

DEATH ENDS A DISCUSSION

One Man Killed and Two Seriously Wounded.

IT WAS ALL OVER POLITICS

Some One Made an Uncomplimentary Remark About Socialism, Which Was Retorted With Above Result.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—A political quarrel, beginning with an argument on the coal strike and ending in an attack on socialism, ended last night in the death of one man and the injury of two others. The fight, which took place in the saloon of James Wallace, 313 Fulton street, was participated in by five men.

THE DEAD.

Charles Wulff, 27 years old.

THE INJURED.

Ges, Hovos, bartender; cut on head, neck and body.

David Schulz, stabbed twice in the right leg and once in left side.

The other two men, who participated in the fight, were Frank Brown and John Fitzgerald, who is held as a witness.

During the discussion some one made an uncomplimentary remark about socialism, which was retorted with above result. Some one hurled an empty bottle, and that was the signal for a general fight, in which Wulff and Schulz were injured by Hovos, who is held as a witness.

Overhauling of the Iowa Finishing. New York, Oct. 20.—The overhauling of the United States battleship Iowa, at Puerto Beltramo, has been finished, says a Buenos Ayres dispatch to the Herald. The vessel was towed on its way to Bahia Blanca. The captain of the Iowa thanked the Argentine authorities for their courtesy.

United States Minister Lord has sent to the minister of marine a note signed in his name of Rear-Admiral Sumner for docking facilities.

Journey of the Shah's Court.

New York, Oct. 20.—In a description of the hurried journey of the whole of the Shah's court along the Teheran-Peshawar road in order to welcome his majesty at the frontier on the return of the plenipotentiary from the Turan tour, the correspondent of the Times at Teheran cables by way of London:

It was the strangest of pictures, the finest spectacle the eye of an artist, enamored of quaint contrasts, or of a sketcher, searching for the unchangeable, could hope to light upon.

For hours at a time, streamed past a countless procession of camels, mules, and pack animals, laden with paraphernalia. After the advance guard of Russian-drilled cavalry came a regiment of infantry, slouching along the road in every variety of patched and tattered uniform, once sky blue. Some of them wore two shoes of different pattern, and of different color. The majority were men and mere boys. Rides of all patterns were stuck promiscuously on the back of any unobtrusive man, each large hand instrument crowned, in solitary grandeur, the load of a pack animal.

When a mishap necessitated repacking a load in the middle of the road, one got a glimpse of costly carpet, of tents of many colors, of robes of heavy silk, embroidered, quilted, and lined with ermine, of a silver ewer or piece of gaudy French furniture, tied on loosely with a bit of string, kept clanking at the side of a mule.

Officers of the household, with silver staves, in full-wadded black uniforms, with green and white sashes, Persian ladies, shrouded in ample black dominos and with thin white veils, jostled in bewildering confusion along the roads or sat in groups in the rest houses.

Further on were two huge camps of the Imperial harem, suddenly commanded by telegram from Europe to leave the Shah at the frontier.

The total cost of this motley pilgrimage probably was more than $300,000.

IMMIGRATION STATISTICS.

Forty Six Hundred and Fifty Thousand Arrived Last Year.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The annual report of the commissioner of immigration made public today. It shows that of the 46,542 immigrants who arrived in the United States during the last fiscal year 46,389 were males and 1,553 females.

Of the entire number of arrivals fully supplied 178,375, an increase of 42,375 over 1901. Arrivals from European countries showed an increase but there was a falling off in arrivals from Ireland amounting to 10,000, the total from that country being 100,000.

The total cost of this motley pilgrimage probably was more than $300,000.

King of Portugal. A Coming Visit to England Very Significant.

New York, Oct. 20.—It is said that the king of Portugal is expected to visit England in the near future. This visit is considered very significant, as it is the first time since the reign of King Edward VII. that a Portuguese monarch has visited England.

Various rumors that England is seeking to purchase Portugal's South African colonies have been current for some time, but at the foreign office they are declared to be without foundation.

IF YOU ARE SICK

And need medicine for your Kidneys, Liver, Bladder or Blood, get the Best.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

If you are suffering from kidney or bladder disease, the doctor asks: "Do you desire to urinate often, and are you compelled to get up frequently during the night? Does your back pain you? Does your urine stain linen? Is there a burning pain in passing it, and is it difficult to hold the urine back? If so, your kidneys or bladder are diseased."

Try putting some of your urine in a glass tumbler, let it stand twenty-four hours. If there is a sediment, or a cloudy, milky appearance, your kidneys are sick.

Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy will surely relieve and cure the most distressing cases of these diseases, and no physician can prescribe a medicine that equals it for kidney, liver, bladder and blood diseases, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation.

Waiter D. Miller, of Delhi, N. Y., writes:

"I suffered for years with kidney trouble and severe pain in my back, at times it was so bad I could hardly walk. My stomach also troubled me and I frequently had twinges of rheumatism. I suffered a great deal and received no benefit until I began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. After taking it a short while it cured me."

DELIBERATE BURGLAR.

Residence of Fred D. Ulmer Divested of $500 Worth of Silverware.

About $500 worth of silverware and other valuables were stolen from the residence of Fred D. Ulmer between 8 and 9 o'clock last night, while Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer were away from home for a short time. The robbers undoubtedly knew that the owners of the house were away from home and probably would not be back very soon, for they evidently took their time in ransacking the house, and did not leave until they had eaten their supper.

When the affair was reported to the police last evening by Mr. Ulmer, he was asked to give an itemized statement of the valuables taken, which he did. It includes a long list of silverware and jewelry. The stuff was carried away in an embroidered laundry bag. A pair of steel nippers, used probably in opening the drawers, was carelessly left in the house, and was turned over to the police by Mr. Ulmer.

The burglars searched the house from top to bottom, ransacked every drawer in the place, opened and undoubtedly read letters in the search of money or checks. After eating their supper, the robbers left a drop light on the floor in one of the bedrooms, and locked the place as they left. The police are working on the case.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Artist George Henry Taggart of this city has just completed a full length portrait of Mrs. David Kennedy, which is among the best of the many painted by Mr. Taggart during his stay here.

It will be good news to many to know that through Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy's interest in the Utah Art Institute that association has been enabled to purchase Mr. Taggart's notable harvest scene which has been on exhibition several times. The painting was accepted by art critics as an exceptional piece of work. The state already owns quite a number of notable paintings, and awaits only a suitable gallery for their placing. Mr. Taggart's picture for the present is hung in Gov. Wells's office.

Dr. and Mrs. Ryklev leave today for Europe where they will spend the next year.

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE

Elders David McKenzie and Chas. W. Penrose the Speakers.

Authority Dwelt Upon.

Testimonies Borne That God Has Spoken From the Heavens—Liberty of the Gospel.

The services at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon were fairly well attended, and the speakers were Elders David McKenzie and Charles W. Penrose, who dwelt principally upon the authority possessed by the Latter-day Saints. President Angus M. Cannon presided.

The choir sang the hymn: "Prayer is the soul's sincere desire, Uttered or unexpressed."

Prayer was offered by Elder Alex. Buchanan, Jr.

The choir sang the hymn: "Behold the great Redeemer die, A broken law to satisfy."

Elder David McKenzie was the first speaker. He expressed the thought that the signs of the times were propitious for the carrying out of God's purposes in the establishment of His kingdom upon the earth. The Lord had decreed through His servants, the prophets, that the time would come when His purposes would be accomplished. This would be brought about not through the bringing to bear of undue influence upon the children of men, but rather through permitting mankind to exercise the free agency granted unto them at the beginning.

The speaker related his conversion to the faith 50 years ago, and his subsequent emigration to this land. He referred to the perils of early pioneer life in the valley, and the deliverance granted the people through their implicit faith in the God in whom they believed, and cited these as evidences of divine goodness, due to their desire to serve the Lord. The march of the Mormon Battalion in obedience to the demands of the government was referred to, and the point made that despite their condition through mobbing and persecutions, their devotion to their country was equal to the devotion which they manifested to their God. Elder McKenzie also referred to the predictions of the leaders of this people, showing that statements made by them at times when their fulfillment seemed almost impossible, had verily come to pass for the good and benefit of this people. One prediction especially emphasized was that of President Heber C. Kimball who had asserted in plenary times that within a few months goods would be bought in this valley equally as cheap as they could be purchased in New York.

The speaker then turned his attention to the many churches which were by human hands, and referred somewhat to the authority claimed by these denominations. The rise of Protestantism as the mother church was alluded to, and the point made that one had apostatized claiming that the other had departed from the faith and therefore was devoid of the necessary authority. The writings of Newton, Lytton and Bacon were cited, and reference was made to King Nebuchadnezzar's dream, showing that the things which had come to pass were in accord with the terms of that dream.

Elder McKenzie took up the early ministry of the Savior, and cited his true crucifixion and death, characterizing this as further evidence of prophecy fulfilled. He touched upon the introduction of the Gospel and the reformation of mortal man, and showed that this law, this path of salvation, had only come after the children of men had been schooled up to it.

The speaker referred to his own testimony as to the truth and divinity of this work. He had received one that was incontrovertible, one which no one could gainsay. The work itself gave ample evidence of its divinity. It had been established out of the mouths of many witnesses, some of whom had seen the Lord Himself and had borne such a testimony to the whole world. Was Joseph Smith a Prophet?

There was no room for honest doubt on this question, for he had left behind him a legacy which would save all who would be obedient.

Elder Charles W. Penrose next spoke. He said the difference between the churches of the day and the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, was that the former had been organized and set up by men, while the latter had been built up by revelation. The Roman Catholic church, which was the most ancient upon the earth, claimed its succession of authority from Peter, but despite this they had no apostles, nor did they claim revelation, for those who led them today were simply bishops and could not succeed to the authority of an apostle.

Elder Penrose, while crediting the several churches for the good they did, showed the fallacy of the position they occupied in having taken their authority from a book. Such an origin precluded all possibility of divinity—it was outside the pale of God's dealings with His children. "Mormonism" had not been taken from a book. It had been revealed from the heavens above, through the consecration of the Father and the Son to a humble youth. Its principles were divine, its organization was divine, and the authority possessed by its adherents had come from a divine source.

The speaker dealt with the birth of our Savior, and His subsequent ministry among men. He cited the promises of the Master that those who would do the will of the Father should know of the doctrine whether it was of God or whether he had spoken of Himself, and called attention to the testimony of the Latter-day Saints that they knew the work in which they were engaged, was true. This testimony they bore to all the world. This was the message here.

BOTH LEGS WERE GROUND OFF.

Playing Around Railroad Train While it Was in Motion.

Life Hanging in Balance.

Accident Occurred at 7 o'clock Last Night—Taken to Hospital Where Amputations Were Performed.

Another young boy's life is hanging in the balance as the result of playing around a railroad train and jumping on and off while it was in motion. Frank Holding, the 14-year-old son of E. H. Holding, an electrician residing at 164 south First West street, is the victim of a serious accident which happened about 7 o'clock last evening and in which he lost both legs, one just above and the other below the knee, and was otherwise badly crushed.

The lad now lies at St. Mark's hospital in a critical condition and, although he was reported as getting along nicely today, nothing definite could be said as to his chances for recovery. The accident happened a few yards below First South street on Third West and was witnessed by a number of the boy's playmates. The train was 6 freight and was moving along slowly and when nearing Second South street young Holding got aboard by grasping the lower wing of the iron ladder on one of the box cars. He hung on for a few yards and then started to climb upward between the cars to get out of sight of the train crew. He lost his hold and fell under the cars.

The truck of the first car rolled him forward a few feet but his body remained clear of the rails and he had enough presence of mind to lie flat on the ground and thus allow the truck to pass clear of him, two or three other cars also passed over him while he lay flat on the ground. The train crew saw of ordinary freight cars the boy might have escaped injury, as the frantic cries of his playmates had attracted the attention of the train crew and a desperate effort was being made to bring the train to a standstill. Before that could be done, however, a ballast car, with long-handling trucks had caught the boy and forced his legs across the rails and they were crushed and nearly severed below the knees.

The trainmen pulled the bleeding truck of the little freight from under the car and it was held until St. Mark's ambulance arrived. A sister of the boy was within a half a block of the scene when the accident occurred and the first member of his family to reach his side. His father and mother arrived shortly after the ambulance.

The regular monthly meeting of the High Priests' quorum of the Jordan Stake of Zion will be held in the Crescent ward meetinghouse Nov. 25, commencing at 1 o'clock a. m. A good attendance is desired.

THE GREAT MARCH HIT.

"Mississippi Bubble."

Among the latest popular music we note "The Mississippi Bubble" March, two-step, by Chauncey Haines, a strain from which appears above. This delightful air has caught the popular fancy, and deservedly so; for it is exuberant of the day, and its permanency is in question. It is a very welcome addition to the best music with the least ear for music is captivated by it, and it carries its way to a firm establishment in the popular heart. Nothing for a long time has equaled the cordial reception this new composition has received from every quarter. In all that constitutes a successful air—dash, smoothly flowing melody and variety of theme—"The Mississippi Bubble" is pre-eminent. It attracts the ear as soon as heard, and good judges at once endorse the favorable verdict of the general public. The composer has added another great success emanating from that rich source of remarkably popular musical compositions. It is always gratifying to note that the popular taste is very rarely mistaken. In setting the seal of its generous approbation upon "The Mississippi Bubble" the public has given renewed evidence of the soundness of its judgment when that judgment is appealed to. It is certainly the greatest hit of the season. "The Mississippi Bubble" is published by the Whitney-Warner Pub. Co., Detroit. That firm are the most successful publishers of popular music in America.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS.

At the meeting of the Spanish-American war veterans yesterday, in the city and county building, it was decided to present a petition to the next legislature asking that provisions be made by legislation for the burial of soldiers who participated in the late war.

The veterans also discussed the matter of paying for the returning soldiers from Manila to San Francisco at considerable length, but no definite action was taken on the subject and it will probably be considered again at the next meeting.
