

AT HOME AND ABROAD.

can give the relief needed. Home goods must be used and our laborers kept at work, instead of being forced to accept a morsel from the hand of charity.

Five thousand men and women are seeking employment now. About 5,000 are now employed in our factories; $5,000,000 is our annual manufactured product, while goods worth $20,000,000 are bought in a great proportion of which could just as well be produced at home.

Increase the factory production by increasing the demand to a point where our present factories will be working to their full capacity and the problem of the unemployed will be solved. Will not this be true charity? A persistent demand for home-made goods will insure solid factory interests, and a part of the millions now withheld will be turned into industrial channels. What must be done to open the eyes of the people? Home industry has a disagreeable sound to man. It ought to be a bugle-call to duty now. Talk will not answer any longer. Give us your sympathy and support, and we will rouse the people from their apathy and indifference. Honor the founders and pioneers by supporting the industries they established. Give proper encouragement to the present movement to revive a loyalty and patriotism to home interests and we will have prosperous cities. Support the efforts of the Manufacturers' bureau and we will carry out a movement in the cities and towns throughout Utah which will be felt from Helena to St. George, and to the East and West.

The intermountain region once thoroughly aroused to the importance of supporting and protecting its own, will push to success an industrial revolution, and establish such reciprocal trade between the intermountain towns as will transform the now discouraged and dependent people to rich and prosperous communities.

We want your suggestions and we must have your assistance. We ask you to carefully consider the present situation, and do everything in your power to promote the interests of Utah's factories. Use home-made goods yourself and in your families, and see that your friends and neighbors are alive to the importance of this work.

THE MANUFACTURING BUREAU.

By C. E. Wantland, Secretary.

The Manufacturers' Bureau, Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce.

THE COUNTRY would willingly stand a heavier tax on some things if their lawmakers wouldn't insist on taxing patience so heavily.

It is a strange and uncommon freak of statesmanship and patriotism and affection for "home industry," that one day manifests itself in continuing to exempt all mortgages from taxation, and another day concludes to continue the exemption only of mortgages held by outside capitalists. The title of the bill that passed the lower house ought to be changed so that it would read: "a bill to invite local capitalists to seek homes in some other state, but to encourage them to leave their money here."

NOT WITH any notion of its direct local applicability, but rather with a view to emphasizing a comparison, we note the fact that in the Connecticut legislature just lately a law came very near being enacted providing that any dog accustomed to growl, snap or bite should be fined $7 or be imprisoned ten days, or both, and there is a law actually on the statute books that punishes wild duck, wild geese, quail and woodcock for the crime of being killed out of season.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 5.—George N. Henson, president of the Citizens' Bank & Trust company of this city, this afternoon shot and killed Colonel J. B. Wert, until recently a man of the highest standing in every respect in this city. Lavans Thomas, a young lawyer, who was a bystander, was struck in the arm by a shot accidentally and painfully wounded.

After the tragedy Henson coolly proceeded to the law office of Pritchard, Sizer & Bible, whom he engaged as counsel, and then telephoned to the sheriff.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The bill by Senator Dubois of Idaho, to give several Western states one-fourth of the money received from them by the government for mineral lands to support schools of mines has been adversely reported by the House committee on public lands.

TANGIERS, Feb. 6.—General Campos has been received by the Sultan of Morocco, who in a public speech, declared his intention of administering exemplary punishment on the Rifis. This is the first time in centuries that the sultan of Morocco has spoken in public.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The Democratic members of the Senate committee on finance have decided to grant no hearings on the tariff bill. Voorhees was authorized to prepare a statement of the reasons actuating the committee. It is understood he will say that in the present condition of the business of the country time is an essential element in the settlement of the tariff question and the committee could not allow the hearings to go on indefinitely and could not cut them off in the middle without doing an injustice to some interests.

The Republicans will probably make a vigorous protest and will likely ask to have the bill recommitted.

HERMOSILLO, Mexico, Feb. 6.—A campaign against the rebellious Yaqui Indians of northern Mexico is being organized by General Loise Torres, which, it is hoped, will be effectual in completely breaking the power of this troublesome tribe. A campaign to the death will be inaugurated. It is intended that it shall not come to a close until the Yaquis are exterminated, if that is the only way they can be subdued. If escape is attempted across the border to the United States to form a union with their cousins, the Apaches, McCook of Denver, a close friend of General Torres, will cooperate with his troops in Arizona and New Mexico in bringing the Indians to surrender.

DENVER, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Carr, wife of Harvey L. Carr, the attorney murdered at his home Sunday night by supposed burglars, was arrested this afternoon, charged with complicity in the crime. Besse Therwood, Jim Tracy, a gambler, and Ted Dolson, friends of Mrs. Carr's, were also taken into custody.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 6.—The war department this year has reports of the militia from the adjutants-general in every state. The reports show 9,270 commissioned officers, 102,912 enlisted men in the national guard, and about 9,000,000 men in the unorganized militia.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Feb. 6.—(J. W. Schofield, the first man to make railroad and bar iron in the South, died, aged 80. He went to Atlanta in 1859 and during the war made armor for confederate vessels.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Indications at the opening were that a Democratic quorum would be secured to pass the McCreary resolution condemning Minister Stevens and approving the course of Cleveland; declaring against the annexation or assumption of a protectorate over Hawaii, but Reed renewed filibustering by making the point of order that the adjournment last night did not vacate the proceedings under the call of the House to enforce attendance and that the only thing in order was the report of the sergeant-at-arms; or, if the Chair held that all proceedings terminated by the adjournment it also vacated the order revoking the leaves of absence. The Speaker overruled the point of orders holding that all proceedings under the call terminated with the adjournment and that the order revoking the leaves of absence executed itself. The roll was then called on the passage of the McCreary resolution. The Republicans refrained from voting and the Democrats failed to muster a quorum, the vote being 174 to 3.

Springer made the point of order that as there were four vacant seats 177 instead of 179 should constitute a quorum. After some debate the point of order was sustained and the resolution was declared passed.

After some sharp sparring between Reed and the Speaker on points of order, it was by unanimous consent decided to have another roll call and the Speaker withdrew his former decision. When it became apparent on the second roll call that the Democrats would have a quorum, the Republicans voted against the resolution. It passed, 177 to 75.

BARBOURSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 7.—News comes from Mount Pleasant that Dr. Wm. Nolin, a prominent physician, entered a barber shop in which was John Turner, leader of the Turner side of the famous Howard-Turner feud in Harlan county. Both began shooting and Turner fell dead. Then Will Turner, uncle of John, appeared and he and Nolin worked their way into the street fighting with knives. After a desperate struggle Turner was killed. Hill Howard, leader of the Howard faction, was hanged in Missouri last month.
