KUROPATKIN IS IN FULL RETREAT

All Russian War Office Will Say Is That the Report is Not Official.

GENERAL STAFF DEPRESSED.

The Rumor of the "Retirement" Fell Like a Cold Douche Upon It.

CZAR POSTPONES TRIP TO LIBAU.

Situation at the Front Causes Him Much Anxiety—Studies Closely Maps and Follows Battle.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 3 (5:05 P. M.).—A report has just reached St. Petersburg that Gen. Kuropatkin is in full retreat. The war office admits that such a rumor has come from the seat of war but declares that it is not official.

The war office declares it is still without official information in regard to the result of Kuropatkin's fight with Kuroki. If the report that the Russian commander-in-chief is retiring turns out to be true, it is considered possible that it may be due to the appearance of another flanking movement of the Japanese higher up and then west. Reports that the Japanese were moving up the Liao river towards Simintin were persistent just before the fighting around Liao Yang began.

Notwithstanding the lack of official confirmation of Kuropatkin's retreat the report has fallen like a cold douche upon the general staff. The emperor, who was going to Libau today, has postponed his trip on account of the situation at the front. He has been spending most of his time the last three days with his cabinet at Alexander villa, with maps spread out before him, following the movements of the battle.

A high officer of the general staff said to the correspondent of the Associated Press after the receipt of the unofficial report that Kuropatkin was falling back, that if it was true he did not believe the commander-in-chief could afford to abandon his stores at Liao Yang and in his opinion an army corps would be left there to protect them. He added:

"Liao Yang besieged might then become the Ladysmith of the Japanese-Russian war."

ARMENIA INSURGENTS.

They Have a Hot Fight With Turkish Troops.

Constantinople, Sept. 2.—(Delayed in transmission.)—A hot fight between Armenian insurgents and Turkish troops occurred at Van, Aug. 31, in which more than a score were killed. The Armenians to the number of 150 raided the town, charged four houses and barricaded themselves. Troops attacked the houses and in the fight which followed two soldiers and 20 other persons were killed. The authorities set fire to a number of adjoining houses so that the troops might be better enabled to besiege the insurgents.

The town was panic-stricken, and those inhabitants who had not fled to the churches and convents.

It is stated by the authorities that other Armenian bands are preparing to cross the Persian frontier.

Bert Oakman Captured.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 3.—Bert Oakman, the young murderer whom the police and detectives of this section of Oregon have been searching for a week past was captured this morning at a fish cannery at Warrenville, about 20 miles east of this city. Oakman had been working in the cannery since last Monday, commencing work there two days after he killed Frank Dennett at Hillsboro. Dennett had aroused Oakman's displeasure because he had betrayed the secret of Oakman's clandestine marriage.

GOMPERS

Refuses to Call Meeting to Consider Sympathetic Strike.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, has refused to call a meeting of the national council of labor to consider a general strike of unionists in sympathy with the packing house strike.

CONGO FREE STATE.

Belgian Fortifications on German Frontier Very Small.

New York, Sept. 3.—In connection with recent cable reports from Europe to the effect that extensive fortifications are being constructed by the Belgians on the western border of the Congo Free state, Carten De Wiart, a Belgian colonizer to the St. Louis international peace congress, now here, declares that the so-called fortifications are little more than entrenchments necessary as a precaution against the great native population.

Naturally these have been erected by the Congo Free State, which the "country is about as large as half of Europe. It has a population of something like 40,000,000 negroes. Of the Europeans in the country there are about 12,000. Many of these are Norwegians and Swedes holding important offices. There are also a good many whites, who likewise take a prominent part in the administration of affairs.

Of late a rather heavy contingent of Italians has been coming in. Of course, with this overwhelming population of blacks all about it has been necessary in pushing into the way of intrenching advanced centers. That is the beginning and the end of the fortifications.

"There is here no legitimate field for international suspicion or jealousy. All that is being done is for the benefit of the civilized world in its entirety."

JOHN BRADY DEAD.

Was Leader of Notorious Cherry Hill Gang of Toughs.

New York, Sept. 3.—John Brady, who under the sobriquet of "Yakky Yak," was for some years notorious as the leader of the Cherry Hill gang—a band of toughs on the east side constantly engaged in battling with the police—is dead in Jersey City. Active prosecution drove him to New Jersey some time ago. Brady was a cooper and owned two prosperous shops here which he continued to operate from a distance. He was only 29 years of age but had figured in the police annals since boyhood.

Despite his many encounters he never was sentenced to prison.

Thousands of Knights Templar.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—Knights Templar from all parts of the United States are pouring into this city to attend their triennial convocation. Today all the California commanderies are keeping open house at their various headquarters and visitors are being lavishly entertained. Grand Master Stoddard today viewed the Presidio military reservation in battling with the police—is dead in Jersey City. Active prosecution drove him to New Jersey some time ago. Brady was a cooper and owned two prosperous shops here which he continued to operate from a distance. He was only 29 years of age but had figured in the police annals since boyhood.

JAMES C. DUNHAM.

Notorious Murderer Reported Captured by Capt. Rynning.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 3.—A report is in circulation here that Capt. Thomas Rynning of the Arizona National Guard has reported to the Arizona National Guard that he has captured James C. Dunham, the California accused of wholesale murder. Dunham has been diligently sought for all over the country for the last eight years. Rynning also reported, according to the story, that Dunham had been fully identified and that he had confessed to the commission of the crimes against him. Dunham was captured at a ranch near Los Gatos, Cal., where he was held for $15,000 for his capture, dead or alive.

Dunham's alleged crime was committed May 25, 1896, at a ranch house between Los Gatos and San Jose. The striking union miners in a standing re-

NON-UNION MINERS.

Howells and Simpson of Dist. 15 Want them to Strike.

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 3.—President Howells and Secy. Simpson, of District 15, United Mine Workers of America, have issued a call entailing the non-union coal miners who have assumed the positions made vacant by the striking union miners to strike Sept. 7. The call appeals to every non-union man in the southern Colorado coal districts and guarantees them the same protection and help that is being furnished the union men who are on strike.

To Teach Filipino English.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—World's Fair Grounds—Arrangements have been completed for teaching the Igorrotes, Moros and Negritos the English language, and a school will be regularly conducted at the Philippine reservation until the close of the exposition. The first class will be held next Monday morning and instruction will be commenced with the second class and the Negritos will be taken last. The Negritos are one of the most primitive races to the ethnologist and efforts to instruct the members of the tribe in English will be watched with interest.

MISS GATES WILL SING.

Popular Soprano to Give a Theater Concert This Month.

Manager Pyper of the Salt Lake theater is negotiating with Miss Emma Lucy Gates for a song recital to be given the latter part of this month. It is expected that the popular young cantatrice will be heard either the night of the 23rd or the 24th, after which she will leave to resume her studies in New York and Paris. There is a very general desire to hear her, and her recital is sure to be successful.

BIG FIRE IN CORINNE.

The South Flour Mill Burns at a Loss of at Least $10,000.

Heber J. Grant & Co., general agents for the Home Fire Insurance company received a dispatch from Corinne this morning stating that the flouring mill plant of J. R. Smith of that place had gone up in flames. No other particulars were obtainable, but Grant & Co. state that the mill was worth at least $10,000, and that it doubtless contained considerable wheat and flour. The insurance with Grant & Co. was $5,000, but it is not known whether there was any other.

Mr. Smith is the well known miller of Salt Lake county and has a prosperous plant south of the city.

DESTROYED BY FIRE.

Blaze at Logan Consumes Thomas Tarbet's Barn and Other Property.

(Special to the "News.") Logan, Utah, Sept. 3.—At 1:30 this morning a barn belonging to Thomas Tarbet of the Third ward was discovered to be on fire. An alarm was immediately turned in, but before the department arrived the barn, with several tons of hay, two horses, buggy harness, was completely destroyed. The total loss will reach probably $10,000, with no insurance. The cause of the fire is unknown, but some think it may have resulted from the careless dropping of a cigarette.

RUSSIANS TAKE THE OFFENSIVE.

Main Operations Have Been Transferred to the North Bank of the Taish.

ARMY ON OYAMA'S RIGHT.

Crossing of the River Considered a Brilliant Strategical Stroke.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 3, 1:30 P. M.—A new phase of the battle of Liao Yang has now begun. The main operations have been transferred to the north bank of the Taish, where Gen. Kuropatkin has assumed the offensive, hurling the bulk of his army against Field Marshal Oyama's right, under Gen. Kuroki, and at the same time holding the Japanese center and left, on the other side of the river, in check with the force left on the south bank for that purpose. The operations on the south side are now regarded as being of secondary importance at the war office, where Kuropatkin's action in throwing the bulk of his army across the river to the right bank in order to protect his rear and give him an opportunity to try conclusions single-handed with Kuroki is considered to be a brilliant strategical stroke. The Russian left on the Liao Yang side of the Taish is regarded as strong enough behind its fortified positions to hold Gen. Kuroki at a distance to strike Kuropatkin a chance to strike Kuroki and at the same time to develop the bridges, of which it now develops there are 10, over which Kuropatkin must cross in order to follow up his successes in the event that he crushes Kuroki. In case of a reverse the bridges will also furnish ample facilities for the Russian troops on the Liao Yang side to rejoin the main army.

Yesterday afternoon Oka assaulted one of the strong Russian positions on the Liao Yang side, which it is presumed, guarded bridges, but they were repulsed with exceedingly heavy losses. The Russians behind their works suffering only slightly. The Japanese are using siege guns on the Liao Yang side. Kuropatkin did not delay after his concentration on the right bank. Yesterday morning he massed his artillery and at noon began to bombard Kuroki's position, preliminary to an infantry attack. The above was the situation when the latest reports in possession of the war office were sent out.

What the authorities at Tokio regard as a Russian concentration at Yentai was probably Kuropatkin's preparations for taking the offensive.

Telegraphic railroad communication between the Russian army and Mukden were still open this morning.

TACTICS APPROVED.

In military circles where the progress of the battle is known, Kuropatkin's tactics are approved and confidence is expressed in the issue.

The failure of Tokio to chronicle the voluntary passage of Kuropatkin's main army across the river is believed by the military circles to be a mistake. Kuropatkin's tactics are approved and confidence is expressed in the issue.

DISPATCH TO EMPEROR.

"At nightfall Thursday the Japanese attacked our Sykuanum position, but were repulsed after a hot fight. They renewed the attack at night, this time with success, driving back a regiment in the direction of Sakutan. The retreat of this regiment led to the evacuation of the position held by other troops. Towards morning the troops advanced gradually in order to re-take the Sykuanum position."

"At dawn on Friday I assumed the offensive against the troops of Gen. Kuroki's army. At midday the heads of the attacking corps were in line and preparations were being made to retake the Sykuanum position."

"During the night the Japanese violently bombarded the interior of the Russian position inside the town of Liao Yang, the railroad station and the railroad itself. Our losses were insignificant."

"I have just received a dispatch from the chief of the Liao Yang garrison, dated 10:30 A. M., to the effect that the Japanese attacked the fort situated in the center of our position, but they were repulsed with very great loss. We had six men killed in the fort."

AUDIENCE WELL BEHAVED.

Strangers at Yesterday Afternoon's Organ Recital Were Not Vandals.

The audience at yesterday afternoon's special Tabernacle organ recital behaved itself becomingly, and there was no trouble. But the management of the Tabernacle was prepared anyway, and five able bodied men under Charles Wilken were at the doors in event of possible disturbance. However, they had little to do. They were all of 1,500 visitors in the galleries, including the big New York delegation and their fine band from Binghamton. The Knights were very appreciative, and at the close of 100 of them crowded up around the organ desk, and with eyes, ears and mouths wide open eagerly absorbed the explanations of the organist as to the manipulation of the great instrument.

Several patriotic Knights, while at the organ desk, suggested that it would be a good thing to sing "America." The organist was agreeable and the crowd started in. But after the first stanza, there were so few present who knew the hymn, that Mr. Kneissler, leader of the organists, who had "went it alone," to the delectation of his audience. The members of Baker's Binghamton band were enthusiastic over the organ, and Bandmaster Baker said he had yet to see the equal. The blending of the tones and the balance of the entire instrument, he said, were most excellent.
