

EAST SIDE 0; WEST SIDE 59.

The Red and Black Too Heavy
And Too Swift for Light
East Siders.

THE GAME WAS A LONG ONE.

Both Sides Exhausted by Heavy Work
And Had to Rest Between Plays
In Second Half.

There was a new flag down at Walker's field this morning, and a new team out for the high school championship. The introduction of the East Side High school into the trophy controversy was a modest and unassuming one. They were content to come off the field with an overwhelming defeat, but for all that the yellow and brown of a hundred pennants waved for the east side team, and a hundred rosters spoke of next year and then after.

It was a case of six years of training against one year's today, and the score of 59 to 0 represents the comparative strength of the two teams very justly. The east side, however, can feel well satisfied to have made a beginning in the sport, and to have opened negotiations with their future rivals on even an unfavorable basis. Their team had little chance to carry the ball. Only once did they hold the West Side school for downs. The usual play was a kickoff by the west side, a punt by the east side on third down, and then a march across the field to a touchdown.

Thirty points were made during the first half—five touchdowns and five goals. The goals were all kicked by little "Mugsie" Greenbeck, quarterback. Touchdowns were made by Harris, Hennessy, Paul and Richmond. The feature of the half was a 25-yard run to a touchdown. Throughout the play remarkable results were shown by the west side team. The hurdling game played so effectively against All Hallowes was abandoned and in its place end runs were features. The game was a long one. It started at 10 o'clock, and at 1 o'clock a bulletin from the field stated that the men of both teams were strewn over the field waiting for breath enough to get up and go at it again. Early exhaustion characterized the play, and it was only with difficulty that the last half was brought to an end.

The potato market is weak on account of there being no outside demand to speak of for the Utah tuber, and the trend of the outside potato towards the Salt Lake market. Idaho has become a heavy producer of potatoes, so has Colorado, and with Texas also crowding this way, there is not as much show as there used to be for the Utah article.

Articles of incorporation of the Don Jose Mining company of this city were filed in the county clerk's office today. The company is capitalized at $200,000, divided into shares of the par value of $1 each. C. P. Wilcox is president; O. W. Moyle, vice president; E. T. Stevenson, secretary and treasurer. The company owns seven mining claims located in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico.

The present stress of fine weather is causing considerable comment, and there is speculation as to the probability of its continuing through another month. Several times since Oct. 17 it seemed as though the clerk of the weather had a big bucketful of aqua pura all ready to cast over this state; but each and every time, he has changed ed his mind, and the southern Texas climate has remained, as it appeared a constant quantity.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Edward M. Taylor, who was crushed to death while coupling cars at Nelson, B. C., were held in the Fourth ward meetinghouse at Ogden on Thursday last. Relatives of the deceased and very grateful to President D. O. McKay and choir for their aid in the services, also President Neph L. Morris for his consoling and timely remarks, and to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and to all who have given their aid and sympathy in this trying time.

John C. Sharp gave a social last evening, to the members of the state sheep board and their wives in honor of Wilford Day who shortly goes on a mission to Great Britain. There was a fine supper, which was much enjoyed, and a feature of the occasion was the presentation of half a dozen handsomely bound volumes of church works to Mr. Day, which were highly appreciated. The entire evening was pleasantly spent. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sharp, Mr. and Mrs. James Wrayth, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse M. Smith, Wilford Day and wife.

Manager W. P. Cooper of the Polk Directory company has returned from a six weeks' absence in the east. He went to the great fair where the electrical display particularly excited his admiration, as well as the exhibits in the transportation building. He says the St. Louis fair is far more complete and better in every way, than the Chicago fair. He was much struck while away with the utter apathy that obtained on the presidential election. He was in Minneapolis on election day, and while there were thousands of people in the streets in the evening, in front of the newspaper offices, there was no demonstration whatever. No one seemed to care, as there was a general conviction that the election was sure to go all one way.

"I Am of Royal Blood."

Kansas City, Nov. 19.—"I am of royal blood and if I had my rights I would now be on the throne of England instead of the present king. As it is, I am confident of being declared earl of Strathern, Monthleth and Alfrith at the next session of the house of lords." George M. Graham, a locomotive engineer, made the foregoing statement today. It was not said in a boasting tone, but in a manner that left no doubt that Graham was sincere in his conviction that he should now be absolute master of vast estates in Scotland.

Was Chauffeur Murderer?

Chicago, Nov. 19.—William Bates, a chauffeur, employed by Daniel Canary proprietor of a garage here, was found dead in an automobile today two miles southeast of Lemont. It is thought that the man was murdered. There was a bullet wound in the back of his head and his body was hanging over the side of the automobile. On a card in the pocket of the dead man's clothes were the words:

"Call for Mr. Dove at Auditorium."
At the Auditorium it was said that no one named Dove was registered there. The automobile had been backed up on one side of the road, and the wheels blocked with a timber.

SEVERE RIFLE FIRE
Opened on Russian Right and Lasted for Several Hours.

Mukden, Friday, Nov. 19.—A severe rifle fire was given in the Russian lines commencing at daybreak today and lasting for several hours. There was also intermittent firing during the day. The Russians are expecting the general attack on the part of the Japanese.

SENATOR COCKRELL MAY BE ON CANAL COMMISSION.

Washington, Nov. 19.—While no announcement has yet been made regarding the president's action in the selection of a man to succeed Col. Frank J. Hecker on the isthmian canal commission, it is known that he is considering seriously the appointment of Senator Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri, to the vacancy. It is intimated that Senator Cockrell himself practically will have the determination of the matter. If his health will permit him to undertake the arduous work of the commission it is reasonably certain that he can have the appointment. The president holds Senator Cockrell in high esteem personally and officially and feels that the services of a man of his character and ability should not be lost to the government, if the senator should desire to continue in active public work. If the senator should conclude that he does not care to undertake the work of the canal commission, it is certain the president will give him some congenial position befitting his character and services.

Kansas City, Nov. 19.—In talking with the Associated Press over the long distance telephone today from his home at Warrensburg, Senator Cockrell said in regard to the Washington item, connecting his name with a probable appointment at the hands of President Roosevelt:

"If tendered any position by the president, I should treat it with the greatest consideration and do whatever might be best in the premises.

Rheumatism

Is a rack on which you need not suffer long.

It depends on an acid condition of the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, causes inflammation and pain, and results from defective digestion and a torpid action of the liver, kidneys and skin.

Sciatica, lumbago and stiff neck are forms of it.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me of rheumatism. I was so I could not lift anything and my knees were so stiff I could hardly get up or down stairs. Since taking three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla I have never felt a symptom of rheumatism, and I gladly recommend Hood's for this disease." Mrs. HATTIE TURNER, Bolivar, Mo.

"I have suffered greatly from rheumatism and did not get any relief. When nearly helpless I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and two bottles have greatly improved my health. I can now use my arms and can sleep at night, which I could not do before." Mrs. H. TURNER, 702 E. Ravenswood Park, Chicago, Ill.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Neutralize the acidity of the blood, perfect digestion and excretion, and radically and permanently cure rheumatism.

A CREAMY FOOD

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil prepared as a food—not a food like bread or meat, but more like cream; in fact, it is the cream of cod liver oil. At the same time it is a blood-maker, a nerve tonic and a flesh-builder. But principally it is food for tired and weak digestions, for all who are fat-starved and thin. It is pleasant to take; children like it and ask for more.

I have great regard for President Roosevelt and should be made any tender of a position I would appreciate fully the motive prompting it, and, of course, give it full consideration. However, it is manifestly improper at this time to state my probable action in such an event.

DOG POISONING CONDONED.

Court Holds That Under Some Circumstances It Is Permissible.

Upon motion of Attorney Ray Van Cott, attorney for defendant in the case of the state against John Coleman, Judge Lewis yesterday afternoon instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty and the defendant was discharged. Coleman was charged with poisoning a fine dog, valued at $50, belonging to E. W. Taylor, because it bit one of his children. The court held that a person cannot be convicted upon such a charge unless it is shown that the act was committed because of malice toward the owner of the animal.

A NATURAL SANITARIUM.
What a Scientific Observer Has to Say About California.

Lieut. John P. Findley, while in charge of the United States weather bureau at San Francisco, contributed an article to a prominent magazine on the climatic conditions of California, in which the following statement appeared:

"Theoretically, California should furnish the best and most varied health resort and sanitariums in the United States. Within her borders almost every form of weather disease should find the means of temporary, if not permanent, relief."

This theoretical statement, from an unbiased, scientific standpoint, is abundantly confirmed by experience. The cool and bracing coast climate, devoid of any trace of malaria, extends from the northern part of the state to the extreme south. There is the choice between this cool, humid atmosphere and the dry, warm atmosphere of the inland valleys.

Of altitude there is yet a greater difference. From Plain Valley, 300 feet below sea level, to the upper Sierras, 7,000 or 8,000 feet, any altitude can be selected, and comfortable homes be found.

The peculiarity of an almost rainless summer, during which the injurious germs of animal and vegetable decay

Universal RANGES.

H. DINWOODEY FURNITURE CO.

are destroyed by thorough desiccation, is one of the striking features of California climate. During the rainy season it is usually too cool to facilitate fermentation, and the result is, except along some of the river valleys, an absolutely pure atmosphere. The ocean winds entering through the several coast openings, are tempered by the intermediate area passed over, and often receive desirable healing properties by taking up the resinous odors of the pines and redwoods of the coast range. The skillful physician, acquainted with the climatic conditions, should find little difficulty in selecting a locality where climate and environment will do all that these agencies can ever do toward the restoration of health. There is enough of wildness to keep the mind constantly engaged, and enough of civilization to satisfy the most exacting. People whose systems are charged with malaria, or are "run down" by overwork, find immediate and in many cases permanent relief in this invigorating climate.
