

warrant and been shown the Emperor's signature attached, he exclaimed: "Down with barbarism! Long live anarchy!" He then bent his head to the block and was quickly dispatched. All traces of the execution were swiftly removed. Keuchler, completely broken down, was then led to the scaffold, and in a few seconds paid the penalty. A detachment of soldiers with fixed bayonets were drawn up in front of the scaffold.

LONDON, 10.—It is officially confirmed that the German squadron in the South Pacific has hoisted the flag of Germany at 12 points on the Island of New Britain, New Ireland and New Guinea.

The Telegraph's Vienna correspondent says: It is understood that Italy is content to occupy Cairo, Alexandria, Suez and a portion of Ismailia, so as to enable the British troops in Egypt to proceed further with the frontier.

LONDON, 10.—A dispatch from Korti, dated Feb. 9th, says: Lord Beresford returned in safety to Gubat bringing with him Col. Wilson and party, who were stranded on an island some distance up the Nile while returning from Khartoum. Some difficulty was experienced in fetching away the stranded party. The rebels on the river banks kept up constant firing, and shortly after the party embarked, bullets from rebel rifles pierced the boiler of the steamer and it became necessary to anchor, under fire, and make repairs. The British fire, however, took effect, and the rebels were repulsed. Immediately after reaching Gubat, Col. Wilson started for Korti, where he has now arrived to report in person to Lord Wolseley the details of his reconnaissance at Khartoum.

LONDON, 10.—Wolseley telegraphs further particulars of Beresford's rescue of Col. Wilson. When gone down the river about three miles, a battery of the enemy on the left bank opened fire upon it. The steamer returned the fire—which was kept up while the steamer was anchored for repairs. Meanwhile Col. Wilson with a small party took four guns and landed on the right bank. The party marched down the river till directly opposite the battery, when they put the guns in position and opened fire. Much assistance was thus rendered Lord Charles in keeping the fire of the enemy down. At sunset Wilson and party marched in three miles further down the river, and halted for the night. They were there joined by Lord Charles the following morning. The steamer meanwhile had another engagement with a rebel battery, but succeeded in passing it without serious harm. Col. Wilson and party were again taken on board and the steamer proceeded to Gubat without further difficulty. During the passage from the Island to Gubat one man was killed and seven injured.

Wolseley concludes his dispatch with these words: "I cannot speak too highly of the pluck of Lord Charles Beresford and party. Col. Wilson's men likewise behaved admirably and with the usual determination of Englishmen."

ROME, 10.—The Italian expeditionary force recently landed at Massowah has been ordered to aid English operations in the Soudan by a march into the interior, to relieve the garrisons at Kassala and Senhi. This movement, if successfully accomplished, will open a line of communication from the coast to Khartoum parallel with the route from Suakim to Berber.

VIENNA, 10.—During a ball at the town of Witkowitz, in Bohemia, a dynamite cartridge was exploded in the basement of the building. The staircase was demolished and several persons injured, but no one killed.

KORTI, 10.—Colonels Wilson and Wortley, with the expedition to Khartoum, arrived here to-day. They made the journey from Gubat in four days. They bring news of General Gordon's death. One of the Pashas among Gen. Gordon's forces marched the garrison to the side of the town nearest Omdurman, saying a rebel attack was expected at that point. Meantime, another traitorous pasha opened the gates at the other end and allowed the Mahdi's troops to enter, and they easily captured the town. Gen. Gordon was stabbed as he was leaving the government house.

A regular postal service has been formed between Korti and Gubat. The West Kent regiment started for Gubat to-day. The storming of Metemneh by the British is expected.

LONDON, 10.—The Daily News appeared this morning in mourning for Gen. Gordon, and publishes the following from Gakdul: "Natives who escaped from Khartoum say Gen. Gordon was killed while in the act of leaving his house to rally the faithful troops. The latter were cut down to a man, and for hours the best part of the town was the scene of merciless slaughter, not even women and children being spared. All the Notables were killed, except the treacherous Pashas and their followers."

Following are additional details of the killing of Gen. Gordon and the fall of Khartoum: At daybreak on the day of capture, which is variously stated as the 26th and 27th of January, General Gordon's attention was attracted by a tremendous tumult in the streets. He left the so called palace, or government building, in which he had made his headquarters, to ascertain the cause of the disturbance. Just as he reached the street he was stabbed in the back and fell dead. The tumult was caused by the Mahdi's troops, who had gained access to the interior of the town through treachery, and who were soon in complete possession of the place, including the citadel.

A fearful massacre of the garison followed. The scenes of slaughter are described as surpassing the Bulgarian atrocities, and rivaling the worst horrors of the Sepoy mutiny. The panic-stricken Egyptians were captured in their flight and put to death with the most fiendish tortures. Some were transfixed with spears and left to bleed to death. Most of the victims were mutilated in the most horrible manner. Eyes were gouged out, roses slit and tongues torn out by the roots. In many cases mutilated parts of the victims' bodies were thrust into their mouths while they were still living. The massacre included many non-combatants, and the Egyptian women were subjected to the most shameful indignities. More than one hundred women and young girls were given over to the Mahdi's followers to be used as slaves. After the slaughter, many Arabs were seen rushing about the streets with the heads of Egyptians impaled upon spears. The next night was spent in a saturnalia of blood and debauchery. Since the capture of Khartoum, the Mahdi has repaired the fortifications and made the place well nigh impregnable. He has made it his permanent headquarters, and is said to have an abundance of guns, small arms and ammunition.

Both of Col. Wilson's steamers were wrecked, owing to the treachery of the pilots, who will be court-martialed.

LONDON, 11.—All the morning papers have their columns bordered with black as a token of the grief which is universally felt over Gordon's fate. Some of the papers confine the emblem to the editorial page, but in most of them the column rules are reversed on all pages.

The News says: The age of chivalry is revived again in Gordon's history, and the whole world thrills with passionate grief at this Christian warrior's death.

The Standard alone refuses to believe that Gordon is dead, and clings to the shadow of a hope that he may be a prisoner or he may have escaped south.

LONDON, 10.—Gen. Wolseley asks that an advance from Suakim be made within a month. He sees no necessity for waiting until autumn. Gen. Stephenson, Gen. Dorman and others of the military council in Cairo, however, oppose the dispatch of the expedition from Suakim in so short a time, on the ground that it cannot be made in readiness to start before April. They say the march to Berber will take a month, and will be a severe test of the endurance of the men, who will suffer from intense heat and want of water. Isolated detachments will be exposed to attacks by Osman Digna. If, however, Gen. Wolseley declares an early advance on Berber necessary for the safety of the Nile expedition, the Cairo authorities will withdraw their opposition.

General Newdegate will command the expedition to Suakim. Col. Greaves will be chief of staff. The Suakim campaign will open, it is calculated, on the 8th of March. Orders have been sent throughout the country on the west and south coast of the Red Sea for the purchase of camels for the use of the new expedition.

Suakim, 10.—The night attacks on the British position here have ceased since Friday.

Osman Digna has recalled 1,000 rebels from Azig to Tamai.

BERLIN, Feb. 10.—Italy's movements on the Red Sea littoral have thoroughly irritated Germany. In consequence of this new and unexpected movement by the Italian government there has been a closer knitting of the entente cordiale between France and Germany.

BOMBAY, Feb. 10.—Three regiments of native infantry and one of cavalry will shortly embark for Egypt.

LONDON, 11.—Gen. Lord Wolseley telegraphs the government that the scouts sent to Khartoum have returned. They confirm the report of the killing of Gen. Gordon and the atrocities committed in Khartoum by El Mahdi's men.

PARIS, 11.—Six of those arrested for participating in the disorders on the boulevards on Monday in connection with the proposed Anarchist meeting, have been sentenced to terms of imprisonment; only two are Anarchists.

ROME, 11.—Negotiations between the British and Italian governments with a view to Italian co-operation in the Soudan are still proceeding. Chevalier Negra, Italian Ambassador to London, has been instructed to assure Lord Granville, British Foreign Secretary, of the confidence that Italy has in the power of England to crush the rebellion in the Soudan and reorganize Egypt, and to state that Italy is willing to occupy with her troops strategic posts, so as to enable England to mass her forces against those of El Mahdi.

GIBRALTAR, 11.—Troops have already sailed from here to reinforce Wolseley's force in the Soudan. Others will be dispatched immediately.

LONDON, 11, noon.—The Cabinet met at 11 this morning and is still in session.

PARIS, 11.—Figaro says that El Mahdi's minister of war is M. Viret. He was formerly a captain in the French army. He joined El Mahdi in 1882 and taught the Arabs the way to break squares when formed by troops in battle.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP.

SOME FACTS WHICH WILL COST NOTHING TO SUBSTANTIATE, AND WHICH, PROPERLY CONSIDERED, MAY PROVE PROFITABLE.

There is in almost everything done two ways of doing it—one cheerfully and unreservedly, the other grudgingly and conditionally. Mark the exemplification of this in the course pursued by the two trunk lines having connection with Washington, the one direct and the other roundabout. The direct line, which it is needless to remark is the Baltimore and Ohio, in making the great reduction on the fare to Washington for the inauguration, announced no exceptions to the privileges accorded the holders of such tickets, but to the contrary, threw open its entire service, limited express as well as other regular trains, to the low rates. No lying around the B. & O. depot waiting for slow trains; no programme of travel rudely destroyed by refusing acceptance of inauguration tickets on fast trains. How strong the contrast on the other road! When forced to follow the lead of the Baltimore & Ohio in making the reduction in rates, it was done after a characteristic fashion of affected exclusiveness. On the other road inauguration tickets are good only upon certain trains (slow trains), for upon the so-called limited trains of the would-be rival line to Washington the low-rate tickets are not good; and more than this, the straight full-fare ticket is not good on such trains without extra fares and compulsory payment for sleeping and parlor-car accommodations, whether wanted or not. To talk about something, the indirect line refers to New York and the privilege of stopping off in Washington and then going on to the metropolis. This can be done by anybody on the tickets issued on any line, provided the time announced is within the limit of the ticket.

The B. & O. is the only direct line into Washington, and passengers from the West, who go to the National Capital to witness the inauguration ceremonies by any other line and thence to New York, have simply to double the track for considerable of the distance, or going twice over the same line, as against going direct by the B. & O. Then, too, the other line dwells upon the special feature it proposes to adopt in running solid trains to Washington for the particular occasion. That this is an acknowledgment of making a special schedule for Washington business, and that it would be a roundabout route to get into that city, is evident upon its face. It is a fact that solid trains are run regularly through Washington, between the West and the East, only on one line, and that line is the B. & O. It is a fact also that the Baltimore and Ohio is the only line in Washington having and using different divisions for its Western and Eastern business, and is not forced, as is the other line, to concentrate all its trains from all points of the compass, 40-odd miles away from the city, and then bring them all in on one track. More than this, the B. & O. is the only road which can furnish track room for sleeping cars, so that they can be occupied during the stay at the capital. The B. & O. has provided space for 50 extra cars within a short distance of the depot in Washington, with broad board walk, and the whole place illuminated by electric lights, so that there can be no difficulty in getting about at any time of the night.

A CORROBORATIVE STATEMENT.

AS TO HOW GILSON DEFRAUDED A WIDOW.

Editor Deseret News:

Does that "Deputy Marshal" Gilson need any more showing up than he has already received? If so, permit me through your columns to add the mite of knowledge I possess of his character, to the mountains of proofs of infamy already amassed against him. The question naturally arises, "Why does he make himself so prominent in the prosecution of polygamy cases, when he is not worthy to be the servant of those into whose business he is continually prying?" But all persons acquainted with this Utah crusade understand the answering of this question. This man Gilson contracted a debt at a store kept by my brother-in-law, amounting to nearly if not more than $200. Although frequently asked for the money, he gave nothing but promises, and when my sister, now a widow, asked him if he could make it convenient to pay, he told her he certainly could, and she might appoint a person to receive the horses he would turn over in payment. The receiver was appointed but Gilson, I suppose, forgot to pay. His letter telling my sister to appoint a person to receive the horses, was given into the hands of an attorney, but as the debt had long been outlawed, he could do nothing but appeal to Gilson's manhood. The attorney made the attempt, but on investigation it was found that Gilson had no manhood, or if he had, he preferred not to show it in this case. As Gilson did not answer the first letter sent to him by the attorney, another attempt was made, with the same result, and the attorney finally gave the case up, with a remark that it certainly was true, that Gilson was a "d—d scoundrel."

This affair is, of course, comparatively trivial, but in addition to the many other petty acts of villainy of this man, it serves to make up a list of tricks which render him a ten-fold more despicable character than the meanest of those whom he is persecuting.

If you think this worthy of place in your columns, place it there as another instance of the rascality of those who are endeavoring to invent villainy in others.

THE LIVER AND ITS FUNCTIONS.

It has become a well established fact that the larger portion of diseases to which the human family is subject arise in the first place from some derangement of the Liver. This organ is not only the largest, but at the same time one of the most important. The venous blood, on its return to the heart, passes through this organ, and in its passage the impurities, as also the secretions which are necessary for digestion as well as for a cathartic to assist in the removal of waste material, are eliminated. From this it is easily seen that the Liver is liable to get out of order to a greater or less extent, and when this occurs it is impossible for it to properly fulfill its office of removing all objectionable matter from the blood, but allows it to pass through, carrying with it the poisons of which it should have been relieved.

With impure blood the whole system becomes affected, and no organ can properly perform its function unless it is supplied with pure blood to maintain its strength. So the Liver becomes all important, and when one has the feeling of being continually tired, worn out, is constipated, with tenderness to the Piles, Headache, Sick Stomach, Sallow Complexion, Eruptions of Skin, etc., they may be sure their Liver is out of order, and a remedy is directly to the point in relieving itself of all accumulations, and restoring to its original Strength and Vigor. For all the complaints of this kind there is no medicine that equals

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS.

The result of years of study, experiment and practice of Dr. B. F. SHERMAN, its originator, and its success as a purgative and that class of remedies can have but one effect—that is by their violent action to derange and weaken the system.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS acts directly on the Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, & Bowels, in a mild yet effective manner, and is as pleasant to the taste as any cordial, and is as easily taken by children as adults.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS is a medicine of rare merit, and not an intoxicating beverage, and being purely vegetable in its composition can be used at all times with beneficial results. It is not claimed as a cure-all, but for derangement of the organs mentioned, it is a specific and as a BLOOD PURIFIER ranks above all other preparations. Ask your druggist for it, and give it a fair trial. If he has none on hand, ask that it be ordered for you.
