

WOMAN AND HOME.

VARIOUS POINTS AS TO THE MANAGEMENT OF A HOME.

As the home is the center of the life of the family, it is of great importance that it be properly managed. The following are some of the points to be considered in the management of a home.

1. Location. The location of the home is of great importance. It should be in a healthy, airy, and sunny place, with a good view of the country. It should be near a church, school, and other public buildings. It should be in a quiet neighborhood, free from noise and dirt.

2. Construction. The construction of the home should be of good quality. It should be built of brick or stone, with a good roof and strong foundation. It should have a good ventilation system, and the rooms should be well lighted.

3. Interior Decoration. The interior of the home should be decorated in a tasteful and comfortable manner. The furniture should be of good quality and in keeping with the style of the home. The walls should be painted in a light color, and the floors should be well polished.

4. Management. The management of the home is the responsibility of the woman. She should keep the home clean and tidy, and see that the family is properly fed and clothed. She should also see that the children are properly educated and trained.

5. Financial Management. The woman should also be responsible for the financial management of the home. She should keep a record of the family's income and expenses, and see that the bills are paid on time. She should also see that the family has enough money to live on comfortably.

6. Health and Hygiene. The woman should also be responsible for the health and hygiene of the family. She should see that the family has a good supply of fresh air and light. She should also see that the family is properly exercised and rested.

7. Education. The woman should also be responsible for the education of the children. She should see that they are properly educated in the home, and that they are also given the opportunity to attend school.

8. Religion. The woman should also be responsible for the religious education of the family. She should see that the family attends church regularly, and that they are properly instructed in the principles of religion.

THE FORTNIGHTLY EXPERIMENT.

Mr. J. B. Sawyer, of the University of California, has conducted a fortnightly experiment in the management of a home. The results of the experiment are as follows:

1. Location. The home was located in a healthy, airy, and sunny place, with a good view of the country. It was near a church, school, and other public buildings. It was in a quiet neighborhood, free from noise and dirt.

2. Construction. The home was built of brick and stone, with a good roof and strong foundation. It had a good ventilation system, and the rooms were well lighted.

3. Interior Decoration. The interior of the home was decorated in a tasteful and comfortable manner. The furniture was of good quality and in keeping with the style of the home. The walls were painted in a light color, and the floors were well polished.

4. Management. The home was managed by Mr. Sawyer. He kept the home clean and tidy, and saw that the family was properly fed and clothed. He also saw that the children were properly educated and trained.

5. Financial Management. Mr. Sawyer kept a record of the family's income and expenses, and saw that the bills were paid on time. He also saw that the family had enough money to live on comfortably.

6. Health and Hygiene. Mr. Sawyer saw that the family had a good supply of fresh air and light. He also saw that the family was properly exercised and rested.

7. Education. Mr. Sawyer saw that the children were properly educated in the home, and that they were also given the opportunity to attend school.

8. Religion. Mr. Sawyer saw that the family attended church regularly, and that they were properly instructed in the principles of religion.
