HE RESISTED ARREST. As a Result Saloon Man is Nursing a Badly Bruised Head. A saloon man named Charles Fisk, connected with the Alamo saloon, got drunk just after midnight and had a large sized "hang-over" this morning. He wandered about the streets making himself generally obnoxious and was warned by Patrolman J. M. Lyon to lie himself in his room and get off the streets. Fisk had other notions, however, and refused to go. Lyon ordered him off the streets several times, and finally, about 6 o'clock, in front of the Kenyon, Lyon again ordered the man to go home, threatening arrest if he did not do so. Instead of complying with the request of the policeman, Fisk made a dive for the bluecoat and tried to seize his club. He got the club, but not in the way he had planned, Lyon brought the stick down on the fellow's head with a resounding whack and the next second Fisk was doing an individual "stunt" in astronomy. His head covered with blood, he was dragged to police headquarters, searched, booked on the charges of drunkenness and resisting an officer, and then locked in the drunkhouse.

A KENTUCKY EXPERIENCE.

Coffee and Tea Still at Work. A Ky. lady had a very agreeable experience in leaving off coffee drinking which she found harmful, and taking on Postum. She never loses an opportunity to tell others of her good fortune. She says: "For over 20 years I suffered from nervous trouble. Four years ago I was down with nervous prostration and heart trouble. After several months of misery, my doctor, one of the best in the country, told me I must quit coffee and tea. "What was I to do? I must have some warm beverage for breakfast as I had never done without one in my life. "I decided to try Postum, little thinking it would amount to anything. At first I did not like it, but when we boiled it 15 minutes, until it was dark and rich, it was delicious, and I soon began to feel better. "After using Postum constantly three years I feel like a different person. I always had been a poor sleeper, but now sleep well and am in perfect health. And I give the credit to Postum. "My entire family now use it in preference to any other beverage at meals. I am an enthusiastic friend of Postum and I know that what it has done for me it will do for others, so I never let a chance go by to recommend it to those who suffer from coffee drinking. "Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read 'The Road to Wellville' in pkgs. 'There's a Reason.' "

JONES PROTESTS IN ANGRY TERMS

Rolling Mill Man from Louisville Says Inspection Was Poorly Done.

HE WANTS ANOTHER CHANCE

IF His Plant Is Not the Best in the Country He Says He Will Bear the Expense.

John E. Jones of Waukesha, Wis., is angry because of the report brought back to Salt Lake by Lon J. Haddock and Joseph A. Silver, who were sent to investigate the value of the steel plant offered for sale at Louisville, Ky. Jones feels that the investigation was cursory and inconsequential and made by men incapable of sizing up its value, which assertion he bases on their report. This report, he charges, is false and never would have been made had the Salt Lakers had the technical training necessary to properly service as investigators and appraisers. In his report to the action of the appraisers Mr. Jones says: "After reading through the columns of your paper the report of the committee appointed by the commercial bodies of your city to investigate and appraise the rolling mill at Louisville, Ky., as proposed by myself, so as to have the mill located in Salt Lake, I find that the report reflects somewhat upon my reputation, and I cannot let it pass without some comment. "If the committee had engaged the services of a competent man, who was conversant with rolling mill machinery, as was agreed upon, a different report would have been received. It was understood when I made my proposition to the business men of Salt Lake that each side was to have a practical man appointed to appraise the machinery, and, if they failed to agree, these two were to appoint a third. I am sure that a correct report would contain the following facts: AN EXPERT'S VERSION. "The equipment of the Louisville plant was made four years ago by the well known Pittsburg concern of the George A. Horg Foundry & Machinery company, manufacturers of rolling mill machinery. This company has been in existence for 69 years. The equipment furnished the Louisville plant was new and modern in every respect. In fact, there has been no rolling mill of this kind built in the United States since the Louisville plant was put up. So it is a base and erroneous assertion to say that there are newer and more modern plants. "Last month the American Appraisal company, the largest concern of its kind in the United States, a company well known for its accuracy and integrity—which you can readily ascertain as the company has offices in every large city in the country—appraised the equipment at $199,000. I wish you would write to them and get this confirmed. Also write to the George A. Horg company. "So it goes without saying that the members of the committee were in error when they asserted that the equipment of the Louisville plant was a pile of junk, and that its place had been taken by concerns with newer equipment, as it can easily be proved that the equipment of the Louisville plant is the latest and most modern to date that has been built in this country.

PASSED IN NIGHT. "I note that you say that their stay in Louisville was very short. They must have passed through there in the night, if they were there at all, as they did not report at the city office of our company, nor did any officer of our company see them. There are some telegrams now awaiting their appearance at our office, as per agreement. "I note that you state that they called at numerous places. At Joliet there is no mill of this kind. All the other mills of the kind in the Louisville district were in operation 20 years ago. The mill at Denver is 15 or 20 years old. So it was evident that they got their information, if they got it at all, from someone not competent to give such advice. "I still adhere to my first proposition that if the commercial bodies of Salt Lake, after a proper investigation, it is found that the Louisville plant is not the most modern to date for the manufacturing of iron and steel bars from scrap, I will pay all expenses."

THE LATE MRS. GEORGIANA FOX YOUNG. Who Passed Away at Her Residence Last Evening.

Last night after a painful illness of many years' duration, Mrs. Georgiana Fox Young, wife of Hyrum S. Young, of the Deseret National bank died at her residence at 6:30 o'clock. She was the daughter of the late Jesse W. and Eliza Gibbs Fox and was born in Salt Lake City in 1850. Mrs. Young was prominently known for her many charities, both of a private and public nature, having reared besides her own large family five children left to her care by the death of relatives. She was actively interested in school and other public matters, and has the honor of being among the first women to interest themselves in the Free Kindergarten movement, her efforts in connection with those efforts resulting in the establishment of the Free Kindergarten at the University. She was first president of the Utah Free Kindergarten association, and retained the position until failing health compelled her to resign. She was actively associated with the Woman's Relief society, and held the position of counselor to the Salt Lake stake president, Mrs. Chrissa Smith Williams, at her death. Surviving her best husband are eight children including Hyrum J. Young, Mrs. Walter D. Neelken, Mrs. Claude Gates, Leslie G. Young, Mrs. George H. Taylor, Miss Georgia Young, H. Don and Dale Young. She was widely known and loved and leaves a large circle of friends to mourn her death. The funeral services will take place Saturday, at 2 o'clock at the family residence. The remains may be viewed at the same place from 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m.

KING TO SPEAK OF DES MOINES

Plan of City Government is Commended in Letters from Business Men.

TONIGHT AT COURT HOUSE.

Sons of Utah Call Meeting of Male Population of City to Hear Features of the Administration.

Tonight in Judge Armstrong's court room the people of Salt Lake will have an opportunity to listen to Judge William H. King on the Des Moines plan of city government. The meeting will be under the auspices of the "Sons of Utah," a new organization which has pitched its future work along the lines of upbuilding the community, with a purpose to investigate all things which may add to the welfare of the state or any of its communities. Tonight's meeting was called in the belief that the people should study new systems of city government, since it is so apparent that the present one is antiquated and obsolete so far as accomplishing its proper ends is concerned. Study of new plans for civic administration commenced in Utah two years ago, when Frank R. Stephens outlined the Galveston plan to the members of the Salt Lake Commercial club at their annual banquet. The plan immediately went to the legislature, but without sufficient backing to secure its passage through the house, although it passed the senate. The Civic League of Salt Lake took up the matter again this year, with a view of securing information on plans operating in other cities. From Des Moines they have secured two letters, both detailing the plan a success. These are from business houses, in answer to a series sent out in the hope of securing information from those most in position to judge. LETTERS FROM DES MOINES. "The letters from Des Moines people follow: From the Des Moines Mantel & Marble Co. Q.—In your opinion, is the Des Moines plan of city government a success? A.—Very much so. Q.—What particular points in this plan meet with your approval? A.—Centralized authority. In every way it has been an improvement. The Diamond Grain Co., going more fully into the matter, writes: Replying to your letter of Sept. 10, will say that our Des Moines plan of city government has been in use so short a time that one cannot intelligently determine the final outcome. Every indication points to the success of the plan. We do not recall now any bad features of this plan upon which we would suggest a change. We believe if you will address Mr. John MacVicar of this city, who is one of the leading members of the board, he might suggest some minor changes which would be of interest. The entire tone and appearance of the people in the city hall has changed very much since the new commission-ers have been in office. There is none of the old political atmosphere. Personally would suggest that the number necessary for a recall should be reduced to fifteen per cent of the voters instead of twenty-five per cent. We believe the recall feature is one of the most important to the success of the plan, as it gives the voters a chance to get after any official who is not looking after their interests properly, and the easier "the club can be swung" the more effective it will be. Everybody is Talking About Oasis. 2,000 people will want selections of land under the Oasis project opening, September 28th, with only 43,000 acres to supply this demand. Figure it out.
