DARING SMUGGLER FINALLY RUN DOWN

Jameson, One of Most Notorious Men on Puget Sound, is Captured.

BY REVENUE CUTTER CRANT.

Sloop Was Making for the American Shore With a Cargo of Opium.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 21.-The Post-Intelligencer will publish the following tomorrow morning:

Through the strategy practised by Capt. D. F. Tozier, commanding the revenue cutter Grant, the notorious smuggler, Jameson, was last Monday compelled to sacrifice a large cargo of opium, which he was endeavoring to land on American soil, and it is now beneath the waters of Haro straits, about one mile from the Canadian boundary.

Monday afternoon, the Grant proceeded under easy speed up Haro straits, in order that she might be well observed from the Canadian shore, and entered Mosquito pass on the American side, in the hope of deceiving those who might be watching the cutter into the belief that she would go through the pass. Instead of continuing, however, the Grant anchored and remained there until about 2 o'clock, when she got under way and proceeded out, a sloop having been sighted rapidly approaching from the Canadian side and heading for Deception pass. She had been allowed to get within about a mile and a haif of the American shore when the Grant came out heading for her at full speed. Immediately upon the cutter's appearance in the utraits the sloop was put about and endeavored to regain British waters. When it became apparent that he would soon be overhauled, those on board the sloop began throwing overboard quantities of packages. The Grant ran alongside the sloop and several blue jackets tumbled on board, and had the master of the craft fast in a moment.

An officer boarding the sloop at once recognized the apparently innocent fisherman as Jameson, who, with his partner, Wilkes, now serving a long term at McNeil's Island, are alleged to be two of the best known and most daring smugglers of oplum and Chinese on Puget sound. might be watching the cutter into the
