GOLDFIELD CON. MILLING PLANT

Its Construction Has Meant an Expenditure of Nearly a Million Dollars.

HAS GOOD BANK ACCOUNT

Over $800,000 in Cash in Treasury—Interest in Jumbo Extension.

Official figures from Goldfield show that the Goldfield Consolidated Mining Co. mill with the water plant, has cost $900,000, of which $248,445 is still unpaid. The company had in bank on Oct. 1 $849,001.

The Goldfield Consolidated Co. is to mine the Vinegar Creek claim and account to the Jumbo Extension Co. for one-half of the net profits resulting. Inasmuch as the Consolidated company already owned an undivided one-fourth interest and the Jumbo Extension Co. owned only an undivided three-fourths interest in this claim, and since the probable ore bodies therein, by virtue of apex rights, already belonged to the Consolidated company and not to the Jumbo Extension Co., the latter, under the terms of the recent settlement, was given one-half of the net profits of the Vinegar.

UTAH COPPER EARNINGS.

Produced 4,122,000 Pounds of Copper in September.

The earnings of the Utah Copper Co. in the month of September, based upon a production of 4,122,000 pounds, were close to $240,000, or at the rate of nearly $2,000,000 a year. Earnings are running at the rate of considerably more than $1 a share.

The directors will meet soon to declare a second quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share. The Utah is now producing at the rate of about 5,000,000 pounds of copper a year.

FINE COPPER SHOWING.

Report from Nevada Douglas Mine Is Most Gratifying.

Walter C. O'Connell, general manager of the Nevada Douglas Copper company, has received last week's progress report from Super. Arentz, which shows that the average of the first class ore extracted during the regular course of development ran 12.25 per cent copper; while the second grade material went 8.83 per cent copper.

Near the face of the south 550 feet, a winze is being sunk in a body of 165 per cent copper and a mine is being made in chalcocite ore, the face showing 25 per cent copper. The ore body on the 650 level has been cross-cut for 65 feet, with the wall in sight.

Mr. Arentz says conditions at the Nevada Douglas could scarcely be better than they are at the present time.

PARK CITY NEWS.

New Equipment for Curtis Mine—At The Keystone.

A carload of machinery, including engine and compressor, for the Curtis mine, which arrived last week, has been delayed in transport to the mine by the soft condition of the roads, says the Park Record. Foundations are ready, however, to receive it, and ere long it will be put in active commission.

LITTLE BLAZE IN LOGAN.

(Special to the "News.")

Logan, Nov. 2.—About noon today much excitement was caused by the report that the Thatcher Opera House was on fire. The immense volume of smoke issuing from an alleyway between that building and the Studebaker building seemed to confirm the rumor. One of the many roofs was being burned and given a coat of tar. A bucket of tar caught fire and for a while it looked as though several of Logan's biggest business blocks would go up in smoke. The fire, however, was soon under control and little damage from a serious conflagration.

CONSOLIDATION OF ELY PROPERTIES

Some Moves Being Made Looking Towards Merger of Big Copper Mines.

GREAT TONNAGE IN SIGHT.

Steptoe Smelter Employs One Thousand Men—Nevada Con. And Cumberland Ely.

Important developments are pending in the control of both the Nevada Consolidated and Cumberland Ely companies, says an eastern exchange. The west is sending in queries about a change of ownership being in order.

The companies are controlled by the Guggenheims. Among the parties seen yesterday that are interested in these Ely-Nevada properties no definite news is being given to affirm or deny the reports that are current could be secured.

The sensational advance in the stock of the Nevada Consolidated Copper company from $14 to $43 during the past month lends color to the rumors which attributed the buying of these properties to prominent local copper interests. The name of the Amalgamated Copper company, has been used in this connection, but on investigation it develops that this conjecture was arrived at simply because several of the individuals mentioned as in the deal are connected with large Butte copper interests.

The facts as at present confirmed show that two months ago several owners of large blocks of Cumberland Ely and Nevada Consolidated company stocks were asked to put a figure on their stocks, at which they would be willing to sell. The price was not yet made public. At all events a request was made at the same time by the people making the offer to leave the stock alone and not interfere with its market position in any way. Whatever prompted this request is not known.

The advance in Nevada Consolidated recently has, of course, been partly due to English buying, the stock having been listed on that market abroad.

It is quite evident that something is in the wind. The price of the stock, though it is not likely that it in any way refers to the recent merger of these properties concerning which so much has been printed.

The tonnage in sight in the Nevada Consolidated Copper company at Ely, is figured at 14,000,000 tons by J. Parkes, Chicago. The ore is low-grade, averaging 2 per cent copper. The ore is mined in one section of the property by the underground method. The ore is hauled to McGill, where the Steptoe smelter is located. The holdings measure 400 acres.

The Steptoe smelter, produced after 16 months' work at an outlay of $5,000,000, is employing 1,000 men. The concentrating mill of this plant, beginning Oct. 1, 1909, will produce units of a capacity of 1,250 tons each. Later it is hoped that each unit will work up to 1,500 tons of ore a day.

Each unit is subdivided into two sections. Beginning 25 ft. in the three sections, will be handling 4,000 tons of ore a day. The fourth unit is now under construction, and will be completed on April 1, 1909. The Burlington railway, which is now under construction, will have a capacity of 55 tons of blister copper a day.

Nevada Consolidated Copper company in September produced 800,000 pounds of copper. No positive information is yet at hand, showing cost of production, though it is placed below the cost of the other mines.

The Cumberland-Ely Mining company has opened up a flat porphyry ore deposit measuring 3,000,000 tons of ore of which almost 2,000,000 tons of ore have been blocked out on three sides. All of this work has been completed in the veteran mine of the company's holdings. It is figured that the company owns 498 acres in various groups in the camp. The equipment for hoisting this ore on a large scale is under construction.

For September, Cumberland Ely produced 600,000 pounds of copper. Before the end of the year, however, this company's output is figured at a basis of 10,000,000 pounds a year. Costs are estimated at nine cents a pound.

The company also owns a half interest in the Steptoe plant.

GETS A HUSKY BEAR.

Hyrum Dearden of Hemmett, shot a 600 pound brown bear yesterday. In one of the neighboring canyons, and brought it to this city this morning. The meat was left with a Market row butcher, where it was quickly picked up and the skin with the head and feet was displayed in front of the shop. Mr. Dearden promises to show up with another bear later in the week.

STATE PRISON CROWDED.

The state prison reached its maximum last Sunday, when the roster showed 281 inmates. With a dozen more, even the present new cell house accommodations would be at taken up. The first floor of new cells will be completed in 10 days, when construction on the second tier must immediately begin, to accommodate the overflow. The three most troublesome convicts, Sullivan, Majors and Denning, are still locked in their cells, where their meals are served.

But as soon as the first tier of cells in the new cell-house is ready these three will be housed in the new quarters where they can have all the exercise they want without being brought in contact with the other prisoners. The warden has given these convicts trials enough to prove that it is absolutely unsafe to leave them at large in the prison. There have in times past made all manner of promises, but in every instance they have not merely broken, but badly fractured them, until the confidence has been entirely lost. The warden says he doesn't like to keep any man continually shut up, but he is not responsible for their conduct in the prison; and if men will persist in defying the rules of the institution, there is nothing to do but keep them under immediate lock and key. Then they can not help but behave themselves, and are not demoralizing the other prisoners.

WOMAN PROVES SHREWD SWINDLER

Alice Cheney Brown for a Worthless Check Secured $20,000. Worth of Bonds.

SHE WAS PUT UNDER ARREST

Finally Surrendered Securities, Put Up A Help of Woe About Stealing to Take an Unfortunate Brother.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—With $20,000 of bonds which she had obtained from the firm of Babcock, Rushton & Loderback, a woman known as Alice Cheney Brown, was arrested last night at the Union depot and made to return the securities.

She had a ticket for Denver and was aboard the train waiting for its departure when Detective Frank Repetto found her preparing to retire for the night.

Repetto's instructions from the brokers were not to detain the woman if she restored the $20,000 worth of bonds. This she readily assented to and she took them from a handbag on the seat beside her. The woman had also passed a worthless check for $50,000 on the management of the Congress Hotel company. Detective Repetto, who is employed by the hotel company, had this little score to settle with the woman. She made good the amount of the check and was allowed to go her way.

HER METHODS.

The method by which the woman obtained the bonds was by passing a worthless check on the brokers for $19,720. Soon after the transaction Orville E. Babcock, one of the firm, became suspicious of the genuineness of the check and telegraphed to the Farmers' Loan & Trust company of New York, on which bank it was drawn. An answer was received that the woman purporting to be Alice Cheney Brown had no account with the Farmers' Loan & Trust.

It was known to the brokerage firm that Mrs. Brown was staying at the Annex, and a messenger was sent there to find her. At the hotel it was learned that the woman had paid her bill and left. She had paid with a check on the Farmers' Loan & Trust company and had ordered a carriage to take her to the La Salle street station. It was learned that a woman answering the description of Mrs. Brown had engaged another cabman and had been driven to the Northwestern depot. After discharging the second cabman she entered a third vehicle and was driven to the Union depot.

In the baggage room it was discovered that the woman had checked a suit case to Denver, presenting her railroad ticket at the time. The Burlington train for Denver did not leave Chicago until 11:30 o'clock and Repetto waited in the depot until shortly before the time for departure. How the woman got past him and aboard the train without being seen is a mystery to the detective. When questioned on that point by Repetto she looked out of the car window and laughed.

PLEADED FOR LENIENCY.

At first she pleaded for leniency, asking that she be permitted to pay the hotel bill and continue on her trip to Denver. The detective agreed to accept $50 for the hotel bill and she paid him in cash. Then she turned over the bonds. When she had done so she told him that she had planned to obtain the bonds which she had hoped to sell in Denver, so she could get funds with which to aid a brother who is under arrest in the east for some offense.

The securities were turned over later to Mr. Babcock, who was waiting for Repetto at the Auditorium Annex. Mr. Babcock said the firm would make no offer to prosecute Mrs. Brown. The bonds were 20 in number, of $1,000 each. They are first mortgage 5 per cent bonds of the Madison River Power company.

Mrs. Brown went to the Annex last Thursday. She registered as "Mrs. Frank E. Brown, New York." The day following her arrival she called on Babcock, Rushton & Loderback with letters, presumably forged, purporting to be from a New York broker. Negotiations were begun for the purchase of the bonds, but the deal was not closed until yesterday.

It was learned after the Denver train had departed that Mrs. Brown got through the station without being seen by Repetto by a clever ruse. Outside the station she saw a friend, who was holding a baby and engaged her in conversation. "Without arousing the woman's suspicions she induced her to let Mrs. Brown hold her baby and then accompany the child and its new friend to the train. In passing through the depot Mrs. Brown was seemingly intent on the child and as she was not supposed to have a baby, passed unnoticed.
