Are Pushing On to Tonopah, Says Gus S. Holmes.

Landlord G. S. Holmes of the Knutsford, who is just back from Goldfield, reports that there must be 1,000 carloads of merchandise, machinery, household goods and other stuff stacked up at stations on the Southern Pacific hear Reno and Mound House and adjacent stations, waiting for spring before the great rush of goods can get into Goldfield. So all that can be done now is to freight in provisions for man and beast, and other immediate necessaries, and let it go at that until railroad connections can be built.

Mr. Holmes found that San Pedro surveyors are in the field, indicating that it is the intention of that company to build into Goldfield from Callente. giving the camp an immediate entrance into southern California, A great need at the camp is a mill, and machinery has already been bought, but owing to the crush and the blockade, no mill can be set up until spring. Mr. Holmes' property, the "Big Liz," is promising better than ever, as it is right in the center of properties where strikes have already been made. In fact Mr. Holmes has struck a fine ore body 10 feet down and six feet wide, which is now being opened up and developed. One does not have to go far down in that country to find good ore. The strike of the big camp has brought in so many people that they are spreading all over the country adjacent and making such discoveries of ore that, it seems as though the camp would turn out to be a second Comstock proposition. Mr. Holmes be-neves that the lode running through the camp is an extension of the Comstock. A mong the witnesses present at the jury were C. K. before the grand jury. New York, Dec 12.-Early today bail had not been secured for the release of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick from the Tombs prison nor had she given notice of any intention to waive examination in this city and go to Cleveland for a hearing. Apparently reconciled temporarily to prison restraint and fare, and satisfied that should the attempt to provide the bail now required the amount would be immediately so in-creased as to become practically pro-hibitive it was believed today that Mrs. Chadwick had consented to act upon the advice of her counsel and await the examination in New York next Saturday.

Mrs. Chadwick appears to have en-tirely recovered from the severe attacks of nervousness which attended her first few hours in the Tombs and apprehension of a collapse is no longer entertained by the prison physician.

Speculation as to whether Andrew Carnegie wou'd be called to testify was heightened by the remarkable dis-closure made by Treasurer Ira Rey-nolds, of the Wade Park bank of Cleveland. The charge against Mrs. Chadwick is that she signed a check for $12,500 when she had no funds in the Oberlin, Ohlo, bank, and then pro-cured a certification of the check by the two bank officials under arrest at Oberlin. The authorities in attempt-ing to put Mr. Carnegie on the stand argue, however, that the bank officials certified the check because of the varius "Carnegie notes," about which they had heard so much and some of which they had seen. Therefore it is claimed Mr. Carnegie's testimony is not ir-relevant. A subpoena for Andrew Carnegle to testify in the Chadwick case was received by the authorities in this city tolay. It was issued in Ohio. GRAND JURY INVESTIGATING.

Cleveland, Ohlo, Dec. 12 .- The grand jury of Cuyahoga county commenced today an investigation into the af-fairs of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick. It is probable that the inquiry will Inst throughout the day, and even possible that no vote will be taken on the evidence before tomorrow. County Prose-cutor Keeler was confident, however, that an indictment would be voted before night. Although it is the desire of the prosecuting attorney to secure an indictment for forgery he has arranged his evidence in such a manner as to cover pretty much all manner of irregularities in financial dealing, and if a vote against Mrs. Chadwick should be re-fused in any one particular, he is con-fident of holding her on something else. His main dependence however, is the evidence pointing to forgery.

A physician was called to attend to Mrs. Martin, and it was found that the bullet had plowed its way in her back for a distance of about three inches and came out again. The ball struck sideways or it might have proved fatal

CAME HERE TO KILL HER. At the police station Mrs. Daugias broke down and was on the verge of hysteria.

"This woman has been writing love letters to my husband," she declared, "She has ruined my life, wrecked my home and tried to steal my husband, I signed for his letters that she wrote him and have them in my possession. She spoke of how happy they would be together, and was making plans to go to St Paul. After all this, can you wonder that I tried to kill her? I came here for that purpose

Mrs. Douglass said she was in Payette visiting her sister-in-law. She could not say whether Doug-lass was here or not, but the ass was here or not, but the presumption is that if he is not now in the city, he was here recently.
