WATCHES JEWELRY

ABOUT three months ago all the watchmakers in this city agreed and subscribed to certain prices for work in their line, for the purpose of obtaining uniform and Cheap Rates. This agreement, however, has already been broken by several watchmakers, who are underselling their colleagues and thereby proving themselves untrue to their written word. In consequence of which, the undersigned has withdrawn his name from said agreement and established his own prices, Cheaper than any other Watchmaker's in Salt Lake City.

For You, Madam,

Whose complexion betrays some humiliating imperfection, whose mirror tells you that you are Tanned, Sallow and disfigured in countenance, or have Eruptions, Redness, Roughness or unwholesome tints of complexion, we say use Hagan's Magnolia Balm.

It is a delicate, harmless and delightful article, producing the most natural and entrancing tints, the artificiality of which no observer can detect, and which soon becomes permanent if the Magnolia Balm is judiciously used.

Silver and Indians.

NEW YORK, 16.—Dr. J. P. Whitney of California, formerly of Colorado, predicted to a World interviewer that silver will be found throughout the whole range of mountains from Mexico to British America, but the richest in Colorado, and for the reason that the best yielding silver mines are in the loftiest mountains. He also said about the Indians: I have lived among thousands of the very Utes now fighting, and finer and more peaceable men I never saw. There is no doubt they have been outraged and treated shamefully, but now they must go. There is no help for it, and there can be but little further danger from them, the country is becoming so well filled.

Specie Payments.

Payments to the Treasury in gold have increased very largely since the disbursements of gold commenced in October. From the 1st to the 14th inclusive, $548,000 was paid in gold coin for duties, while only $1,124,900 had been so paid during the nine months preceding. Gold certificates are still retained by the banks which hold them, as a safer and more convenient mode of holding specie, but payment in silver certificates has been comparatively small, only $1,212,000 during the days mentioned, against $4,267,000 in September. Legal tender payments for the month thus far has been much smaller than those of corresponding days in September.

America Ahead

The Duke of Beaufort, who returned hence last summer, publishes his observations on the American wheat prospects. In the first place he says that the surplus for exportation will increase yearly, and wheat will be landed in Liverpool from the interior of America at an average of $1 a bushel, with which price the English farmers can't compete, and must turn their attention to cheaper and better modes of growing beef and mutton, so as not to be driven out of the market also by America. The Duke is a large land owner and his opinion has great weight in England.

Indian News.

ST. LOUIS, 16.—A dispatch from San Antonio, Texas, says: Gen. Ord, commanding this department received the following dispatch today:

Fort Concho, Oct. 15.—Col. Hatch, commanding the District of New Mexico, informs me that large bodies of well armed Apaches are going south toward Texas. They are probably renegades from the Indian Territory and Mexico. I have arranged to intercept them and to reinforce and concentrate (Signed) GEN. GRIERSON.

Rawlins, Wy., 16.—A courier just in from Merritt's command reports that the troops are at the White River Agency; that they have been scouting for 50 miles about them, and have been unable to find a single Indian. It is evident that the Indians have gone south and split into small bands, going into the various agencies. The troops will have an all winter campaign to ferret out those of the savage tribe who brought on the trouble.

Galveston, 16.—The News' San Antonia special reports parties of well armed Apaches going South from Melcolero Agency. All posts are notified to be in readiness to concentrate troops, in case of necessity.

San Francisco, 16.—A dispatch from Tucson, Arizona, says: A special to the Daily Star from Silver City, New Mexico, says: The Indians have been committing terrible depredations in the Rio Grande Valley and southwest of Fort Cummings for several days past. The people of Colorado have been besieged, and have been fighting since Saturday, and made an appeal for aid on Sunday. A volunteer company of 30 men under Captain John C. Crouch, went from Mesilla and Cruces to their aid. They met 100 Indians near Colorado, 18 miles from Slocum's Ranch, on the side of the road. After a severe fight the volunteers were compelled to fall back. They had a running fight into Slocum's Ranch. The killed in this fight were W. T. Jones, County clerk of Donohoe county, and four Mexicans.

On receipt of the news at Mesilla, two more companies of 80 men were raised by Col. Rynerson, composed of the best men in Mesilla Valley. The companies were to join Crouch to-day at Slocum's and go to Colorado.

Two trains were captured yesterday west of Slocum's. In one of them 11 men, one woman and one child were killed. In the other all hands escaped. Both trains were scattered and some of the oxen were killed and others left standing in their yokes. Corpses lie all along the road.

The stage from the east arrived this morning two hours late. The number of people known to have been killed within the past 4 or 5 days, altogether aggregates about forty.

The Indian trail, leaving the stage road yesterday, leads toward the Black Range and vicinity of the Hillsboro mining camp. Maj. Morrow, of the Ninth Cavalry, with a strong scouting party is thought to be in the vicinity of Colorado.

This is the most presistent fighting the Indians have ever been known to do in this section. They are in large bands and seem determined to stay in the country to fight and make a general warfare.

Election Returns.

COLUMBUS, 16.—No news of importance has been received this morning by either party, except that the republican committees concede the defeat of Walbridge, the republican candidate for senator in the Toledo district. This gives the republicans eight majority in the senate and certainly 38 majority on joint ballot.

Toledo, 16.—Lucas County officially gives Ewing 93 majority over Foster, republican, a gain on the vote of 1878 of 1,558. Walbridge, the republican senator, has 1,051 majority.

The returns from various counties in this senatorial district now indicate the election of Wilkin, democrat, by 100 to 200 majority. The republicans elect both representatives from Lucas county by 961 majority.

Few new figures have been received here to-day by either committee, but the republicans, after gathering returns from various parts of the State, report to-night that according to their figures Foster's majority will be somewhere about 17,000. It will take full official figures, which cannot be obtained for some days, to decide definitely what the exact majority will be. It was reported this morning that Mounts, the republican candidate for senator in the Butler and Warren district, had been defeated by one vote, but this afternoon the republican committee has been notified that he is elected by 12 majority. This gives the republicans 22 senators and the democrats 15. According to the best figures obtainable the republicans have elected 70 members of the Lower House.

Des Moines, 16.—Election returns received here to day do not change the totals from figures and estimates of the Republican State Central Committee as sent last. Gov. Gear's majority over all his competitors will be 25,000. His majority over Trumbull, democrat, will be about 80,000, and over Campbell, greenbacker, about 105,000. In the legislature 26 of the 29 senators elected this year are republican, and 83 out of 100 members of the House.

A Cremation.

PITTSBURG, 16.—The cremation of the remains of the late Dr. Le Moyne was successfully accomplished at Little Washington today. The whole proceeding was conducted with strict privacy. At 9 o'clock this morning, the friends and relatives of the deceased assembled at his late residence, where a number of selections from the Scriptures were read and prayer offered by Dr. Hays, President of the college. Dr. Le Moyne in late years did not affiliate with any church and the services to-day were not sectarian. At the conclusion of prayer the body was removed to the hearse and immediately taken to the cemetery, followed by carriages containing relatives and friends. Arriving at the destination, the body was placed in a catafalque and all persons, except relatives and those in charge of the furnace, remaining outside the building.

At 10:30 the body was pushed into the glowing furnace and the doors closed. Owing to the fact that the firemen were inexperienced, the heat was considerably below what it should have been and the cremation was not complete till after 4 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the retort was sealed and will remain closed till Saturday. If cool enough then, it will be opened and the ashes placed in an urn provided for the purpose by the family.

There was no excitement in the village over the event, and not more than a hundred people were around the building when the body was placed in the furnace.

THE BIG BOAT RACE

Does Not Take Place.

MAYVILLE, N. Y., 16.—The great boat race has come to a most inglorious end. Late this morning the air was filled with rumors that Courtney's boats were stove; another that they had been cut last night. A visit to Courtney's quarters disclosed the facts as reported by Courtney's nephew and Burt Brown, who had been with him as attendants and taking care of the boats, that last evening about six they they left the boat house, locking it on the shore side with a padlock and on the river simply hooking it and driving a nail over the hook. Returning about eight from the village, they found that the lake door had been forced, the nail broken and the boats both cut with a saw. The one made for the race was cut two-thirds through 12 feet 10 inches from the bow. The working boat was cut entirely through six feet four inches from the stern. The two men kept the matter secret from Courtney until this morning. What will be done as to postponing the race or disposing of the prize is unknown as yet. The referee, officers and backers of the two men are now in consultation.

Courtney's backers loudly declare that he himself caused the boats to be cut. Courtney, it is understood, asks from 10 to 12 days' postponement. Every train brings large accessions to the already large throngs. The referre and officers in charge of affairs are still in session. No reporters are admitted.

It will take at least ten days to get another boat built. Many believe Courtney or his own men are not in ignorance of the person who ruined the boats. Frenchy Johnson, it is said, was at Courtney's quarters at nearly nine this morning and polished up both boats that were cut, and knew nothing of the affair. There was found in the boathouse an old rusty cross-cut saw with seven teeth to the inch, large and course enough to cut sawlogs, while the cut in the boats is clean, and evidently made with a finer instrument than the one found in the boathouse.

A large number of people have come from different sections of the country. Everything is excitement. Courtney was absent at noon, sleeping, and admittance was refused everyone except Blaikie, the referee, Soule, who put up the stakes, and J. H. Brister, his financial manager. None of these men will be interviewed until they have consulted together with Hanlon's friends. Brister seems honestly dazed by what has taken place, and Soule expresses the deepest regret at the turn affairs have taken.

Hanlon is reported in fine condition, although not so good as at Lachine. Courtney claims that Johnson's boat is too light and refused one of Hanlon's as being unused to him and placing him at a marked disadvantage.

Hanlon to Rows Alone.

MAYVILLE, N. Y., 16.—The referee will call the boats at the appointed hour. Hanlon will row over the course and attempt to make the best five mile race on record. The question of his right to claim money is in dispute. Soule will contest its payment to Hanlon unless the race be rowed with Courtney as stated in the original articles of agreement.

A meeting of the representatives of the press was called for 3 o'clock for the purpose of ascertaining what fraud exists at the bottom of the fizzle. Soule was present and said the $6,000 would not be paid Hanlon unless Courtney rowed. The agreement shows there must be a race before the prize could be paid. Soule says this prize was offered expressly for the people to see one honest race between the two men.

The affair has been branded by all newspaper men as a gigantic fraud. Soule, the giver of the prize, has offered a reward of $1,000 for the conviction of the parties who cut Courtney's boat. A committee has been appointed of representatives of the press to call on Courtney to ascertain, if possible, the object for which his shell was cut.

Hanlon Rows the Course.

NEW YORK, 16.—A special telegram from Mayville says: The great contest of the oars between Hanlon and Courtney, that great aquatic event which for some months past has been the one theme of conversation in sporting circles, is now a thing of the past. Hanlon rowed over the course at five o'clock at the rate of thirty strokes to the minute. The time was not fast. Trouble is anticipated over the prize. Courtney is strongly condemned, and should he make his appearance he would be roughly handled. About 8,000 people will have to remain here over night. Courtney, owing to both his boats having been destroyed by malicious or interested parties during the night, was out of the race, there being no boat available that would suit him. So Hanlon rowed over the course and claims the $6,000 purse.

WESTERN.

Grant in Oregon.

SAN FRANCISCO, 16.—A dispatch from Portland, Oregon, says: The public reception tendered Grant at the Cascade's last evening, was a fitting tribute to the worthy, distinguished visitor. A reception was held at Mechanic's Pavilion. The immense structure was jammed to its fullest capacity. It is estimated that during the evening at least 8,000 people visited the Pavilion.

At 8.30, Gen. Grant entered the Pavilion with Mrs. Grant, followed by all the presidential party. Advancing to the south gallery, Grant was met by ex-Senator Corbett, who said:

"GEN. GRANT: I have the pleasure of introducing to you Judge Strong, who will deliver an address of welcome."

The General smiled, and as he acknowledged the introduction remarked: "Well, Senator, I reckon I know Judge Strong very well. We knew each other nearly twenty years ago!"

Judge Strong then delivered the address of welcome. It was very appropriate and listened to with almost breathless attention. He concluded as follows:

"I am instructed by my fellow citizens, and in their name and behalf I welcome you back to your native land. I welcome you to Oregon; more especially do I welcome you to this fair city of Portland. When you last saw it, it was but a small hamlet, now it is the pride of the northwest. We desire that you and your friends who accompany you a safe return to your homes, and ever to bear with you pleasing memories of your trip to Oregon."

Gen. Grant responded:

Judge Strong, Ladies and Gentlemen of Portland, of Oregon, and of the Northwest:

I am proud of the reception now tendered me and those which have been tendered at your hands. It as a pleasure to be back again near the place I enjoyed so much 26 years ago. I am glad to note the evidence of your prosperity, and I take it as only a beginning of the great improvement in the near future.

When I first came here, Oregon and Washington were one Territory, small in population, but large in area. Now you have one prosperous State and a Territory which I hope soon to see become a State. You have the soil and climate to support a population sufficient for many States.

In your remarks you have alluded to the struggles of the past. I am glad that they are at an end. It never was a pleasure to me that they had a beginning. The result has left us a nation to be proud of—strong at home and respected abroad. Our reputation has extended beyond the civilized nations. It has penetrated even to the less civilized parts of the earth. In my travels I have noticed that foreign nations appear to respect us more than we respect ourselves. I have noticed the grandeur with which we have been estimated by other powers, and their judgment should give us a higher estimate of our own greatness. They recognize that poverty, as they understand it, is not known with us, and the man of comparative affluence with them is sometimes no better clad nor fed than our pauper.

Nowhere are there better elements of success than on the Pacific Coast. Here are those who fought on opposite sides during the war, now peacefully associated together in a country of which they all have the same right to be proud.

I thank the people again through you, Judge Strong, for this reception.

At the conclusion of his response, General Grant was presented to the citizens. He remained at the pavilion about an hour, during which time thousands came forward and shook hands with the guest. On leaving the pavillion the party proceeded to the Newmarket Theatre to witness a rendition of the military drama, "Ours."

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

At a republican meeting at Cooper Institute, New York, last evening, Fred Douglass referred to Grant as the "impenetrable, granite-faced, lion-hearted hero." This drew immense applause.

A dispatch from Chautauqua Lake says: Courtney's boats were sawed in two during the night.

The New York Workingmen's Central Union to-night nominated John Kelly for Governor, with a new State and full local ticket.

Lamar speaks at Vicksburg tomorrow. He deplores the Yazoo affair, and favors Bayard for the Presidency.

Medford Waters, (colored) will be hanged at Annapolis, December 5th, for the murder of Jenkins Whaley.
