FOREIGN NEWS.

The Atlantic Telegraph Company have made an important reduction in its tariff on messages through the cable.

The bread riots in England were of a serious character. That at Barnstaple exceeded all the rest in destructiveness and ferocity. The mob broke open the butchers' shops and the bakers' sacked them and set them on fire; and committed excesses until the police and military were obliged to fire upon them.

England, it seems, is to have other wars on her hands besides the one with Abyssinia. The Calcutta correspondent of the London Times believes there is trouble brewing in the East. He is convinced that England is adopting a bad policy with regard to Central Asia, and that before long she will have to fight for the safety of the Indian Empire.
Both Russia and France are encroaching in that quarter.

On the 7th and 8th of October the advance guard of the British expedition against Abyssinia left Bombay, consisting of 5 sailing ships and 6 steamships, of 10,483 tons register, carrying 59 European commissioned officers, 36 native commissioned officers, 2,882 non-commissioned officers and men, 461 horses, 458 mules, and 30 bullocks. On the 20th of October the van of the expedition had reached Aden. On the 26th of October, the Viceroy of Egypt had dispatched 10,000 soldiers to Massowah and Sawakin, 6,000 of whom had only just returned from Candia. The Egyptian troops are sent forward ostensibly to protect the frontier, but, it is believed, really to assist against Theodore.

The London Times has an editorial on the Alabama claims, in which it comments with much severity on the last dispatch on the subject, addressed by Secretary Seward to Mr. Adams.

A terrible explosion took place in one of the Fernside Collieries, in Glamorganshire, Wales. Three hundred miners were at work at the time. At last accounts the mine was on fire and it was feared but few lives would be saved.

The French have again commenced posting their postage stamps upside down on their letters. This is said to be one of their ways of manifesting their hostility to the nephew of his uncle."

MAIN STREET.

The Moniteur du Soir admits that French infantry, armed with the Chas-epot rifle, and artillery, supplied with rifled cannon, took part in the battle of Monte Rotondo, and their coming to the assistance of the pontifical forces decided the day against Garibaldi.

General Failli, commander of the French expedition to Rome, reports that the French, in the fight at Monte Rotondo, lost forty killed and wounded; the papal troops lost only twelve men.
The casualties of the Garibaldians were six hundred killed and as many wounded, twenty-two hundred were taken prisoners. General Failli says the credit of the great slaughter of the rebels was due to the Chassepot rifle. The rebels were only half armed.

The London Times predicts, that should Napoleon fall in bringing about a general conference of European powers, to settle the Roman question, he will abandon the defence of the temporal power of the Pope, and leave Italy free to decide upon the future position of Rome.

Cretan official accounts, to October 20th, ridicule the idea that Ali Pasha can turn the invaders from the inflexible determination to become part of the Kingdom of Greece. Russian, Prussian and French commanders continue to convey non-combatants to Greece, the Grand Vizier's remonstrance against this being treated with contempt. The war is being resumed with increased violence. A great sensation has been produced in Crete by the spirited manifesto of an American lady, the wife of Dr. Hill, the American missionary, addressed to a certain Elizabeth Kentazeka, a Christian woman who was employed as a spy by the Turks. Mrs. Hill earnestly condemns the efforts of a Christian to betray the cause of Christian liberty by serving the Sultan of Turkey.

The North German Parliament has unanimously requested the Executive to put down public gambling throughout the Confederation.

Vesuvius is again in action. A dispatch from Naples says that the volcano is sending up a pillar of fire, which has a magnificent effect as seen from the city.
New craters have been formed, and the usual point of issue is also active. The surrounding earth is in tremendous motion for a considerable distance; the lava is pouring down the sides of the mountain in volume and with rapid flow; and the general upheavings from the volcano give warning of an unusually grand eruption from which many serious consequences are looked for.

Late Chinese news says that the Nienfei rebels were hemmed in by the imperial army on the Shantung pro-matory, and that they were making every effort to leave the main land.
Still the scare at Chefoo was very great. Peremptory orders had been sent from Pekin to the mandarins at Shantung, threatening punishment if the rebels were allowed to escape.

A second typhoon has occurred at Macao. The damage to property is immense.

Letters from Naples state that a very strong manifestation lately took place in that city, in which from eight to ten thousand persons took part. It seems that, irritated by the reports of a fresh intervention on the part of<br
