great amount of activity, and the market was dead, but the brokers did well, as all sold their shares, and the market closed with a selling value of over $2,000.

On the other hand, the stock brokers were presenting developments with great vigor, and demonstrating very convincing value of the stocks they held in the market.

John Green, who is working in the Northern Light group of claims, where he has been engaged for some time, is steadily increasing in values and doing well indeed.
