A LITTLE POLITICS.

Surmising About the Next Congress —Personal—Election Items, etc.

WASHINGTON, 8.—The personal friends of Gen. Garfield say he will not agree to take his seat in the House of Representatives, but will in a few days resign both it and his prospective membership of the Senate. His successor in the House, who will, of course, be a republican, may be elected upon 10 days' notice. It is believed here that Secretary Sherman, although he could doubtless be at the head of the Treasury Department under President Garfield if he wished to, will re-enter the Senate as Thurman's successor, in place of Garfield, and that Gov. Foster, of Ohio, will be given a Cabinet position, probably the Secretaryship of the Interior.

The friends of Attorney-General Devens predict that he will be nominated for a position on the Supreme Bench during the coming session of Congress, to succeed either Justice Clifford or Justice Hunt, one of whom, it is said, will probably retire before President Hayes goes out of office

George Francis Dawson, of California, formerly librarian of the United States Senate, and at present treasurer of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, is announced as a candidate for the position of sergeant-at-arms of the next House of Representatives. Mr. Dawson is favorably known as a journalist and as the compiler of the republican committee's text books in the last two campaigns. He will be supported by a large number of friends among the members.

In view of the strong probability that General Mahone may act with the republicans and thus tie the next Senate, a very interesting question has arisen as to the right of the Vice-President to cast the deciding vote on a resolution affecting the Senate's organization. Some prominent democrats already argue that as he is not a member of the Senate he has no such right, but on the other hand it is insisted that he must necessarily possess it for the same reasons that the Constitution gives him the unquestioned right of breaking a dead lock in all matters of legislation. The importance of having control of the Senate, of course, reaches far beyond securing the offices that attach to the patronage of the Senate, the main point being to secure a majority representation on the committees, by which all important legislation is shaped and largely dictated, and there is no doubt that the republicans will make a determined effort to obtain this advantage as soon as President-elect Garfield convenes the Senate on the 4th of March to confirm his appointments.

If there then be a tie on organization, and the Vice-President facts upon the republican theory, declares standing committees adopted, the democrats will have no other recourse than an appeal from his decision, and although he cannot vote upon the question of sustaining his own decision, it cannot be overruled except by a majority vote, a tie vote upon appeals being equivalent to a minority vote. It is furthermore questionable how Judge Davis would vote upon such an appeal. He will doubtless vote with the democrats to retain the present organization, but on the point of parliamentary law above suggested he might very possibly vote with the republicans.

A letter received from warm personal friends of Gen. Mahone, dated Richmond, yesterday says: He declines positively to talk about future party relations or his own political course, acknowledging himself as completely surprised by the result. He is also undismayed, and will do his best next time. He says that for the present, so far as the Senate is concerned, he is a caucus of one, and shall practice a masterly inactivity.

The agent of the New Orleans and Havana Steamship line, was here for some days with reference to the proposed bringing over of Chinese from Cuba to Louisiana, to be employed by sugar planters of that State. The obstacles thrown in the way by the Spanish authorities and the Chinese consul have been mentioned, and the mission of the agent here was to ascertain if something could not be done from this point. He called at the Department of State and Chinese embassy, but nothing practical could be suggested In view of what he characterizes as the bad treatment experienced by the Chinese who have settled in the United States, the Chinese Ambassador says he does not feel inclined to take any action that will result in bringing any more of them here, and as the United States Government desires a modification of the treaty so as to check Chinese emigration to California, the State Department considers it will not be consistent to encourage such emigration to Louisiana.

New York, 8.—The Secretary of the Democratic National Committee has issued the following: Reports of fraud in the elections held in this city and Brooklyn on the 2d of November, and if the frauds reported are established, the electoral vote of this State will be cast for Hancock and English, and steps for a thorough investigation are now being considered. Meantime we hand herewith blank forms of protest which you will please execute, varied in substance according to circumstances, and hand in to the county canvassers as early this week as possible, no later than Tuesday, the 11th inst. The form of protest is as follows: "The undersigned hereby protests against the allowance of the vote cast for presidential electors at the election held November 2d (name of place) as canvassed and returned by the board of county canvassers of said county, for the reason that (state facts in detail.) We would respectfully request that this protest may be attached to the return of such vote that we may not be considered to have by silence acquiesced in these acts."

Kelly's organs charge the Sun and other supporters of Tilden, with stabbing Hancock, and the fact that in the counties where Tilden's most trusted friends have control, the change of votes from democratic to republican was very heavy, is pointed out to sustain the charges. King's county, for example, where Tilden's friend, Boss McLaughlin, rules, shows a greater democratic loss than any other county, except New York. Smith M. Weed, one of the favorite co-partners or Tilden, did not prevent a heavy loss in Clinton County. Nor did Tilden himself prevent a loss of over 2,000 in Westchester. Many other illustrations are given.

The Times says: There is no indication of any change in the results of the election which have already been announced. Garfield and Arthur have 213 electoral votes, without including the six votes of California, or even one of these votes, which is said to have been secured for them in any event. Conceding all of California's vote to the democrats, Hancock and English have 156. Later telegrams do not change the assignment of congressmen, 152 republicans, 137 democrats, and 4 greenbackers. Corrected returns show that Garfield received about 22,000 more votes than Hancock in the State of New York.

Chicago, 8.—The Tribune's Philadelphia special says: The only cause of the depression in stocks is the efforts of Barnum and Kelly to disturb the peace of the country by sending out false and baseless stories and starting schemes to throw out the electoral votes.

The Tribune's Washington special says: The republicans still claim the Senate, since Maynard is pretty sure to be elected from Tennessee, where the republican members of the legislature are solid and the democrats all broken up into factions. The republicans have nearly half of the whole number. They have increasing confidence that Mahone will vote with them if necessary to organize the House. The republicans have all the contingencies of death in their favor, as in six States from which there are democratic senators who hold over, there are republican governors. On the other hand, only one such State which has a democratic governor (Louisiana). This contingency is not likely to figure, as some of these senators are old and feeble men.

Madison, Wis., 8.—The Democrat, which has been bitterly partisan all through the campaign, comes out in an editorial, arguing the disbandonment of the democratic party in the West. It says the democracy have only elected 35 out of 280 Congressmen in the North, and only carry New Jersey for Hancock by 1,500 majority and Nevada by 300, and that out of 10 Northern States they have not elected a single representative. The North is solidly republican and the South democratic, and the Northern democracy have performed their duty to the couutry and have nothing more to offer.

San Francisco, 8.—Official returns of the State are coming in this evening, but they cannot be obtained from three or four remote counties before Thursday. Thirty-four counties out of fifty-two, show a net republican gain over the previous figures of thirty-five votes. There is a considerable difference between the vote for different electors, and with the general result so close it is quite possible that a divided ticket may be proved to be elected. Terry runs steadily behind and is beaten beyond question.

GENERAL MISCELLANY.

French Affairs.

NEW YORK, 8.—A special to the Telegram says: The following is the substance of a speech to be read by Ferry to the French Chamber of Deputies at the opening to-morrow: The expulsion of unauthorized congregations has been successfully carried out. Government recommends to the members the adoption of a system of compulsory education which are so long that they will not be laid before the Chamber this session. New laws for the regulation of the press will also be urged upon the representative bodies, but so long as the old form of legislation exists it will be rigidly adhered to. The construction of the Rhone canal is specially recommended to the consideration of representative bodies. The Senate is urged to vote with as little delay as possible for a general financial tariff, the government being desirous to conclude commercial treaties with all nations before the dissolution in October next. As regards foreign affairs, France is at peace with all the world, and the Government entertains strong hopes that the Eastern question will be settled in accordance with the Berlin treaty, and no mention is to be made of Greece. The government does not pretend to put forward a pompous programme of fallacious promises, but all it promises it will endeavor to carry out. The government asks the majority to grant it entire confidence and to follow it faithfully. The extreme Left will, immediately after the reading of this speech, raise a debate upon it, which will be postponed until Thursday.

The "Jeannette" May Be All Right.

An evening paper has the following Washington special: The reported loss of Bennett's Arctic exploring steamer, Jeannette, with all on board, telegraphed from San Francisco, is doubted here. It is explained that in October, 1879, two New Bedford whalers, the Vigilant and the Mount Wallenstein, with 40 men on board of each, were caught in a pack of ice to the southwestward of Herald Island, since which time neither of the vessels nor any traces of them have been seen by anybody. The whalers were not constructed nor equipped for wintering in the Arctic, and no doubt exists in the minds of other whaling captains that the two vessels and their crews were destroyed absolutely. The remains of the men, or parts of the missing whalers, if seen by the Esquimaux, might readily be mistaken for the Jeannette or her crew. Captain Hooper, of the revenue steamer Corwin, does not believe the Jeannette is lost, as she was so powerfully built with a special view to ice pressure and so modelled that it was expected the pack would raise her out of the water rather than crush her. For these, among other reasons, the hope is entertained that the Jeannette's people will yet come out of the Arctic in safety.

Grant's Home.

Gen. Grant has rented the residence of ex-Senator J. Chaffee, on Fifty-Second Street, and will hereafter make his home there. Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Grant, Jr., will also reside at the same place. Chaffee has taken up his abode at the Union League Club, and Mrs. U. S. Grant, Jr., will depart for the west in a few days, intending to visit Santa Fe, New Mexico, before his return to New York.

Sara Bernhardt's Debut.

Mme. Bernhardt made her debut to-night before a fashionable audience of at least 4,000 persons. Her appearance, which was in the second act, was the signal for prolonged and enthusiastic applause, which she gracefully recognized, and as her splendid voice was heard, the entire audience seemed electrified to the end of the performance. The interest was intense, and bouquets of massive and elegant designs were presented after the fourth act. Clara Morris occupied Manager Abbey's box. Among the distinguished people present were Senator Blaine and Gov. Cornell. The theatrical profession was largely represented. Abbey's Park Theatre closed in honor of the occasion. The street in front of the theatre was illuminated by electric lights. A most successful season is assured. After the performance, a grand serenade was given to Bernhardt at the hotel by Gilmore's band of 65 pieces.

"Herald" Political Paragraphs.

The New York Herald, commenting on the democrats proposition to throw out a large number of republican votes in this State because they were illegally printed, says: It looks too much like a democratic trick for smuggling into the ballot boxes, through the hands of unsuspecting republicans, irregular Garfield votes in the hope that they might be rejected by the canvass.

The same paper says: The Pacific vote is put down to the forged Morey letter. The vote is a surprise to both sides. The democrats never really claimed the Pacific States, and under ordinary circumstances the republicans should hold them in this canvass. Garfield stooped to bid for the anti-Chinese vote and win the Kearney crowd, which Hancock, to his credit, did not do. The Morey letter did not unsettle California. It was so handled over the telegraph wire, as we see by reading the California papers, as to be an advertisement for Garfield and to give him votes. There was not a voter in California who did not believe it to be a wretched, degrading forgery. What hurt Garfield was the business depression on the Coast. California is recovering from the gambling speculation fever and has not felt the business impulse of the East.

The Insane Murderer.

Thos. Stanton, who yesterday shot Sister Vanna, says he only wanted to frighten, not kill the woman; that the witches have been bothering him for years, talking to him continuously, and they inspired him to do the deed. He went to Ireland to get rid of the spirits, but it did no good, and he was instructed to kill Sister Vanna. The latter is suffering greatly, but it is hoped her wounds will not prove fatal.

A Page of Horrors.

BATESVILLE, 8.—A horrible tragedy became known here yesterday morning. Frank M. Beidenbaugh, a young and wealthy German, who three years ago married a daughter of a neighboring farmer, came home late Saturday night intoxicated and entering the room where his wife and child slept assaulted them with an ax. His wife's skull was crushed by a single blow, and then his son's throat was cut by the edge of the ax. He then went to the room where Mrs. Stephens, a visitor, and her child and a servant girl were sleeping, and killed Mrs. Stephens and her child. The servant girl awakened, sprang toward the door, but was knocked senseless and left for dead. Upon recovering consciousness she gave the alarm and the neighbors came. It was not till morning that the murderer was found hidden in a tobacco house with his throat cut, but not fatally. Jealousy, insanity and drunkenness are the theories advanced to account for the horrible crime.

Chicago, 8. — The Inter-Ocean's Minonk, Illinois, special says: a horrible accident occurred near here today. As the Kankakee train was going south, John Aden, a German farmer, his wife, and neice, aged 14, attempted to cross the track in a wagon ahead of the train, and were struck by the engine running thirty miles an hour. The two women were killed instantly, and the man died in three hours. The blame rests with the victims, who were reckless in driving.

Chicago, 8.—Last evening Yee Mong, a laundryman, on Halstead street, was shot through the abdomen, the ball lodging in the spine, causing a fatal wound. He was taken to the county hospital. His own words are a brief narrative of the affair, and all that is known about it: "Melican mannee commee laundly; hookee money; lun away like hellee; Ye Mong lun toi, like hellee; yellee, blow whistle; Melican mannee shootee Yee Mong in bellee."

"No!" "No!"

PATTERSON, N. J., 8.—The rumor widely published in New York dailies that Chinese labor is being introduced in silk and other mills of this city is met with an indignant denial by manufacturers here. The Barbour, Flax Spinning Company, who have been represented as having already a number of Chinamen at work by way of experiment, declared the statement false in every particular. In a personal canvass of the great mills of Patterson, questions were asked as follows:

First—Do you have any Chinese labor employed?

Second—Have you contemplated employing any?

They answered; No.

Third—Do you believe there are any Chinese employed in any silk or other mills in Patterson?

Fourth—In your judgment has such employment ever been seriously contemplated by any?

The answer to all was a uniform and indignant no!

Wrestling Match.

PITTSBURG, 8.—Newall, McMahon and other prominent sporting men here, claim J. Farrell, who is matched to wrestle McMahon at the Lyceum on the 13th for the championship belt and $1,000 is the veritable W. J. Farrell, of San Francisco, and not a bogus one, as stated in a San Francisco dispatch. They claim a man named Jenkins is personating Farrell and has started the story to injure him.

FOREIGN.

The French Decrees.

PARIS, 8.—A Madrid correspondent telegraphs as follws: Expelled French monks are flocking here. Nobles are offering them their palaces, town councils are giving them old convents and vacant buildings. The king is granting them interviews, and the ministry is authorizing the Jesuits and other orders to establish themselves in Madrid and all over the kingdom. Conservative and Liberal journals here equally condemn the measure of the French government. Castelar, to the surprise of every one, has just published severe strictures on the conduct of Gambetta, whom he accuses of having dictated the course of government from behind the scenes. Castelar is very severe in his denunciation of Radicalism. He told me yesterday that he inclines to the views of Jules Simon. He added, emphatically, I blame the blind obstinacy of Gambetta because the intransigeant violence of our Spanish Federals caused the ruin of the Spanish Republic in 1873.

Marseilles, 8.—The siege of the abby of the Premontre Fathers continues and troops still surround the Monastry. The Sub-Perfect states that the authorities do not intend to break open the doors, but will continue the siege a month if necessary. The fathers declare they have sufficient provisions and will not yield. At Chambery the Trappists of Tarnie were dispersed on the 6th inst., by a body of troops. The Nantes Capuchins have embarked for Cork.
