UTAH, PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE. LECTURE IN THE OGDEN TABERNACLE. On Sunday evening, Mr. R. W. Sloan, of this city, who is now engaged in the compilation and publication of the Utah Gazetteer, delivered his lecture, "Dtah: Past, Present and Future," in the Tabernacle at Ogden. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement Association. The building was lighted by electricity, and notwithstanding the brief time between the announcement and the lecture, and the fact that two large meetings had been held on Sunday, there was still a large attendance the Tabernacle being full. The lecturer was introduced by Brother Joseph A. West, and, after a brief apology, plunged into the subject. The lecture
