ANOTHER TRIP FOR CHOR.

Invited to Attend Irrigation Congress at Sacramento This Year.

Ogden, May 16.—The Ogden tabernacle has received a flattering invitation from the National Irrigation Congress, which meets at Sacramento, California, this year, to visit the congress and sing the "Irrigation Ode." In all probability the choir will accept the invitation and go to the coast 200 strong. The hit which the choir made in its wonderful musical work at Portland two years ago won for it a warm place among the irrigators of the United States, as it is the only body of singers that have ever attempted the task of singing the "Ode." Should the choir decide to go to California this year, arrangements will be made for its appearance in concert in several of the larger cities en route, and in California. Ogden has cause to be proud of the choir.

ager of the Utah Hot Springs, while passing along Washington avenue near Twentieth street, was bitten yesterday by a bull dog, receiving severe wounds. The dog was standing on the sidewalk when Mr. Shealy came along, and without any cause it viciously grabbed him by the leg fastening its teeth deep into the flesh. The greater effort that was made by parties who came to his rescue the harder the dog held on. Once its hold was loosened, but in a flash the maddened canine again caught his leg between its jaws and could not be loosened until a tub of water was brought and the dog's head was held under the water until it was almost strangled and then its hold was loosened. Mr. Shealy was immediately taken in an automobile to the hospital, where the ugly wounds were dressed and it is believed no serious results will follow. The police were notified and killed the dog.

BASEBALL IN OGDEN.

A special meeting of those interested in Ogden having a baseball team this year was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the office of W. D. Bratz. After considerable preliminary talk an organization was formed to manage the club and to arrange with charge of the state for a schedule of games for the summer. J. G. Gimplin, better known as "Dad," who has ever been true blue to the Ogden base ball people, will manage the team and find the players. Already he has a list of several first class men from whom he will select those he desires. Ogden always has had the best baseball team in Utah and this year promises to find Ogden in the lead. The Greenwood park grounds will be repaired and placed in good condition so that the work can be commenced at once. The officers selected are Albert Scowcroft, president; H. A. Simms, treasurer; W. D. Bratz, secretary; J. P. Gimplin, manager; Elliot Kennedy, business manager; Directors, W. Fred Bossner, George E. Browning, F. A. Grant, Fred M. Whipple, Harry Paterson, Frank Peterson and J. P. Grant. Another meeting will be held at 8 o'clock Saturday evening to perfect plans for the season.

FUNERAL OF MRS. ETHERINGTON.

One of the largest funerals that has been held at West Weber for a long time occurred yesterday afternoon at the ward meetinghouse over the mortuary of Mrs. Margaret N. Etherington, one of the pioneer residents of the settlement. The house was filled with relatives and friends and a funeral cortege a quarter of a mile in length followed her remains a distance of eight miles to the Ogden City cemetery, where they were laid to rest by the side of her husband, Thomas Etherington. The funeral services were commenced at 11 o'clock, Bishop Robert McFarland presiding. The ward choir sang several selections, "Some Sweet Day" was sung by Lizzie Hunter. The speakers were Elders Archibald McFarland, George Hunter, Nathaniel Montgomery, William Purpington and Bishop McFarland, who spoke feelingly of the many virtues, noble traits of character and devotion to the gospel exhibited throughout life by the deceased, and comforted her posterity in the hope of a resurrection.

TAKEN UNDER ADVERTISEMENT.

Judge Maughan of Logan, who is occupying the bench in the district court, yesterday afternoon heard arguments on the motion of the defense for a new trial in the case of Viola Lewis against the Standard Publishing company and William Glasmann. The suit was tried several months ago and a judgment rendered against the publishers for $1,000 damages due to the publication of an alleged libelous article concerning the plaintiff. The motion is asked principally on the ground that an error was made in giving to the jury in the case to the jury as among them was included exhibit "B," another publication which had been withdrawn. The attorneys asked permission to subpoena the jurors who tried the case before the court that they might be questioned as to whether the exhibit "B" was taken into consideration by them in arriving at their verdict. The court was not fully advised as to the legality of such an action and therefore continued the further argument in the case until he could determine that point.

STEPPING HIGHER.

The faithful pilgrim, weary and footsore, struggles on to his journey's end. When the goal is reached and his efforts are crowned with success, what joy steals into his heart. The steep and rocky paths that once seemed so difficult to climb are forgotten in his great happiness.

We, my dear schoolmates, have been climbing upward for the last eight or nine years, sharing each other's trials, joys and sorrows. At last we have stepped higher. Now the foothills, later the mountains. We are now at the top of the foothills and before us, in shining, our present heights? Not by our own efforts alone.

Our parents have made many sacrifices to furnish us with all that we need for our education. Our principals, too, have given their time and attention to secure teachers for us and provide books. Our teachers have been with us every day helping and guiding us intelligently. Our principals, too, have aided us by giving advice and instructions to our teachers. Our distinguished county superintendent has helped us by instructing our teachers and giving us advice and, of course, examinations. Then to all these we give our heartfelt thanks.

Feeling that we have accomplished something and that we are prepared to go higher into the world of knowledge and meet the battles of life, we are gathered here today to celebrate our graduation. We are all so happy in the thought that the year's tasks and difficulties are over and that the bright summer vacation is before us.

Yet, in the midst of our joy a feeling of sadness comes to our hearts, for we, who have been schoolmates together during the happiest years of our lives are about to part. No longer shall we share each other's joys and sorrows in the schoolroom and on the playground. Some of us shall continue our studies in the high schools and universities, while others will go out in the world to cope with those who are climbing the ladder of experience.

Yet, schoolmates, let us keep a corner in our hearts for each other. Let us not forget the blessings and teachings of our school. Let us continue to strive for all that is high and noble, to become true men and women. Let us so think and act as we go through the world, that when our life's journey is ended we may all meet together where there is no sadness of farewell.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONFERENCE.

Harry Mathews Suffering From Paralysis—Promise of Good Fruit Crop.

Special Correspondence. Hyrum, Cache Co., May 14.—The annual conference of the Sunday schools of this stake was held on the 12th inst. in the stake building. Elders Joseph W. Summerhays and James W. Ure of the union board were present. The morning session was an officers' meeting and attended by representatives from all the Sunday schools of the stake. The afternoon and evening meetings were largely attended by the general public.

A fine two days rain, which concluded last night, has done a great amount of good to vegetation in general, and the late night frosts have left no perceptible bad effects on anything whatsoever. On previous years have the orchards of this city given promise of a larger yield than at present.

Harry Mathews was seized by a paralytic stroke about a week ago and has been bedfast and in a semi-conscious condition of mind since; he is not expected to recover.

BREAD DYSPEPSIA

The Digesting Element Left Out. Bread dyspepsia is common. It affects the bowels because white bread is nearly all starch, and starch is digested in the stomach, not in the stomach proper. Up under the shell of the wheat berry Nature has provided a curious deposit which is turned into diastase when it is subjected to saliva and to the pancreatic juices in the human intestines. This diastase is absolutely necessary to digest starch and turn it into grape sugar, which is the best form, but that part of the wheat berry makes dark flour, and the modern miller can't readily sell dark flour, so Nature's valuable digester is thrown out and the human system must handle the starch as best it can, without the help that Nature intended.

Small worms that are called pinworms, constipation, and all sorts of trouble exist, when we go so contrary to Nature's law. The food experts that perfected Grape-Nuts flour, knowing these facts, made use in their experiments, of the entire wheat and barley, including all the parts, and subjected them to moisture, and long continued warmth in which allowed time and the proper conditions for developing the diastase, outside of the human body.

In this way the starching part is transformed into grape sugar in a perfectly natural manner, without the use of chemicals or any outside ingredients. The little sparkling crystals of grape sugar can be seen in the pieces of Grape-Nuts. This food therefore is naturally predigested and its use in place of bread will quickly correct the troubles that have been brought about by the too free use of starch in the food, and that is very common in the human race today.

The effect of eating Grape-Nuts ten days or so will be seen in the disappearance of ordinary white bread, is very marked. The user will gain rapidly in strength and physical and mental health. "There's a Reason."

PLYMOUTH.

SUCCESSFUL SCHOOL YEAR.

Pupils Make Good Record—Principal Charles Wright Honored.

Special Correspondence. Plymouth, Boxelder Co., May 11.—On the 10th inst. the district school ended a very pleasant and successful eight months' term. More than the record number of children on the census list were enrolled and an attendance of 95 per cent is the record, and 96 per cent of the pupils enrolled passed to a higher grade and all in the eighth grade were graduated.

The closing exercises were highly appreciated by the parents, and the teachers were agreeably surprised by receiving tokens of respect from the pupils in the different grades.

On the 9th inst. the people of the village sprang a surprise party on Mr. Charles Wright, the teacher of the school and the brass band, while the "boys" were at their regular practice. A substantial present was one of the features of the surprise, while speeches, ice cream, and the usual accompaniment of the substantial life mingled through the next term.

A CURE FOR ECZEMA AT LAST

Remarkable Cures Now Reported—A Sample Bottle Offer.

Eczeema and kindred diseases have often been declared incurable, but the D. D. D. Prescription indicates that a remedy has at last been found which really will and does remove this curse from thousands of sufferers.

Doctors from every part of the country indicate that people are being cured of eczeematous diseases by the simple external application of D. D. D. Liquid. A few drops applied give INSTANT relief. Then gradually the skin is cleared and finally not a vestige of the disease remains. The cures are permanent, at any rate no cases of a recurrence of the disease have been reported.

The first bottle of D. D. D., Fred W. Morrill, of 323 E. 9th Street, New York City writes, "cured me personally of a stubborn and exasperating case of weeping eczeema, for which I had vainly tried several prominent physicians."

You can get this remedy at Druehl & Franken, druggists, 271 So. Main St., Salt Lake City, or a sample bottle for cents direct from the D. D. D. Company, Suite B, 112-126 Michigan Ave., Chicago.
