Here was a pretentious silk tile rolling down the paved street, chased by a nabob; there was the respectable derby of a business man playing leap frog with the "duffy" of a lad from the suburbs;

a little farther along was the festive newsboy knocking over idle bicycles in playing tag in midair with the "bum sky-piece" of a companion. Well, after a year and a half family went to Salt Lake. I had de-cided that I would stick to newspaper work. LOCAL BRIEFS.

Local weather experts, taking into ac-count today's wind, wisely foretell a "white Thanksgiving."

The Salt Lake county fruitgrowers will hold a meeting in the county build-ing on Saturday afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock.

General Agent Clay of the Union Pacific is reported to show still more improvement today. His illness of five weeks, however, has left him very week.

On motion of Councilman Siddoway, chairman of the public grounds com-mitte, the City Council last night ap-propriated another $500 to meet the expense incidental to planting lawns and constructing walks in Pioneer Park.

The meeting of the Eighth quorum of Seventy has been postponed one week to Friday, December 5th, owing to the Tweifth ward meeting house being used on the night of the regular meeting.

On Friday the milk trust schedule goes into effect. On and after that date, all milk tickets must be paid for in advance. As heretofore announced customers will only get sixteen quarts for a dollar instead of twenty as heretofore.

Tomorrow being St. Andrew's day well as Thanksgiving day, there will be two services at St. Paul's chapel, corner Fourth South and Main streets. At $:20 a. m. holy communica and at 10:30 a. m. the Thanksgiving service, when special music will be rendered.

The people of the Twenty-second ward will give a testimonial concernt this evening, in the meeting house, in honor of Henry Gardner, superintend-ent of the Sabbath school and ward choir leader, positions he has ably and successfully filled for several years. The program prepared is excellent.

Most of all do turkeys realize that this is the senson when men give thanks. Although there have been plenty of the birds exposed for sale the markets are beginning to show an appearance as nude as the carcasses of the birds themselves. Many a gobbler has lost its mate to the appetite of man, and the latter is glad from anticipation.

Chief Divine and alds of the fire department made a rapid run to 770 Seventh South about 10 o'clock 770 enst this morning in answer to an alarm of fire The blaze occurred at the residence of Mrs. Agnes Brown, and was caused by a spark from a flue. HE MARRIES THE GIRL.

Thomas A. Shannon Weds the Young Woman He Betrayed.

Thomas A. Shannon, the young man accused of ruining fifteen-year-old Cora Copenhaver, has kept his promis, made to Sheriff Howells on the way here from Pueblo, and immediately upon his reease from the county jail yesterday af. (m) ternoon he procured a marriage license and last evening he married the girl Justice of the Peace Sommer officiating. Shannon is twenty-four years old, and only last month was divorced from his first wife. There is some doubt ex-pressed as to whether his marriage yesthe locality terday will result in a dismissal of the charge upon which he was arrested. It is understood that Assistant County Attorney Gunter intends to prosecute the case, as though nothing had hap-pened since the defendant was extradited from Colorado. The expense out the county to in fetching him back, it is argued, is too great to admit of a dismissal; beside the affidavit filed dismissal; beside the affidavit filed against him before he could be legally brought back from another State leaves no other course for the county atto ney's office that to proceed with the prosecution. Mrs. Shannon, nee Copenhaver, may

Mrs. snannon, nee copennaver, may refuse to testify against her husband, and in that event the prosecution would perhaps be compelled to entertain a motion for dismissal. The hearing is set for Friday afternoon. It is learned that the child wife will soon be a mother.

final action be deferred upon certain petitions designated as. "F. Fritsch and others with regard to establishing a grade on North Main street between First North and Currant streets" and 'A. W. McCune and others" affecting same now before your honorable body for final consideration. In support of our petition we attach our signatures and present the following items for your honorable considera-

It is one of the most, if not the most important future street in the city

(b) It is the main approach to the State capitol grounds.

(c) The property abutting the pro-posed change is a very small percentposed age of the total property interested and affected (d) Every public spirited citizen in the city, and in fact, every resident of the State, is interested in having the best possible approach to the State cap-

(e) The proposed grade rate is excessive and not permissible in good municipal engineering practice where it can possibly be avoided. (f) The proposed grade, if adopted, would necessitate grade changes on every street running from the intersecon tion of East Temple and First North streets. This would be a particular injury to the streets running south and west (g) The proposed grade has no con-nection at its beginning with the other established grades of the city.

(h) The proposed grade line has an unsightly break in it at a point 330 feet from its beginning. (i) There are no plans or drawings to indicate what the completion of the proposed changes might be, (j) There is nothing to indicate that the proposed changes are supported by any engineering authority. This alone is a dangerous precedent.

(k) The proper solution of the prob-lems involved in this street and intersection demand the very highest engin-eering skill and consideration. (1) Any proposed changes of grade should be carefully studied and considered in relation to connecting grades. This apparently has not been done. Finished plans in detail should be presented for consideration before any final action is taken. Attached to the petition was a profile showing the established grade line and proposed change; also a map of
