

THE DESERET STOCK AND BEE ASSOCIATION.

The Deseret Stock and Bee Association had a meeting on Monday evening at the City Hall, at which there was a full attendance of members, and nearly all the gentlemen who had been appointed on committees were present.

The suggestions and views which have been at every meeting of this Society since its organization have been very profitable; the speakers have been men of ripe experience, many of them having been residents of these valleys since their first settlement and thoroughly familiar with the wants of the people and the capabilities of the country.

The example set by St. Louis, in adopting the "European Plan," in the legal registration of the prostitutes of that city, has induced the people of Chicago to take the subject under consideration, and for several weeks past the Chicago Times says, meetings have been occasionally held, in that city, largely attended by both men and women, for the furtherance and adoption of some plan, whereby the evils of prostitution may be reduced as far as possible, compatible with its existence.

Chicago has three thousand prostitutes, and in the amelioration of their condition, and in reducing the evils of the system to a minimum, the pious and philanthropic of all classes may find labor enough to keep them busy for an almost indefinite period.

UNDER the heading, "Growth of licentiousness" an exchange makes the following commentary on the morality of the times: "It is a shocking commentary upon the public taste that an indecent play, full of coarse double entendre, nudity and licentiousness, should actually attract more people and pay better as a theatrical venture than the finest drama in the language performed by the same persons."

THE Methodists of Kentucky seem to be awakening to the inconsistency with a religious profession, of the use of tobacco and intoxicating drinks. At a recent conference, in the Ashland District, in that State, they adopted the following, among other resolutions:

Resolved, That we will give our aid to all the means of promoting temperance, and will discourage intemperance in every form; and whereas, we believe the use of tobacco to be a species of intemperance, and we know it to be a useless and filthy habit; therefore, resolved, that we do all in our power to discourage its use, both by precept and example.

effects are remembered, in what direction can time and thought be used with better results?

NEW MAP.

Mr. Froiseth, who is employed in the Surveyor General's Office in this city, called upon us yesterday, and showed us a map which he has just finished, which exhibits the progress of the public surveys in the Territory of Utah. From the examination we were able to give the map we think it a very complete one, the surveyed lands throughout the Territory are marked with great distinctness and colored green, the mineral lands of all kinds, so far as known, are also marked, and the routes of the U. P. and C. P. Railroads, as well as the Utah Central, are traced with a correctness probably not equalled in any previous map; so far as the lands in their vicinity have been surveyed, they are absolutely correct.

He informed us that the township plats of the lands surveyed in the South will probably be in the Register's Office within the next two months—say the 15th of next January—at which time the people of the South can enter their lands.

More about the Re-capture of Dijon by the French!

WHAT THE PRUSSIAN PURPOSE DOING WITH FRANCE IF THEY TAKE PARIS!

NEW YORK.

The French Victorious Against Prussian Plans for the Future of France. NEW YORK.—The World's correspondent writes from Versailles, on the 10th: "I have made a tour around the whole German circle of investments, beginning at Sartraville, a point on the Seine, eight kilometers to the northeast of St. Germain, on the Laye. The army of the Crown Prince holds a double line of entrenched positions, extending from the west to the south east side of the city of Chelles, a point on the Marne, near the junction of the Strasbourg railroad with the river. This line is forty-five miles long, taking in St. Germain, nearly Versailles, Secaux, Chartre-Le-Roi, and Naisy Le Grande. The army of the Crown Prince of Saxony holds the line extending from Chelles, around the north and northeast of the city, twenty miles long, touching Monfermeil, Severan, Georges and Lanols. The troops are quartered in all the houses of the villages, and some in wooden barracks; they are so scattered that it is difficult to determine their strength. They are apparently so arranged as to be able to concentrate 60,000 or 70,000 men on any point attacked within two hours. To concentrate a larger force will require six or seven hours. There is no doubt that the health of the troops is greatly impaired, and that the sick list is daily growing more alarming."

The correspondent of the World at Dale, says Dijon has been re-captured by the French who, after a brilliant engagement drove the Prussians from the city. The Prussians are retreating north-east along the road leading through the towns of Marbeau and Martoche to Gray.

The reply of the British government to the demand of Russia, for the abolition of the treaty of '56 is understood to be weak and deprecating.

ALBANY, 15.—In a collision, to-day, on the Rensselaer and Saratoga Railroad at the junction, one baggage and two passenger cars were smashed, injuring two little girls, the conductor and the baggage man.

The correspondent of the World, at Versailles, writing on the 14th says that Moltke said yesterday, "Paris will be able to hold out about four weeks longer." I deplore the folly of France in refusing to yield, and the necessity of the devastation of the country. The opinion of the army concerning the entry of Paris coincides with that of Moltke. The men, however, are terribly anxious to get home. They don't care about seeing Paris now. The belief prevails among the officers that as soon as Paris is occupied, the majority of the troops will be quartered in the city and there remain all winter, superintending the Constituent Assembly and keeping wide circle of the country under subjection while the army of Prince Frederick Charles pacifies the rest of the country until the army, lately under Bazaine, is brought back to France to be used in strengthening the hands of the new government, with which peace will be made. At the head of this government will be Napoleon. This is the reason why Bazaine has been sent to Wilhelmshohe, and of continual communications between Napoleon, the King, Bismarck and the Imperialists of England and Belgium.

ALABAMA.

MONTEGOMERY, 15.—The Democratic State Ticket is probably elected by from 3,000 to 5,000 majority. The House will stand: sixty-five Democrats to thirty-five Republicans. About fifteen of the latter are colored. The last House was about eighty-three Republicans to seventeen Democrats. The Senate stands thirty-one Republicans to two Democrats. It is doubtful which party has the majority on the joint ballot.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON.—It is denied that the President has recalled Minister Motley.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

French Recruiting Office in Strasbourg—Capture of a German Village—Church Bells for Cannon.

LONDON, 15.—Advices have been received that the German village of Penna Jonna has been captured by a French gunboat.

The Vienna Cabinet is disappointed at Gladstone's dispatch on the Russian note, and likens him to Lord Aberdeen. In view of the possible movement of Russia southward, the British fleet of observation will be established in the Mediterranean, with Malta as the place of rendezvous.

jeaty's government on the subject, were adopted by acclamation. Bismarck denied the authenticity of a dispatch reported sent by him to the North German Minister at Florence. The Belgian government replied to the complaints of Prussia about the tone of Belgian journals, and says that the press is constitutionally free. The Prussian authorities, in Strasbourg, have discovered and broken up a recruiting office for the French service. The establishment, though conducted with great secrecy, had been in operation for two weeks and had enlisted and sent out 280 Frank-thiours. A Prussian column from the Rhine threatens the army of General Cambril.

Additional French reports confirm the recapture of Dijon. The churches in France are offering their bells to be cast into cannon. Prince Frederick Charles has reached the river Soane; his columns converge at Lens. He will cross the river to the assistance of Von Der Tann with an army estimated at 100,000 men.

RUSSIA. Circular of Prince Fortschakoff. ST. PETERSBURG, 15.—The circular of Prince Fortschakoff, concerning the treaty of Paris of '56 is dated October 31st. It recites the successive alterations and violations of the European treaties, and among them that of '56. He is unable to see why Russia should observe the latter, when it has been disregarded by others; therefore, Russia disowns its obligation to the limited enjoyment of the use of Euxine and invites the Sultan to enjoy equal rights with her. She has no wish to re-open the eastern question, and only aims at increasing her strength. The government has prepared, as a compromise, a substitute which is an arrangement of the question at issue on an equitable and, therefore, permanent basis.

FRANCE. VERSAILLES, 15.—The rear of the armies invest g Paris is protected by the arrival of fresh troops.

ITALY. FLORENCE, 15.—The Opinion believes that Russia's demands will be granted by the Powers.

THE DEVIL AND THE LAWYERS. The devil came to earth one day, And into a court-house he wended his way, Just as an attorney with a very grave face, Was proceeding to argue the point in a case.

Now a lawyer his majesty never had seen, For to his dominions none ever had been, And he felt very curious the reason to know, Why none had been sent to the regions below.

'Twas the fault of his agents his majesty thought, Why none of these lawyers had ever been caught, And for his own pleasure he had a desire To come to the earth and the reason inquire.

Well, the lawyer who rose with a visage so grave, Made out his opponent a consummate knave, And the devil was really greatly amused To hear the attorney so badly abused.

As soon as the speaker had come to a close, The counsel opposing then quickly arose, And heaped such abuse on the head of the first, And made him a villain of all men the worst.

Thus they quarreled, contended and argued, And long to determine the one in the ward, And concluding he'd heard quite enough of the fuss, Old Nick turned away and soliloquized thus:

"If all they have said of each other be true, The Devil has surely been robbed of his due; I'm satisfied now, 'tis all very well— For these lawyers would ruin the morals of hell."

"They have puzzled the court with their villainous cavil, And I'm free to confess they have puzzled the Devil. My agents are right to let lawyers alone; If I had them they'd swindle me out of my throne."
