To the Editor. I was somewhat surprised and more thoroughly disgusted to receive a printed circular from the "American" party containing among other statenents, the following: "A fallure to vote is lending aid and comfort to the element which has opposed every forward movement in the past, which favors industrial intellectual stagnation, which lives and thrives in the putrid atmosphere of ignorance and bigotry and delights in lawless conduct."

lawless conduct." While the name of our mayor was not signed to the above, Mr. Brans-ford certainly had knowledge of the contents. If the above quotation was meant to cast a slur on the Demo-cratic party it is a lie. If it was meant as a reflection on the Republi-can party it is still a lie. If it was meant for the Mormons as a people, it is a lie of such contemptible signification that I wonder why men who ought, if they do not, know bet-ter than to believe that such high-handed dealings are going to influ-ence the better class of people to vote for any measure handed out under false assertions. There is neither a Democrat nor Republican in Salt Lake City who "delights in lawless conduct." And I will make this broad and far reaching statement without fear of suc-cessful contradiction, that there is not a Mormon-man, woman or child in the entire state of Utah, who "delights in lawless conduct." While the name of our mayor was lawless conduct." If the men who are really interested in the progresss of our fair city and are ooking forward to an increase of popu looking forward to an increase of popu-lation to 200,000, they certainly do not believe nor expect to accomplish any such results by getting the clty over-whelmingly in debt, nor by raising the people's taxes, till it costs more to own a home than to pay rent. There are three things that will bar people out, prevent them from becoming perma-nent cltizens, and they are essential to draw, hold and keep the most desir-able people, viz, good schools, pure able people, viz., good schools, pure water, and reasonable taxes, we have the two first, and must have the third, and I am hoping to see the people de-

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Begins Year's Work With Record Breaking Attendance.

Special Correspondence.

Special Correspondence. Logan, Cache Co., Sept. 20.—Everything points toward a great success for the Agricultural college this year. There are more students registered at the school this early in the season than any other year. Last night saw the close of the first week of school in action, and at noon yesterday 319 students were registered. This is most encouraging from the fact that they are largely col-lege students, as the high schools of the state are doing the college preparatory work.

There have been many noticeable changes in the equipment and faculty changes in the equipment of this season. The Agricultural and commercial de-partments have added much strength to their already efficient faculties. Among the new personages are Prof. Flavor, in the horticultural department; Prof. Woodward, in the dairy department, comes to the institution highly recom-mental mended. Prof. Goddard, a graduate of the State University, is a strength in accounting and economics. The instructor in type-writing is Mr. Davis, a graduate of the Arizona state normal school. Prof. Smith in zoology I and II is becoming
