Rockland, Sept. 4—Lafayette Gee, at Philbrick & Greenwood's ranch on the east fork of Rock creck,took arsenic Tuesday night, mistaking it for salts, and died in 12 minutes. He was not feeling well and told Mrs. Gee he thought he ought to take some salts. She took down a bottle which had been given her for salts and dissolved a teaspoonful and a half in some water. Mr. Gee, as he often did in taking medicine, gave their two-year-old boy a taste, to see him make a face, and the child spit it out and escaped proi able death. Mr. Gee also tasted it and said it tasted queer to him. Mrs. Gee told him it did not look like salts to her, and advised him not to take it.
