Extract from Elder Neff's Report.

Elder Deseret News.

In my communication of the 9th the Second ward choir is credited with having sprung a great surprise on their leader. Just, however, it should have read First ward choir.

Hon. J. H. Thomas, member of our territorial legislature, who has been the genial manager of the Reading Room for the last two years, is now in Santa Fe, and reported his participation to have effect on the 2d inst. Mr. Thomas has had several sensitive positions offered him, but as it at present constituted a boon can be still enjoyed.

The fifth annual meeting of the Sunday schools of this county will, November the 4th or 5th, be published at St. Anthony.

The Deseret State weekly closed its seventh volume last April 11th. This institution is now four years old—Sundays excepted—and in that period of it has accomplished an institutional amount of good. The discovery of the language of the Indians of Juan Island as revealed through the Phonetograph, in years past the institution has had many a struggle for existence, and it is not only through the liberality of some of the wealthy men of this city that it has been enabled to weather the storm so effectively. It is now very gratifying to be able to state that the weakest has come through the struggles victorious, having a paper issued on its Friendly Brightness, and stood it on the sure ground of popularity. The weekly numbers of Messrs. Cain, Dinwoodey, Pyper, Thomas, W. H. Corbridge, and that brilliant writer, Junius, and Miss Lucy T. Smith, Salt Lake City, to say nothing of Brother Neff.

It is our firm conviction that through the united efforts of the brethren everywhere, the coming Conference will be a success by the hands of them. The editorial of the institution has also been chosen to meet the wants of the people, and we feel sure in anticipating their patronage. We acknowledge the debts and sincerely trust to our hours of the past, and realize that it is through the liberality of a beneficent power we that now be sustained and made a reality."

The regular monthly Priesthood meeting of the Bannock Stake of Zion convened at 11 a. m., April 6th, a very large attendance of members, High Priests, Seventies, Elders and Lesser Priesthood from all parts of the Stake. Encouraging reports were received from all parts of the Stake, and some very valuable instruction given by the Stake presidency and a few others. Among the subjects treated upon were the Word of Wisdom, considering the past, seeking the great necessity of each and everything in our power and not having to look to help, Sunday school matters, Brigham Academy and several other kindred matters. D. Eccles.

OBITUARY NOTES.
