

NEWS FROM THE FAR NORTH.

Description of a Poor Board Auction in Sweden.

ELECTION NEWS FROM NORWAY.

News from Denmark.—A Daughter of Zacharias Topelius to be Married.

NEW BRIDGE.

The new bridge, at Avesta across the Dal river is the longest in Sweden.

Hjalmar Ringling, the well-known editor of the Swedish-American, has resigned.

Their golden wedding was celebrated by C. O. Ringling, a sister of Zacharias, and his wife.

T. A. Olsson, a prominent farmer of Helsingborg, Helsingland, celebrates his golden wedding on the 4th of Nov. Cause unknown.

The number of Baptists in Sweden is said to be about 25,000.

Three hundred and sixty people emigrated to America Oct. 9 by way of Gothenburg.

The number of savings banks in Sweden was 377 in 1890.

J. C. Olsson, a prominent merchant of Upsala, committed suicide the other day by shooting himself.

One hundred and four have been shut in Venetian during the last four weeks.

About 120 men are employed by Hinder & Hinder, at the Adelfors gold mines in Sweden.

Australia has furnished twice the stipulated sum for the Northern-Pacific Route expedition.

The printing press of the Handels-Nytt will soon be run by an electric motor.

Very peculiar diseases are killing off all the cats in Helsing.

The North makes the following description of a poor board auction in Sweden: A chair room is full of cold-blooded, business-like farmers. Not a single one betraying sympathy, at least not among the "speculators," the benches at the table, around which the members of the poor board were sitting, the "speculators" were placed. They were ragged, shabby persons, who had been a servant, girl, all the life of the country.

The auction began at the appointed hour. "Old Peter" was the first to bid, and he bid for $1.25 for the first year. "Old Peter," however, did not look as if he was to be taken care of a whole year for $1.25. And what rate do you suppose he will receive? He is five and a half in a room in the stable, separated from the cattle only by a thin partition, and his food is of such a nature that nobody else would eat it.

NORWAY.

The homing pigeons are now on a periodical migration, and in the western part of the country they have been seen in thick flocks since 1890. Thousands of them are driven in flocks and flocks, but it is very little, and in some localities the flocks are driven by the hungry birds.

The exhibition at Hagen was visited by 48,000 persons. The receipts amounted to $14,000.

The Helsing election district contains 225 voters, as compared with 2,275 in 1888. At the same time the participation has decreased.

The Helsing city has returned her last Office to the conservative party in the Helsing.

The water of the Marielake lake from which Christians get the water supply, is tainted by bacteria to such an extent as to endanger the health of the consumers.

Knut Hattum, who has spent several years in the United States, is lecturing on modern literature of Norway. He criticizes Ibsen, Bjornson, and others. He is very severely spoken of, however, is most likely to fail.

The city of Moss, Helsingland, a Conservative stronghold, has chosen a Liberal mayor. The result was caused by demonstrations.

Of 74 members elected to the Helsing, on October 15, 52 vote actively with the Left, 12 are elected as Moderates, and 10 belong to the Right. There being 124 members in all, the Left has a clear majority over each one of the two other groups, but as these will join forces to defeat the minority, an absolute majority is necessary. The prospect of this is not very promising, the Right having heretofore controlled it.

Of 40 members to be elected, the Right has heretofore controlled it. Great efforts are made by both parties to carry the capital city. The probability, however, is in favor of a Conservative victory. At Trondheim the Liberals came very near carrying the day, the electoral list of the Conservatives being only ten votes short.

GERMANY.

Diphtheria is raging epidemically at Trier.

The strike of the carpenters at Copenhagen is at an end, the strikers having won the victory.

The national bank of Copenhagen has declared a dividend of 7 1/2 per cent for the year.

The shareholders of Copenhagen have decided to publish a paper in the interest of their trade.

Among the inhabitants of Copenhagen are 12,000 who are born in Sweden.

The King and Queen will celebrate their golden wedding May 21 next.

A new Methodist church building has been erected at Vardo.

In a new biography of Sir John Franklin it is claimed that he fought in the naval battle of Copenhagen in 1801 at the age of 16.

FINLAND.

General Edward of Porvoo died at Helsingfors, 75 years of age.

A laborer named T. N. Demander, murdered O. L. Mylman with a knife at Helsingfors. The murderer was arrested.

A Cruel Case.
