A SURE CURE FOR THE FILM.
You need not suffer from the distressing disease again in all your life.
Eman's B. in sets as a public and laboratory, showing the film and the intense itching at once. No caustic, no acid, no pain. McLaughlin, 120 North street, Allegheny, Pa., writes: "I had film
and itching eyes so bad I could not see and walk without intense suffering. I decided with many physicians, and tried
all the (so called) cures that I ever heard of, in vain (paying out hundreds of dollars), until I used Eman's B. in sets, of Ointment. After the first application I enjoyed the best night's sleep I had for ten years, and two boxes have cured me completely." —
"Wherever introduced Dr.
Eman's B. in sets the lead, and has the largest sale of any film remedy in the world.
Sold by druggists everywhere or sent by mail, 50 cents boxes. Address Zion's Cooperative Mercantile Institution, Salt Lake City."

EVENING NEWS.

Saturday, August 27, 1887.
THE SONG HE NEVER WROTE.

His thoughts were song, his life was singing;
Men's hearts like harp he held and
smote,
But in his heart never ringing.
Kinging the song he never wrote.
Hovering, passing, lighting, fleeting,
A farther blue, a brighter more,
The vanished sound of swift winds meeting.
The opal swept beneath the boat;
A gleam of wings forever flaming,
Never folded in nest or cote;
Secrets of joy, pastime or naming;
Measures of bliss, past-dole or rote;
Echoes of music, always flying,
Always echo never the note.
Pulses of life, past life, past dying—
All these in the song he never wrote.
Dead at last, and the people weeping,
Turned from his grave with wringing
hands—
What shall we do, now he lies sleeping,
His evening song silent in our lands?
"Just as his voice grew clearer, stronger"
This was the thought that keenest smote—
"O Death! couldst thou not spare him
longer?
Alas, for the song he never wrote!"
—HELEN HUNT JACKSON.

I was afflicted for several years with biliousness, which resulted in a severe attack of jaundice. I had as good medical attendance as our section affords, who failed utterly to restore me to health. I then tried the favorite prescription of one of the most renowned physicians of Louisville, Ky., but to no purpose; whereupon I was induced to try Simmons Liver Regulator. I found immediate benefit from its use, and it ultimately restored me to the full enjoyment of health.
