

in the lower part of the interior becomes dry. To-day a number of firemen had to turn out again, with the fire steamer, and play a stream on the ignited material.

Telegraph Offices Re-opened.—The following was received to-day—

November 20th.

Editor News:

Telegraph offices have just been re-opened at Minersville and Shauntie, Beaver county. A. M. M.

The Almanacs.—Now come the Almanacs for 1876. There are two noted ones from Dwyer's, where more of the same sort can be had. First, "Zadikiels," with predictions, hieroglyphic, etc.; then, "Raphael's Prophetic Almanac," and "Ephemeris," with weather and other predictions, hieroglyphic, etc.

Littell's Living Age for the week ending November 13th contains "Atomic Theory of Lucretius," "The Dilemma," "Schoolmaster of the Renaissance," "Naturalness of Character," "Two Danes," "Lanzun," "Philip Stanhope," and other choicest readings of the day, both prose and poetry.

Back Again.—Hon. A. P. Rockwood, who has been on a southern trip, gathering statistics relating to the various resources of Utah, returned again to the City last evening, hale and hearty, having accomplished the object of his journey.

On Monday he leaves for the purpose of visiting Utah and Tooele Counties, on the same business and he desires us to request the Bishops and other leading men of the settlements to be prepared to afford him the information he desires.

Excellent Syrup.—Brother Samuel Wagstaff, of American Fork, brought a specimen of syrup to this office to-day, of which he has manufactured 2,740 gallons the present season. It is of a good quality as any we have ever seen produced in the Territory. He has always taken an interest in the raising of this article of home production, and two years ago he was about the only person in Utah county who raised cane to amount to anything. The article he produces is pure, and, on general principles, preferable to the imported.

An Insane Man Dead.—A short time since "Big Steve" and another insane man from Cache Valley were brought down from the Insane Asylum, and given quarters in the city jail, where they could be more comfortable during the inclement season. Last night the Cache Valley man breathed his last. We have been informed that his was a case of hydrophobia, his madness resulting from the bite of a dog. If this information be correct, we believe this is the first case of that nature, so far as we are aware, that has occurred in the Territory.

That Panorama.—Messrs. Lam bourne and Kirkham are on the last picture but one of their splendid new panorama, a view of San Francisco, twenty-five feet long by eight and a half feet high and very good. The next and last picture of the series of sixty views from the Atlantic to the Pacific, will be the far-famed "Golden Gate," into which they propose introducing some beautiful effects, the time of day being sunset, in its golden glory. A contrivance will be arranged so as to have the water portion of the view in motion, when exhibited, and a moveable full rigged ship will appear upon the scene.

Stormy.—Another rainy night on Saturday night. It scarcely made a rain on Sunday. This morning it tried to snow, but failed to raise a storm.

Curiosities.—The following was handed in to-day—

MUSEUM, Nov. 20, 1875.

Editor Deseret News:

I have received, by the courtesy of Brother Levi Savage, a box of fossils from the south. No note has yet been received respecting them. I believe they were collected and sent by Mr. Siler, and I shall be glad to know the exact locality they are from. The specimens are of great use to our country, many of them are very perfect; they appear to belong to the cretaceous, or the early tertiary period. One fine specimen of ammonites placenta and two of scaphites conradii (?) are very fine. Besides these are other fossils of the ammonites vacuolites and also bivalves of much interest, with specimens of minerals. Very respectfully,

JOSEPH L. BARFOOT.

The specimens above alluded to have been shown to us and they are very curious and interesting.

Co-Operative.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Fifteenth Ward co-operative store was held the other evening. Brother Thomas E. Griggs had run the store for the past year, for the stockholders, on twenty per cent., and, after paying that, the business netted to the stockholders a dividend of another twenty per cent. The report showed that the concern was doing well, its business having increased during the past year, and there was an expression of universal satisfaction with the management of Superintendent Griggs. The latter made a proposition to give five per cent. of his twenty per cent. in the ensuing year for the benefit of the poor and other ward purposes, providing the stockholders would also apply five per cent. of their dividends for the same purpose, making ten per cent. to be in that way applied, which was agreed to.

A Noted Horse Thief.—Last evening Deputy Sheriff Florida arrived in the City with Charles Patterson, a noted horse thief, whom he succeeded in arresting at Sanpete. Patterson is the same party who stole a valuable stud horse, some time since, from Mr. Adam Sharp, at Rush Valley, but was pursued, captured, and brought to this City, had a preliminary examination, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, bailed out and disappeared. He is also charged with having been a leading hand in stealing the large band of horses, in connection with Tobin, that were captured by officer Florida in the vicinity of Corinne. He was also in a horse stealing scrape in the vicinity of Beaver, where he was placed in jail, but subsequently broke out and escaped, after which he stole a horse belonging to Bishop Murdoch from the latter's ranch, but was caught by the bishop's sons and the animals taken from him. In fact, he has figured in no end of stock stealing depredations, and is said, by those who presume to know, to be one of the most expert executors of the orders of the head of the gang to which he belongs that could well be imagined.

A Ridiculous Exhibition.—In response to a notice that was posted up in the Federal Court Room yesterday, inviting the members of the Salt Lake bar to assemble at that place, ostensibly to give an expression of their respect for Judge Boreman, who lately occupied the bench of this District, in place of Judge White, who was in ill health, the following and a few others assembled accordingly.—Mr. William R. Keithley, U. S. Marshal George R. Maxwell, Mr. C. W. Hall, Secretary Black, Judges McKean, Haydon, Strickland and Hemingray, Messrs. Burmester & Dilley, Woods & Gee, Robertson & McBride, Gilchrist & Clements, Rosborough & Merritt, Tilford & Hagan, Baskin & DeWolf, and one or two others. Judge Rosborough was appointed chairman, and Mr. C. W. Hall, secretary of the meeting. After the chairman had announced the object (?) of the meeting, R. N. Baskin, Frank Tilford and J. C. Hemingray were appointed a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sense (a difficult task) of the meeting.

After being out a few moments they returned with the following, which were read and adopted—

"Resolved, That the grateful acknowledgement of the bar of Salt Lake City, as well as the thanks of the entire community, are due to the Hon. J. S. Boreman, for the ability and dispatch which he has evinced in hearing and deciding a large number of cases during the time he has held court in the Third Judicial District of this Territory.

"Resolved, That during the short period of this assignment to the bench of this District, he has won for himself the respect of the profession by the liberos, prompt and courteous manner in which he has discharged the duties of judge of this court.

"Resolved, that we recognize and proclaim the fact that in Judge

Boreman the Federal Government has an able and honorable judicial officer, the Bench of the Territory an enlightened jurist, and the people a devoted friend, above corruption and beyond reproach, faithful as he is fearless in the discharge of all his duties.

"R. N. BASKIN,
"FRANK TILFORD,
"J. C. HEMINGRAY."

The secretary was instructed to forward copies of the resolutions to Judge Jacob S. Boreman, Attorney-General Pierpont, and President Grant.

Subsequently a committee was appointed to bring Judge Boreman into the room forthwith, which they did, when the resolutions thrusting greatness suddenly upon him were again read, in his hearing, and he absolutely replied in a manner that indicated that he believed the thing was really in good faith, and that the endorcers of those resolutions really thought him to be the superlative individual they (the resolutions) implied.

The part of the proceedings that appeared the most like genuine straightforwardness occurred while the committee on drafting resolutions were absent. We allude to the call of Judge Strickland for a speech from Judge Haydon, the latter, Mr. Strickland said, being the handsomest member of the bar present, and Judge Haydon's acknowledgment of the correctness of the "soft impeachment."

This is, of all the schemes of the same class in the same direction, the thinnest of all yet, and that is saying much, for some of their methods have been of the most transparent character. Could mortals conceive of a weaker plan for those parties to get their sentiments on a certain matter before the Chief Magistrate and the Chief of the Judicial Department of the Administration. Gentlemen, you should give the Attorney General and the President a little more credit for perception and ability to take in the situation.

In the usual way the people of the framers and endorcers of those resolutions, those few individuals who met in the Federal Court Room presumed to speak for the entire bar, probably about two-thirds of whom took no part in the matter, and also for the entire community of 100,000 people or more. The entire bar and entire community are certainly better able than anybody else to tell whether Judge Boreman is entitled to their thanks. If nearly the entire community have any gratitude to throw away upon people who have slandered and abused them they may have some to spare for Associate Justice Jacob S. Boreman.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, NOV. 22.

SALT LAKE HAS ANOTHER FIRE!

Loss Over $20,000.

About half-past six o'clock this morning Mr. Fairclough, the engineer of the machine shops of Messrs. Davis, Howe & Co., 17th Ward, was in the act of pouring some coal oil from one vessel to another, for the purpose of using it to get up steam, when a wrench fell upon and knocked a lighted candle into the fluid, causing an explosion and a terrific blaze, burning Mr. Fairclough severely and setting the building on fire. Mr. F. was so disabled as to be unable to do anything towards extinguishing the flames, which made rapid headway in the large two story machine shop, which was fitted out with a large quantity of valuable, improved iron working machinery. The alarm was soon given, and a number of citizens gathered to the spot, and, there being no possibility of saving the building on fire, they turned their efforts toward preventing the flames seizing the foundry and boiler shops, separated from the machine shop by a space of a few feet to the northward. The fire alarm having been rung at the City Hall and Wasatch engine house, the firemen and apparatus were on the spot as soon as possible. In the meantime the need of organization being apparent, Messrs. Samuel H. Hill and Fred J. May formed the citizens assisting into a couple of bucket lines and in this way good service was done, in saving the foundry, although that building is much charred on the south side. Streams were also thrown upon it from the fire engines, so water being thrown into the burning building, as to have done so would merely have had the effect of adding another element to more completely destroy the machinery by breaking it up. In a very short time the building was completely razed to the ground, and a force of men have been engaged to-day in picking pieces of machinery from among the debris. This fire is deplorable for many reasons, and can only be regarded as being, to a considerable extent, a public calamity. The loss falls heavily upon Messrs. Davis & Howe, the approximate estimate of their damage being at least $23,000, as follows—Patterns $8,000; damage to machinery $10,000; unfinished work, $2,000; building $3,000. None of this property was covered by insurance. Not only have they suffered this loss, but they have been employing between twenty-five and thirty hands, who are thus suddenly thrown out of employment. The establishment was essentially a home producing one, and the community can ill afford to lose such institutions. Messrs. Davis & Howe have been struggling along to get their business established on a permanent basis, and had succeeded in placing it on a sure footing by energy and enterprise and giving satisfaction to their patrons, when this calamity comes along and sweeps away their calculations as with a breath. Their misfortune elicits much public sympathy, and a strong desire to aid them to place their establishment in the condition it was before the fire caught it this morning. Many of the citizens showed a commendable liberality in aiding the sufferers, by the late fire at Virginia City this case, however, though more limited, comes nearer home, and probably therefore appeals more immediately to the good feelings of the citizens. This morning Hon. Wm. H. Hooper, who was on the spot during the fire, nobly proffered to head a list in aid of Messrs. Davis & Howe with a donation of $500. We also understand that Hon. George Q. Cannon proffered $100 for the same object.

Third District Court.—Monday, Nov. 22d.

The U. S. vs. William Driver, indicted for selling liquor at wholesale without paying special tax.

The following were empanelled and sworn a jury to try the case—

P. H. Lannan, Lucien Livingstone, Homer Brown, John Tingey, Allen T. Riley, S. J. Lees, Thomas R. Jones, David Evans, Chas. Reid, John W. Snell, Benjamin F. Dewey, Edward L. Butterfield.

Defendant was arraigned and pleaded guilty to selling one small keg of whiskey without paying the special tax. O. J. Hollister, witness for plaintiff. After argument the jury were charged and without leaving their seats rendered the following verdict—

"The U. S. vs. William Driver.

"We the jury find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment and recommend the prisoner to the mercy of the Court.

"P. H. LANNAN, Foreman"

The People, &c., vs. John Lee—Larceny.

The defendant having heretofore pleaded not guilty now appears and withdraws said plea and enters a plea of guilty. Wm. H. Folsom and James Garrett, witnesses for plaintiff, and A. K. Smith and Ed. B. McKean for defendant. Prisoner remanded to the custody of the sheriff till further order of Court.

The People, &c., vs. H. E. Gaines—Larceny.

Defendant was arraigned and pleaded guilty.

The judgment of the Court is that you be imprisoned in the penitentiary, at hard labor, for the term of two years.

The People, &c., vs. Nephi Vaughn—a assault with intent to commit a rape.

Defendant was arraigned and pleaded not guilty.

E. D. Hoge was appointed attorney for the defendant. Same jury as in the case of the U. S. vs. Wm. Driver were sworn in chief for the case.

The following witnesses were examined for the prosecution—

F. D. Benedict, Sarah Rance, James Woods, Elizabeth Heath, and Thomas Shreve.

The jury rendered the following verdict—

"We, the jury in the case of the People of the U. S., in the Territory of Utah vs. Nephi Vaughn, find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment.

"SALT LAKE CITY,
"Nov. 22nd, 1875.

"LUCIEN LIVINGSTONE,
"Foreman."

The prisoner was remanded to custody.

The People, &c., vs. Philip Shafer et al—murder.

John H. McCutcheon withdrew as defendant's attorney, and Wm. H. Haydon was appointed in his place, as attorney for defendant.

In respect to the memory of Vice-President Wilson of the U. S., the Court adjourned till 10 a. m. to-morrow, Nov. 23.

An Expensive Fish.—Thomas Atkinson evidently had an eye to being classed among a certain class of aristocracy on Saturday evening, when he snatched a large codfish from the front of the grocery and provision store of Mr. Thomas Patton, opposite the Theatre. He did not get away with the plunder, however, Mr. Patton proving too nimble of foot for him. He was secured and taken to the City Hall, where Justice Pyper fined him $20.

Firemen's Thanks.—The following was not received at this office till this morning—

At a special meeting of the Fire Brigade, held last evening at the Firemen's Hall, the following resolution was unanimously adopted—

Resolved, that we tender our sincere thanks to Messrs. Walker Bros. and Romney Bros., for their liberal cash donations; also to the proprietors of the Walker House, Overland House, Taylor & Cutler, John Haggell and others, for refreshments furnished us during the progress of the last two fires, viz., the Mat-thieson Block and First National Bank building, and that a copy of this resolution be furnished the DESERET NEWS and Herald for publication.

JOSEPH E. TAYLOR,
November 20th. Secretary.

LONDON, 19.—A special from Cettinge says that the Turks are assembling all their disposable forces in Bosnia and Herzegovina for another effort to revictual Goransko, a previous attempt having resulted in their defeat at Gatschko. The Turks have already concentrated a force of 15,000 men, while the insurgents have received reinforcements to the number of 60,000.

Count Von Arnim writes to the Times, indignantly denying the charge of Bismarck, that he thwarted the latter's policy by means of private influence with and communication to the Emperor and Empress.

A Berlin dispatch says that over 100 priests and canons of Rhineland have given notice of submission to the ecclesiastical laws.

This morning's Echo announces that on account of recent floods the sanitary authorities have declared a district of Bristol, with a population of 6,000, unfit for habitation until midsummer. Thousands of acres in the valley of the Trent will probably remain under water throughout the winter.

BOMBAY, 19.—The Prince of Wales started for Bardes.

LONDON, 22.—A Berlin telegram to the Times says, in the negotiations now proceeding for the settlement of the troubles in the Turkish provinces, the programme put forward by Austria includes a comparatively high degree of self-government for Christian communities in Turkey. Russia seems to demand only more faithful adhesion to the promises of reform already made by the Porte.

The trial of Henry and Thomas Wainwright, the former upon a charge of the wilful murder of Harriet Lane, in 1874, the other as an accessory after the fact, began to-day at the Old Bailey, Chief Justice Cockburn presiding. The case is known as the Whitechapel Road mystery, and has created the greatest excitement all over England.

The last storm was most disastrous to shipping craft, especially on the east coast. Fourteen lives are already reported lost, and many vessels are missing. The brig Elizabeth was wrecked off Whitby, and the bark Fairy Queen off Calais. All on board both vessels were lost.
