

TREEPLANTING IN ORDER TOMORROW

Arbor Day Will be Observed in Salt Lake When Banks Will Close.

AT THE CAPITOL GROUNDS.

Gov. Cutler and State Officials Will Wield Shovels and Take a Hand in Ceremony.

Tomorrow being Arbor day general holiday hours will be observed in some of the institutions while the banks will be closed all day. The state, city and county officials will also plant trees, while the public schools, the University of Utah and other institutions will furnish manual labor wherewith to indulge in arboriculture on a large scale.

In the morning early Gov. Cutler and state officials will adjourn to the capitol grounds, where each present, including representatives of the press, will plant trees and inspect and identify those planted on previous Arbor days in the past.

Holiday hours will also be observed in the postoffice, where the following will be in order:

Money order window closed. Registry window, stamp window, forwarding window and general delivery window open from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. Carriers will make one early morning delivery covering the entire city. Hotel delivery at 7 a. m.

FIRST TRACK MEETS.

University Classes Line Up Today and High School Tomorrow.

This afternoon at the University of Utah the first athletic meet of the season is scheduled. It is an inter-class affair, intended to demonstrate what the new material is doing. Each class has a number of men entered, and a lively time is anticipated, with results that will give Coach Maddock a good line on his working force.

Tomorrow at the West Side High school a similar try out for the new men will be held, the entries coming in from all the classes.

DYING AT HOSPITAL.

Well Known Italian the Victim of a Paralytic Stroke.

I. Falcone, an Italian, doing business at 559 west Second South street, suffered a paralytic stroke yesterday afternoon, and since then has been at the Holy Cross hospital in a very critical condition. In fact, it was stated at a late hour this afternoon that the man was dying, and there was absolutely no chance of his recovery. Falcone has been conducting a fruit and candy store at the number indicated, and is quite prominent among local Italians, with whom he did considerable business.

It was stated at the Groves L. D. S. hospital this afternoon that Councilman Moses of Ogden, who was so badly injured in a fall at the streetcar week ago, was slowly improving and had passed the danger point.

R. C. McEwan, who for some time past has been sorely afflicted with complication of troubles, is at the Groves L. D. S. hospital doing well.

ADJUDGED INSANE.

Mrs. Fred Herdliaky Committed to the State Mental Hospital.

Mrs. Fred Herdliaky, a woman about 60 years of age, residing at 59 west Fifth South, was examined as to her sanity this afternoon before Judge Armstrong by County Physician Whitney and Dr. Osterman and was committed to the state mental hospital at Provo.

THE FIRST STRAW HAT.

It Appeared on the Street Today and Was a Genuine Panama.

He walked down East Temple street at noon accompanied by a lady. As he passed pedestrians stopped and gazed after him with interest. Some smiled, others looked at the sky. Then they looked at each other and said cheering things. He was a little man, but he attracted a big lot of attention. On his head reposed a Panama of the vintage '05. It was none of your last season's straw, but a real thing, dazling fine straw, fresh from the hatter's hands. The first straw hat of the season. As he drifted down the street pompous of salt and endeavoring to look unconcerned as a naughty lily-bred boy scoffingly yelled, "shoot the hat," a passer-by was heard to remark, "One swallow does not constitute a drunk any more than does one straw hat a summer."

SUMMER COLDS.

Lozenges from Quinine, the world-wide Cold Cure, removes the cause. Call for the full name and look for signature of E. W. Groves, Jr.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Louis Vendelboe of Logan is visiting with friends in Salt Lake City. She says she is enjoying herself immensely in the capital.

E. E. Abercrombie, the well known Brigham mine man from Boston, is at the Knutsford.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Lehman of New York are at the Knutsford. They are friends of Senator Bumberger and family.

Baron Leon Binet, director of the Indo-Chinese Commercial union at Tonkin, and wife, also, Mrs. P. V. Vanhagen, vice consul for Belgium at Manila, are at the Knutsford.

Senator Peter Clegg of Tooele, who is in town, reports that the recent storm has greatly benefited the Tooele range, so that stockgrowers will have a prosperous year in that section.

ORIGIN OF HOT CROSS BUNS.

The hot cross buns of Good Friday are really traced back to the pagan worship of the sun, and it is probable that the two conjoined female figures represent the virgin and mother of the British Druids or the dual aspect of the moon.

BOY'S MOTHER GOT THE SENTENCE

Juvenile Court Judge Gives Her Three Months in Jail for Neglecting Child.

THEN SUSPENDS PUNISHMENT.

Lads Who Were Caught Stealing Coal Tell the Court They Did So on Instructions From Parents.

Only two culprits were before the juvenile court this morning, but the mothers of both boys were also there, much to the sorrow of one of them as she was sentenced to three months in the county jail because she failed to look after her boy and keep him in school. It appears that she is a washwoman and had been allowing the boy to roam the streets instead of going to school and was even so little concerned about his welfare as to let the boy eat his meals at restaurants up town instead of cooking for him at home. She is the first adult to be punished by the court and was given the maximum penalty. Later in the day the court suspended sentence. Her boy is one of the four who stole some books from the Salvation Army barracks.

The other boy up before the court had been stealing various articles from stores and had attempted to secure $5.00 on a check which he found and endorsed. Five boys who were caught stealing coal from the Oregon Short Line yards yesterday afternoon were brought to the court this afternoon. It is very probable that the parents of the boys will also have to appear in court as the boys said they stole the coal upon instructions from their parents.

The other three boys who were with the Kinky boy in the Salvation Army theft were put in jail for a couple of hours yesterday afternoon by Judge Brown and were then put on probation.

PLAINTIFF WINS AGAIN.

Supreme Court Decides in Favor of L. P. Christensen in Damage Suit.

The supreme court handed down an opinion today affirming the judgment of the lower court in the case of Lars P. Christensen against the Oregon Short Line Railroad company, appellant. The action was brought to recover damages for the death of Alma Christensen, the 3-year-old son of plaintiff, who was killed by one of defendant's engines at a crossing a short distance north of the station at Brigham City on Sept. 26, 1903. The jury which tried the case returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $2,500, from which judgment defendant appealed.

It appears from the evidence that the boy was driving cows home from the pasture when the accident happened and he was attempting to keep one of the cows from crossing in front of the train at the time. The train was a special one bearing the officers of the road and was running at the rate of from 40 to 50 miles an hour when passing the crossing and when it struck the boy, who was running along the side of the track trying to keep the cows from in front of the train.

At the conclusion of the plaintiff's testimony defendant moved for a nonsuit on the ground that no negligence on the part of the company was shown and also on the ground that plaintiff was guilty of contributory negligence in sending a boy of such immature years to drive cattle over such a dangerous place. The motion was denied, as was also a request for the court to instruct the jury to return a verdict in favor of defendant. These rulings are cited in the appeal as error on the part of the lower court.

The opinion of the supreme court, written by Justice McCarty, and concurred in by Justice Straup, holds that the court did not err in either instance, as the evidence clearly showed that the train was being run at a much greater speed than the usual passenger trains and hence the company was negligent in not stopping the train in time to avoid the crossing and when it struck the boy, who was running along the side of the track trying to keep the cows from in front of the train.

COURT NOTES.

Suit has been filed in the district court by the Ontario Silver Mining company against Edwin D. Mellen and Henry F. Quint to recover the sum of $2,358.50, alleged to be the value of certain electrical equipments leased to defendants by plaintiff and also the sum of $115.75 alleged to be due for mining machinery sold to defendants.

Judge Morse has rendered a decree in favor of plaintiff in the case of George W. Lambourne against C. Frank Emery, John H. Hays and John A. Govett, quieting plaintiff's title to a certain piece of property which was sold under execution by the sheriff. The sheriff was ordered to execute a deed to the property to plaintiff.

The case of the State of Utah against A. E. Gerber was dismissed today by Judge Armstrong upon motion of Dist. Atty. Laubourou who asked to be relieved from filing an information against the defendant for the reason that the evidence is not sufficient to warrant the matter being submitted to a jury. Gerber was charged with having criminal relations with Addie Weyland on March 8, 1905.

DISAPPOINTED.

"Our new neighbors are lazy and shiftless," observed Mrs. De Thrust. "You may be right, my dear," commented her husband, who was reading. "I notice that there is not a single garment on their washline which has not several holes in it, and they are all pinned together."

Mrs. De Thrust hurried to the window, saw armholes and clothes pins, and left the room in anger. Mr. De Thrust chuckled, and assumed the position of a man who feared no further interruption.

Catarrrlets

Relieve Nasal Catarrh, allay inflammation, soothe and heal the mucous membrane, sweeten and purify the breath. Best gargle for Sore Throat, 50c. or $1.00. Druggists or mail.

Dyspeptics

Give instant relief in Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Nausea, all discomforts of indigestion and dyspepsia. Pleasant and economical. Medium size, 25c.; Large, 50c.; Pocket, handsome aluminum bonbonniere, 10c. Druggists or mail. C. I. HOOD CO., Lowell, Mass.

NIMROD JONES GETS THE LIMIT.

Bounty Frauds Man Pleads Guilty and is Sentenced to One Year in County Jail.

OTHERS CHANGE THEIR MINDS.

Judge Ritchie Repudiates Agreement And They Decide to Stand Trial.

One year in the county jail is the sentence passed upon Charles W. Jones by Judge Ritchie of the district court this morning for the crime of criminal conspiracy in connection with the bounty frauds in this county during the past six months. Jones entered a plea of guilty to the charge, and was given the maximum penalty for the crime charged. His sentence will run from Jan. 15, the date on which he was arrested, as he has been in jail ever since then.

Ed Hanna and Henry Martin, the other two men who intended to plead guilty under promise by the county attorney that they would be given a light sentence, changed their minds and pleaded not guilty, and will stand trial. An effort was made by the attorneys for Jones, Hanna and Martin to induce the court to stand by the agreement made in the lower court in regard to a light sentence for the men in consideration of their giving evidence in favor of the state in order to convict D. B. Davies and Will Phillips, but Judge Ritchie would not agree to any such proposition and insisted on giving them the limit. Jones finally decided to take his medicine, but the other two men will be tried.

LATE LOCALS.

Local dealers in live poultry report an active market, with the strongest demands for Plymouth Rocks and Minorcas.

Mons. Louis d'Allieres and Baron Boulay de Monthie of Paris are at the Knutsford, on a tour of the American continent.

Owing to the fact that tomorrow is a legal holiday the regular monthly meeting of the state board of pardons will be postponed until Monday.

Gov. Cutler, State Auditor Edwards and State Treasurer Christensen are in Provo today attending the regular monthly meeting of the state board of pardons.

Louis Durham, the latest addition to the local professional base ball talent, arrived this morning from San Francisco, and is stopping at the Southern hotel.

Two cases of smallpox in the Love family at 728 south Eighth West street, were reported to the board of health today. The patients are Roy and Clarence Love, aged 7 and 5 years respectively.

Arrangements have been completed for the public lecture to be given tonight in Assembly Hall by Dr. W. H. Ship of Boston. The public is invited to attend, and no admission will be charged.

The swimming pool at the Y. M. C. A. has been completed, and the water was turned in yesterday afternoon. The first individual to take a plunge was "Bully Inedict," Secretary Cox's little white dog.

There are 95 Raymond excursionists in the city today, looking the town over in the "Seeing Salt Lake" cars, and enjoying the invigorating climate, which they say is far preferable to the southern California.

A new and spacious kitchen and 40x60 foot dining room have been added to the accommodations at Saltair. The dining room will be used as a cafe, capable of seating 100 people, and where down town prices will obtain.

Quite a number of Utah school teachers will go to this summer to attend the annual meeting of the National Educational association, and then attend the biennial convention of the International Christian Endeavor society.

Hon. Spencer Clawson of the Portland committee will leave in a day or two for Portland, after consultation with the governor, to superintend the letting of contracts for the Utah building, and get things started. He will be away 10 days.

A barn belonging to Harry Evans of 427 west Fifth South street, was damaged to the extent of about $15 last night by a fire caused by some youths.

who were in the haymow smoking cigarettes. The apparatus from station No. 2 responded to the alarm, and the prompt work of the firemen saved the place from total destruction.

Active demolition of the old building on north Plumb alley has begun to make way for the erection of the new Orpheum theater, which is to go up on Commercial avenue. Applications have already been made for the advertising on the curtain and the program, and the rental of the store apartment for candy and confectionery.

A cement sidewalk has been laid on the east side of C street up from South Temple street, past the Presbyterian church, and the stone terealing abutting the street side of the rear section of the edifice has been completed. Everything will be ready by tomorrow evening for the occupancy of the Sunday school rooms Sunday morning.

Fifteenth Ward—The play "The Fruit of his Folly" presented in the Fifteenth ward annex last night by the Dramatic association of that ward was a pronounced success, and in every way met the expectations of the audience. It will be repeated tomorrow night. When it is expected that the audience will be even larger than it was the first night.

Willie S. Payne, president of the Consolidated National bank of New York, and the author of numerous works on banking, is at the Knutsford, en route east from a Pacific coast trip. He is west on business for his institution, and visiting with its far western correspondent, Mr. Payne is much pleased with the commercial, agricultural and mining conditions of the west, and is strengthening the business ties of his bank generally west of the Missouri river. He was around town today, calling on the heads of the various banking institutions in this city.

The Ensign State Sunday School union meeting will be held Monday evening, April 17, at 8 o'clock in the usual place; the Twenty-first ward meeting-house.

It is desired that every officer and teacher in the Sunday school of this stake be present, as matters of importance will be taken up in all departments.

GEORGE H. WALLACE, JOSEPH V. SMITH, ARTHUR W. BROWN, State Superintendency, A. J. SWENSON, Stake Secretary.

HUMOROUS.

First Denver Man—Wonder what Balaam had to say to his ass when he found the animal could talk?

Second Denver Man—Asked him how he was going to vote at the next election, I s'pose.

Gracey—Everything is of some use in the world.

Glady—I'd like to know of what use a horrid cold is.

Gracey—Oh, it comes in pretty handy when a girl has just received her engagement ring.

Man may as well beyond a doubt himself to woe resign.

No sooner does the watch come out than it goes back the selfsame route To buy a valentine.

"With whisky a-gettin' cheaper every day on the prospects good for a big crop," observed Colonel Nipper, "it's a might imprudent chap that won't finger on sprin' a little mint patch this comin' april'."

Waiting Swain—Let's walk down to the river and back.

Second Dittie—Cash, I'll take us an hour! We ain't got time.

Waiting Swain—Yes, we have. The parson has just said "One word more and I am done."

The ear has frequently readvoted Of how a king may lose his headvitch; So when mobs appear frisky The ear takes no risk; But hustles right under the bedvitch.

Nordy—I wonder if the senate ever did anything promptly?

Butte—I expect is acted pretty promptly in 1914.

Nordy—What happened then?

Butte—The British set the building on fire.

"You can't fool all of the people all of the time," stated the man who is fond of moral reflections.

"No," responded Senator Shugar, "but you can fool enough of the people enough of the time to graft out a party respectable little bank roll, an' that's all that interests this chicken."

"Burned in Edgely! My, that's bad," said tender-hearted Farmer Tate.

"An' as fer me, I'm downright glad 'That Edgely ain't in our state."

"Well," said Jenkins, in response to an inquiry, "there's Mrs. Starvins; you can get board there by the week."

"But I've been there, and got bored in less than a week; the fare was so monotonous."

"I hear your wife gave you a good rating last night," remarked the sporting citizen.

"Yes, she gave me a good rating," admitted the convivial citizen. "Such a good rating, in fact, that it's a pity I can't use her as a reference instead of Bradstreet."

HOME MUSICIANS IN STIRRING DUET

Prof. Skelton Executes Extraordinary Solo for Benefit of Baritone.

STORM SCENE WAS VERY LIVELY

"Molly" Worthington Came Out Undamaged, but Was Mighty Mad and Breathed Vengeance on Victor.

There was a little prelude, toccata and fugue in the studio of Sir S. Molyneux Worthington, Bart., yesterday afternoon, which it would be difficult for Prof. Skelton, talented though he is, to represent on the Tabernacle organ, unless accompanied by an explosion of fire works inside the great instrument. It seems that George Skelton, the well known violinist, in a moment of uncalculated tender heartedness and superabundance of sympathy, responded affirmatively some time ago to the pathetic appeals of his fellow Britisher for "just a loan for a few days, d'ye know." The baronet declined in the most affetuous basso profundo, that the loan was really, purely, surely temporary, B-a-Jove. He would pay it right back, possibly in a few hours, so he would.

Mr. Skelton has been "Waiting, Only Waiting," as the song says, for several weeks, for those few hours to elapse; and finally, the prolongation, like a 63 bar passage of stirred whole notes, andante, became too exasperating for further endurance, and Mr. Skelton executed a wait, lente, in the direction of the baronet's studio in the Commercial Club block. He entered the musical sanctuary with a cloud on his county Cumberland brow that would have paralyzed the storm scene in William Tell. The nobleman from Liverpool and friend of the Prince of Wales, said that was a hurricane on with a wide and varied assortment of double fortes in immediate prospect with Chinese gong obligato. But with the "Kam and Kool" philosophy of a Wilkins Micawber, he waited for the something to turn up.

Mr. Skelton executed a graceful portamento towards the baronet with a request for the return of the "loan," and with an air of lyric inefficiency that would have graced a Loebengrin prelude. But the friend of the Prince of Wales was haughty, he assumed an air of injured innocence, and in crescendo and in decrescendo stated his chords in C sharp major stated his demand, and would the bad actor from the Symphony orchestra please andantino without and call again when the maestro from Liverpool and Southampton palace had more time. He was too deeply busy figuring on the anticipated profits of his May recital to bother with such unimportant things as saying up a loan. This angered his brother Briton, and in the interludic passages following, there was a climax which rose even above the stormy music of Der Erl Koenig.

The music rose to two F's, then to three F's and finally there was a crash of the entire orchestra, as Mr. Skelton's right mitt shot out in 2-4 time allegro, prestissimo, and the baronet's head went to the board, and its blue blood owner executed a strepito movement down onto the floor, or in the rude language of the street, Skelton inhumanly just at the present meet would have graced a Loebengrin prelude, and the double forte of a grand opera chorus, and successions of crashing climaxes from the orchestra, with low lights and slow music. The scene was grand, surpassing even the Ride of the Valkyries, and the baronet stood there, immense, grand, imposing in tragic attitude. Did he strike back, and annihilate Skelton with a ring of magic fire? No, gentle reader. But quivering with emotion, with majestic nostrils full ablomp, and the fires of Hephaestus in his scintillating optics, he pointed scornfully towards the knight from Cumberland, and bid him "Get thee hence, Scullion!"

Mr. Skelton was abashed in the presence of such majesty, and withdrew. The baronet was asked subsequently why he did not strike back, and he quickly replied "A, a m'l boy; hi ad more sense than that, hit means damages, damages m'l boy," and the friend of the Prince of Wales strode grandly off the stage through the red lights of the stage in to the green room. It was toward the gloaming of the evening, that the baronet emerged muttering sotto voce, "B-a-Jove, hi give hi until 6 o'clock tonight to apologize, or hi'll sue 'im for £50 sterling!"

BOILER MAKERS STRIKE.

Say A. T. & S. E. Sends Their "Unfair" Botched Work to Repair.

Topeka, Kas., April 14.—One hundred boiler-makers of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway shops struck here today. They claim as their grievance that "botched up work," done by "unfair labor" at Western Santa Fe shops are out in sent to Topeka to be worked over.

Early today Shop Supt. C. E. P. McCall learned that the union men were to strike at 11 o'clock and he immediately began to send out discharge checks to them.

The union boiler makers at once struck and the non-union men with which the shops had been quietly supplied for the past three months for such an emergency, to the number of 50, went aloft.

Supt. Purcell refuses to state his further action at present. The strikers think other shop men will go out in sympathy.

NEW YORK CLOSING STOCKS.

Friday, April 14, 1905.

Atchison	92
Baltimore & Ohio	104
Canadian Pacific	104
Chicago & Alton	81
Chicago & North Western	104
Chicago & Northwestern	104
Colorado Southern	25
Denver & Rio Grande	25
Elgin	40
Illinois Central	104
Louisville & Nashville	104
San Antonio	104
Metropolitan St. Ry.	104
Mexican Central	24
Missouri Pacific	104
New York Central	104
Pennsylvania	104
Reading	104
Rock Island	104
Rock Island	104
St. Paul	104
Southern Pacific	104
Southern Railway	104
Union Pacific	104
Wabash	104
Wisconsin Central	104

MISCELLANEOUS.

Amalgamated Copper	80 1/2
American Car & Foundry	42 1/2
American Locomotive	122 1/2
American Smelting & Refining	122 1/2
Am. Smelting & Refining	122 1/2
Brooklyn Rapid Transit	20
Colorado Fuel & Iron	34 1/2
International Paper	24 1/2
National Biscuit	24 1/2
Norfolk & Western	17 1/2
Northern Securities	17 1/2
Pacific Mail	14 1/2
Pacific Telephone	14 1/2
Pressed Steel Car	45 1/2
Pullman Palace Car	24 1/2
Sugar	12 1/2
Sugar	12 1/2
Tennessee Coal & Iron	104
United States Steel	104
United States Steel	104
Western Union	94

BUSINESS NOTES.

The Toquerville Irrigation company of Toquerville, Washington county, file a copy of its articles of incorporation in the secretary of state's office today. Its capital stock is $2,750, divided into shares of $10 each. The directors of the company are H. L. Naegle, G. M. Spilbury, W. A. Brinkhurst, Hans Anderson and J. T. Batty.

Today's local bank clearings amounted to $371,700.73 as against nothing for the same day last year, as that day was a holiday.

FINE JOB WORK. Turned out on short notice at the Deseret News. A big shipment of new types and supplies just in. Our facilities for letter heads, bill heads, tags, envelopes, pads, etc., etc., are unequalled by any establishment in the west.

THE DESERET NEWS.

DIED.

HELLSTROM.—In the Eleventh ward this city, April 13, 1905, of pneumonia, Charles H. Hellstrom, born in Sweden, Dec. 25, 1852.

Funeral from the Eleventh ward mortuary at 1220 p. m. Sunday.

PROBATE AND GUARDIANSHIP NOTICES. Consult County Clerk or respective agents for further information.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS.—ESTATE of William Hardestie, Deceased. Creditors will present claims with vouchers to the undersigned at 24 Alms Block, Salt Lake City, Utah, on or before the 30th day of August, 1905.

ORLANDO H. HARDESTIE, Administrator of the Estate of William Hardestie, Deceased. Date of first publication, April 14, A. D. 1905.

C. E. Marks, Attorney for Administrator.

PURITY AND HEALTH

Are not often referred to by the carload, but there are always exceptions. We received a carload of

"WHITE ROCK"

This week, and will deliver it to any part of the city by the bottle. The dozen at the case, in splits, pints or quarts. The highest awards at the Paris and St. Louis Expositions.

SCHRAMM'S