FUNERAL services over the remains of the late B. F. Randolph were held at the residence of the deceased's father-in-law, Mr. A. S. Knowles, on south State street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Randolph's demise occurred on Sunday last after a severe illness of three weeks' duration. His death was directly due to congestion of the brain. Mr. Randolph was at one time city recorder of the evening Times-Herald and had been engaged in the insurance business with A. Co'ding since. He was well and widely known in Salt Lake. He was but thirty years of age. A host of friends join in the sorrow of the young wife, whom he married June last.

A reception was given to many of the friends of the parties which was a fine affair and a large number of elegant presents were delivered the happy couple. The notice is a little late, press of matter having crowded it out of previous issues, but all the same our congratulations are cordial and heartfelt.

Relief Society Conference.

The fourth April conference of the Relief Society will be held in the Salt Lake Assembly Hall, in this city, Tuesday evening, April 5th, 1892, at 7 o'clock. On account of the greatness of the occasion of this general Conference of the Church, and the multiplicity of business, the Relief Society will have but one meeting, therefore a general attendance is essential. JURORS FOR THE APRIL TERM.

Sealed Request by a Prisoner.—Judge Anderson on the Sending of Simple Cases to the Third District Court.

Upon taking his seat on the bench of the Third District court this morning, Judge Anderson announced that on Tuesday morning next there would be a sitting of civil cases for the April term; also the criminal cases if the prosecuting attorney was ready by that time.

NINE TO THREE.

Having been under lock and key all night considering their verdict in the case of Frank Meldrum, tried yesterday on a charge of adultery, alleged to have been committed with Mrs. Niels Rasmussen, the jurors, all wearing a weary and haggard look, filed into court a few minutes after ten o'clock this morning, and took their seats in the jury box. A whisper had already gone around to the effect that they had been unable to reach the point of unanimity, and the truth of this was soon made evident.

Judge Anderson inquired with a look full of meaning—Gentlemen have you agreed upon your verdict?

The foreman—No, sir.

The Judge—What appears to be the difficulty? Is it on questions of law or facts?

The foreman—Facts, I guess.

The Judge—Don't you think there is a prospect of your agreeing?

The foreman—No, sir, I think not.

The Judge—Do you stand now as you did some hours ago on that?

The foreman—Yes, sir.

The Judge—How long since there has been any change of opinion among you?

The foreman—Since late last evening.

The Judge—You have been deliberating all night.

The foreman replied yes.

The Judge—Do you think you could not by further consultation agree upon a verdict?

The Foreman—I do not think we can.

The Judge then discharged the jurors for the present.

Prosecuting Attorney Varian said the case might be continued for the term.

Judge Anderson — The defendant will be admitted to bail, on his own recognizance of $500.

The jurors stood nine for conviction and nine for an acquittal.

A CASE FROM BOUNTIFUL.

Upon the application of Judge Powers, and with the consent of Assistant District Attorney Stephens, the case of Heber Cooper and Etta Fowles, of Bountiful, indicted for adultery, was continued until May 17th.

GOES OVER TO THE TERM.

Judge Powers asked that the trial of George H. Jackson might be continued for the term. Counsel presented an affidavit in support of his motion, the ground set forth being that the defendant—who is now in the penitentiary—was not prepared to go to trial owing to the absence of his principal witness, Alfonso Mathew. A subpœna had been issued and every possible effort made to reach him, but so far without success.

Assistant District Attorney Stephens offered no objection, and the case was ordered to stand over.

Jackson is indicted for having committed perjury as a witness on the hearing of a case in the Third District court in which Mathew brought an action a few months ago against the Street Railroad Company on account of his ejectment from a car by one of the conductors.

THE BOWMAN-OLSEN TROUBLE.

The case against Bowman, the constable, and Chas. Olsen, charged with forgery in connection with the county building matter, was continued until the 10th of May.

SELECTING GRAND JURORS.

The drawing of names of grand jurors to serve at the ensuing April term was then being in order. The following were drawn:

Joseph Irvin, P. J. Fabian, P. A. Virtue, Chas. B. Felt, Joseph W. Collis, Walter Grant, Marius Reunion, John Green, Hyrum Grant, W. S. Crismon, W. D. Daley, Isaac Post, Lewis Korn, Jas. Franklin, Ed. W. Nelson, Hugh Dalton, Joseph Mitchell, John Longmaid, Frederick Gross and H. J. Greisbach.

PETIT JURORS.

The names of fifty-eight gentlemen to serve as petit jurors during the coming term were also drawn.

They were as follows:

Witcher Jones, David Proctor, John Parry, A. D. Bieber, Chas. H. Hyde, T. E. Stringer, Mark McGuinnis, C. A. Dahl, Joseph Overturf, James Mickelson, Chas. Mayberry, John A. Groesbeck, Hermann Hill, Samuel J. Paul, Homer Robertson, Newton Leonard, John Oswald, Henry Schofield, Charles Sharp, David S. Emery, Jesse B. Burbidge, J. J. Jenkins, John J. Sopper, Lewis C. Shaw, Walter J. Beattie, Robert Palmer, Joseph Williams, F. H. Tovey, W. F. Calton, John N. Daily, Eli Robinson, Lewis Smith, Wm. Bywater, E. A. Kessler, Stuart Stevenson, Wm. McLaughlin, Herman Bamberger, Geo. T. Tate, Frank Terry, J. E. McIntyre, George Collins, Thomas Carter, C. M. Bell, Joseph Sisson, John Anderson, C. L. Hannauer, J. W. Thornley, Jno. Dinsmore, D. C. Dunbar, Elmer Darling, Wm. A. Burks, Chas. Gelch, Lars McCartney, N. A. Hanenhoff, Geo. H. Tovey, C. A. Carlquist, A. J. Gunnell, Van R. Brooks.

The venires were made returnable on April 11th.

A PRISONER'S CHOICE.

George H. Jackson, who had previously pleaded not guilty to a charge of attempting to commit grand larceny, now withdrew his former plea and plead guilty.

Attorney Newton, on behalf of the accused, begged for the utmost leniency. He said that Jackson was only 18 years of age and had already been confined in the county jail and penitentiary for nearly three months. This was the first time he had been arrested on any charge. Upon the expiration of his imprisonment he had the means of earning an honest livelihood.

In answer to the Court defendant said he came from Seattle, Washington, where his parents now reside. He was a compositor by trade and came to this city the night before he was arrested.

Judge Anderson—You seem to have commenced "business" very soon after coming here.

It was stated that the offense committed by the defendant consisted of thrusting his hand into the pocket of a lady named Gilbert and trying to steal her purse.

The Judge (to defendant)—Do you admit the fact?

Defendant—No, but I think the way the evidence goes I would be convicted and therefore I would like to plead guilty.

Judge Anderson sentenced the prisoner to six months in the county jail.

Jackson—Can't you fix it so that I can have my time in the penitentiary instead of the county jail? I would rather have it there, as I am troubled with heart disease.

The Judge (smiling)—No, I could not make that satisfactory; there is no provision for it.

VERY HIGH.

William D. Horton, who was defended by Mr. Harris, was next called forward for trial on a charge of petit larceny—stealing a pair of shoes valued at $5, belonging to one Fritz Sterzel.

When a jury had been empaneled and sworn, prosecuting Attorney Stephens discovered that a couple of witnesses for the prosecution were absent. He applied that the case might be continued for the term, and the defendant admitted to bail on his own recognizance.

Mr. Harris—We object to that. The defendant is ready here for trial.

Judge Anderson remarked that to the jury had been sworn the case could not be continued.

Mr. Stephens—Then I move to dismiss it altogether. It is a small offense anyhow, and the defendant has been in prison some three months awaiting trial.

Judge Anderson—It seems to me, from what I know of the matter, that this man ought not to have been indicted here. Such cases as this ought not to be allowed to take up the time of this court. They should be taken in the Police court. The time of this court should not be wasted on such small matters.

The defendant was discharged from custody.

[Assistant City Attorney Elsbner informed the News representative that the complaint in the case of Horton was in court on a charge of house-breaking, he having entered the Germania hotel and stolen the pair of shoes from one of the rooms in the premises. It appears that the offense was changed to petit larceny by the grand jury who found the indictment.]

ATTORNEY DEILLY IS ACCUSED—RATTED.

Conway Gorman, George Williams and Harry Mowbray, a tough looking trio of young men, who were defended by Attorney W. C. Deilly, were next called to trial on a charge of burglarizing the residence of Mrs. Hall. The circumstances were reported in the News at the time.

While a jury was being chosen, Prosecuting Attorney Stephens entered that, by a clerical error, the words "in the night time" had been omitted from the indictment, and therefore moved that the case might be re-submitted to the next grand jury.

But Attorney Deilly said he was ascertained of the prisoners' innocence that he would prefer to have the case disposed of now. He consented to the indictment being amended forthwith, and so the trial went on. It opened just before noon.

TO TAKE DEPOSITIONS.

In the case of Emma Smith vs. Charles Smith, a motion was allowed to take the depositions of plaintiff at her suits, which are not to be taxed.

ADMITTED TO CITIZENSHIP.

Charles Augustus Haacke, a native of Russia, and now a resident of this city, was admitted to citizenship.

ARABIAN FAKIRS

Arrested for Assaulting a Business Competitor.—Juvenile Jerk Peddlers.

The police, last night, took into custody Nijub Shey and Solomon Shey, on a charge of assaulting one Solomon Odora, a rival in the business of peddling cheap wares. The men are all Arabians, and it seems have been going from house to house selling, displacing of their goods. The Sheys are said to have, it is alleged, set upon Odora, who appeared to be more successful than themselves. A quarrel ensued, which resulted in blows on the part of the Sheys, and the arrest of the two brothers. They deposited $10 each to secure their attendance in court this afternoon.

Odora was also required to put up $5 to guarantee his appearance as prosecutor. He now stands charged with fighting.

Freddie Morton, George Young, Charles Young and Reg. Chapman, alias "Dinky Bob," are languishing behind the bars on a charge of peddling stolen junk. The court has ordered the parents or other relatives of the accused to appear and state their general reputability.

Miss Sallie Black, the dinky maiden who created a disturbance of the peace at the Lincoln House, was fined $5, in default of which she will be required to do service for five days in the jail kitchen.

Three drunks were mulcted in the sum of $5 each.

CHARLES ELLIS.

IT COST HIM DEARLY.

Thirty-Six Days' Imprisonment For One Too Free Exercise of an Unbridled Tongue.

John Moore, a loquacious and dissolute character, appeared before Justice Lee this morning, on a charge of using abusive language. He pleaded not guilty but was adjudged otherwise. Moore is an old sailor and a cripple and is exceedingly quarrelsome and abusive. On the occasion of his arrest he had clustered upon the sidewalk considerable to such an extent that the pedestrian of the lady was asked. The officer who took him into custody was the object of his vilest effusions, and at police headquarters the municipal authorities were all dumbfounded in astonished terror. In the cell in jail a row was raised between the prisoners, several of them were assaulted by Moore, who wielded the stumps with extraordinary and unlooked for physical prowess, but unless his original proclivities are greatly changed he is ugly and dangerous character. His indulgence in belligerents will cost him thirty-five days of confinement in the city jail.

The Rising Tornado.

The trial of the Northland-Mayflower mining case was resumed in Judge Zane's court this morning, when the plaintiff's counsel called John Longmaid. He testified that he had made an examination of the workings shown on the maps and the result was about the same as that arrived at by other witnesses. Mr. Longmaid stated that he had determined the character of the formations encountered chiefly by the acid test, which, when applied to limestone, gave a rebound, while there was no appreciable effect when the acid was applied to quartzite.

For the purpose of showing the unreliability of this test, Mr. Dickson had the witness pour acid on what Mr. Longmaid called quartzite and then upon his specimen of limestone. The reaction on the latter was quite as noticeable as on the other, and in order to make the test perfectly fair, Mr. Dickson took the quartzite and poured the acid upon the fresh face, where it boiled more noticeably than before. These experiments were watched with great interest by the jury, and after the witness had been excused to come examine the witness at great length, and Mr. Longmaid was still on the stand when the court adjourned at 12:30.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

A Conflict Between Cooks and Waiters.

PARIS, March 29.—In spite of the intended action by the government, the national fêtes gathered in great numbers last night to celebrate the anniversary of the birth of John Comenius, the Bohemian reformer. The police charged the crowd with drawn swords, the latter resisted with sticks and stones and the police were assisted by the national guard and many arrests. Later the crowd assembled again at another point and discussed the mistaken policy of arresting, and shooting at, Comenius. The police charged again and another battle ensued, resulting like the former. The crowd then started for the Jewish quarter in wreak vengeance on the Hebrews. On the road they were met by a detachment of mounted police and refused to disperse. The police charged their horses into the crowd, slashing right and left with their swords. They met stubborn resistance and it was only after using the flat of the sword and shooting a second charge that the rioters were put in rout, very many of them with severe sword wounds or wounds from pistol shots received upon the horses. They were removed to the hospitals, their wounds dressed, and then locked up. All is quiet today, and no further trouble is feared.

The Free Coinage Movement.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Senator Stewart says he would be willing to let Monday more to take up the Bennetch-Bill to provide for the free coinage of gold and silver.

The Bering Matter.

LONDON, March 29.—Although the foreign office does not confirm the statement which is reported from a high official source, that Lord Salisbury received a dispatch from the British minister at Washington announcing that the United States has agreed to the proposal submitted by the British government that the Bering sea matter contained in Salisbury's dispatch of March 26, color is given to the report by a fact announced this morning. Alexander Sidney Hill, who is to the government's counsel, was to ask a question in the House in regard to the situation of the Bering sea question, to which Balfour would draw from the government what is desired to make public. When, however, the House met at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Hill did not ask the question. The result of the negotiations are known here to be a triumph for English diplomacy. It is stated that the position of the United States is greatly due to political considerations.

The St. James' Gazette voices these satisfactory views, saying that as President Harrison thinks he has done enough for election purposes, and having taken his high horse he will be content to sit on it and ride it with a very dignified affability. "There is something unspeakably irritating," the Gazette says, "in the Yankee blustery about the President being gratified with the present attitude of the British government. The attitude of Great Britain was only made difficult by outlandish demands."

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The upward tendency of the stocks continued. After 11 the early hours were generally reversed. Gains were recorded in dullness in some cases, though outlook is still prominent and fluctuations confined to small fractions. At noon the tendency was dull, some generally at a shade above the first prices.

The teachers in the public schools have received no salary since last fall and are in almost as bad a condition as the children.

Spreckels's Sugar Refinery Sold.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—John Spreckels has confirmed the sale of Claus Spreckles of the California refinery, to the sugar trust.

The Anarchist Terror in Paris.

PARIS, March 29.—The police are extraordinarily active since the bomb explosion, and many arrests are being made. The city is in a state of excitement and it was necessary to issue stringent measures for the prevention of further outrages. The residence of prominent people are guarded night and day and night. The arrest, ex-minister of justice has received a threatening letter. Judge Benoit, against whom the explosive was directed on Saturday night was arrested, but soon released on bail. Dynamite was found, but soon notified to quit by the landlord, who says if the judge remains the tenants will leave.

The Figaro publishes interviews with two leading anarchists. They declare that the anarchists of the party of action will not rest until they have accomplished their destruction. Both anarchists delighted with the moral effects of the explosions, which they say, would direct the greatest attention to their doctrines.

The Threat.—"Brown's Bronchial Troches" act directly on the organs of the voice. They have a wonderful curative effect in all disorders of the throat.

I have not used all of one bottle yet. I suffered from catarrh for twelve years, experiencing the nauseating dropping in the throat peculiar to that disease, and nose bleed almost daily. I tried various remedies without benefit until last April, when I saw Ely's Cream Balm advertised in the Boston Budget. I procured a bottle, and since the first days' use have had no more bleeding—the soreness is entirely gone.—E. D. Daniels, with the Boston Budget, formerly with Boston Journal.
