

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 3.

Confirmed.—The Senate, in executive session, March 27, confirmed the nomination of Robert H. Lindsay, United States Attorney for Nevada, vice Seely, resigned.

Celebrating.—The Knights Templars were out to-day, making a circuit of the principal thoroughfares of the City. They made a splendid appearance, in their gay apparel. Their object was to celebrate Good Friday.

Changed Hands.—We understand that Mr. Anson Call has sold out the Centreville flouring mill to Mr. Alexander Sim, an experienced Scotch miller, who purposes commencing the manufacture of oatmeal from the "Surprise" oats raised in this Territory.

Handsome.—The new premises of the Howe Sewing Machine Company, the stand recently vacated by H. Dinwoodey, East Temple Street, are really handsome. The walls are beautifully decorated, being nicely laid off in panels and styles, and all the general fittings of the establishment are in keeping.

Chinese Kite-Flying.—Kite-flying was indulged in by some Chinamen to-day, and as they are recognized as adepts in this pastime, quite a crowd was attracted to witness the sport. It is an art with the Orientals, in which they delight to excel. When the kite appeared in the distance as a mere speck in the clouds, its humming noise could be distinctly heard.

Insulting a Lady.—Last evening Wm. Memhard, a soldier, was fined $10 for insulting a lady. He addressed the latter on the street and when she told him she did not wish to be spoken to by him he used most insulting, not to say disgusting and brutal, language towards her. The fine was light for the offense.

Should be Killed Outright.—We are informed that some person lately shot a dog, belonging to Mr. Willis, 20th Ward, through the lower jaw, so that the latter hangs loosely down and is useless. The dog is around yet, and being unable to eat is literally starving to death. It would be a humane act on the part of anybody who would end the sufferings of the poor brute.

From South.—Mr. Septimus W. Sears, who has been on a business trip to Fillmore, in connection with Z. C. M. I., returned to the city on Wednesday. He is not in ecstasies over the pleasures of traveling by stage line over indescribably bad roads, and is of opinion that there are occupations that are much more pleasurable than packing bullion over the worst places to relieve a stage wagon when it gets stuck in the mud.

An Intruder.—Last night there was a birth-day surprise party at a house in the north-east part of the City, and while the participants were having a gleeful time they were surprised at hearing a loud knocking at the door. The rapping was done by a drunken man who wanted to get inside. The intruder was caught by the collar by a young man and run down the sidewalk. The fellow had a companion, who was reclining in a vehicle with his feet elevated upon the dashboard in a state of helpless intoxication.

Tooele.—Samuel W. Orme writes from Tooele City, April 2nd, as follows—

"We had a most fearful storm here on Sunday night and Monday, the heaviest of the season. On Saturday Sup't. L. Kelton moved a part of the sheep herd into this valley, calculating to move the balance on Monday, but they were snowed in, in the mountains, a little north of Dry Canyon, Rush Valley, the snow being very deep in that vicinity, as you have previously learned. It is likely we will suffer some loss in consequence thereof. All is well here at present. General health prevails. The corporation ball went off supremely well."

Holland.—The Millennial Star notices a letter from Holland, from Elder S. Van Dyk, dated Feb. 25, in which he stated that his health was not as good as he could wish; that the Dutch were a slow and procrastinating people, temporally and spiritually, characteristically putting off till to-morrow what they could easily do to-day; that many would acknowledge the truth, but would delay action thereon; that the brethren and sisters, as a general thing, were living their religion; that some of them purposed emigrating with the first company, having sold their houses and lands, and being very anxious for the time to come when they might bid farewell to Babylon.

Respect for the Dead.—To-day the Camp Douglas garrison have been making demonstrations of respect to the memory of the late departed ex-President Fillmore. At sunrise a salute of thirteen guns was fired and the firing of guns has continued during the whole of the day at half hour intervals. At sundown a salute of thirty-five guns will be fired. There was a general parade of the troops at Camp this morning, when the order for those proceedings was published. The reason why those demonstrations were not made sooner was because the military order authorizing them was not received until last night.

A Rough Customer.—J. Miller went to the Washington House last night, took supper and then coolly told the proprietor that he had no money, that he wanted a bed and would settle some other time. The proprietor could not see the point, and a tussle was the result, in which Miller went for his antagonist with a knife, but before he could use it he was tripped on the head with a chain which knocked him under. He was arrested and this morning Justice Clinton fined him $10 for obtaining meals and refusing to pay for them, and $25 for assault and battery.

Miller is the same fellow who, when a member of the chain gang, made an attack on Col. Smith, on the Naisbitt hill.

Chief Justice Titus.—And so the President has nominated a man to take the place of Judge John Titus on the Supreme Bench of Arizona. The new man is named Dunne, and we hope that, after seeing, hearing and prospecting him a little, we will be able to say "well done."

Judge Titus was appointed in 1870, so that his four years must be about up. We don't know whether or not he desired a re-nomination. If he has, Ulysses hasn't been able to "see it in that light." Titus is said to be an able lawyer, honest man and just judge; but some people have accused him of too much flintiness of heart. For our own part, we have but praise to bestow upon him for his course here, which has been true as the needle to the pole in cases where white interests were threatened by that vast anachronism—the Indian Ring.—Arizona Miner, March 20.

The British Mission.—As reported in the Millennial Star, a district meeting was held in the Monckton road Lecture Hall, Jarro, on Sunday, March 1, the following Elders from America being present—John C. Graham, from the Liverpool office, H. S. Gowans, President of the Newcastle and Durham Conference, and Volney King, Traveling Elder in the same conference.

President Gowans said that the District Meeting then held was the beginning of a series of such meetings, and that it was designed to hold one every month for, at least, some time to come. He further said that these meetings would be held in different parts of the Conference, so that all the Saints might have the privilege of meeting together in larger numbers than they were in the practice of doing in their respective Branches, and, thereby, form a more extended acquaintance with each other. He strongly recommended the necessity of such gatherings, as having a tendency to draw the Saints together and make them more united than they were, and to make their influence felt where it was now supposed there were no Latter-day Saints to be found.

Elders S. Kidd, President of the Jarro Branch, W. Coulthart, President of the Nottingham Branch, J. M. Parrish, Prest. of the Sunderland Branch, R. Harrison, President of the South Shields Branch, Thos. Williams, President of the Haswell Branch, and W. Simpson, representing the Witton Gilbert Branch, respectively, reported the condition of the Saints under their watch care.

The meeting was also further addressed by President Gowans, and by Elders Graham and King.

Meetings were held morning, afternoon, and evening. B. S. Newton, Secretary.

FROM SATURDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 4.

Seriously Ill.—We regret to learn that Elder Robert L. Campbell is seriously ill. He is laboring under a very severe attack of fever.

Gone to the Asylum.—Susan Vance, the Indian woman abused by a soldier named Duval, lately, being demented, was taken to the Insane Asylum to-day.

"Sangwitch."—Old Sangwitch, the Indian chief who makes his headquarters at Paradise, Cache Valley, was in town to-day, with a number of his band.

Crossings.—A new plank crossing has been put down across Second South Street from the Atwood to the Blythe corner, and another is in process of construction between the Atwood and the Snow corner.

A Perfect Cure.—A South Australian paper announces that a Mr. Greathead, of that colony, has discovered that a dose of four drops of strong sulphuric acid in three-quarters of a tumbler of water for adults, and a smaller dose for children, is an infallible cure for diphtheria.—Ex.

Going After Him.—This is how the Pioche Record puts the latest phase of the parson Newman business—"Bishop Ames is going after that renowned parsonic humbug, Dr. Newman. It is to be hoped that he will succeed in making the Reverend Doctor come to law."

Stockholder's Meeting.—The stockholders of Z. C. M. I. met in the Old Tabernacle at two o'clock this afternoon, Vice-President W. Jennings in the chair. No business was done and the meeting was adjourned till the 2nd day of May, four weeks from to-day at the same hour and place.

Marble.—Another large consignment of marble has just been received by Messrs. Morris & Evans, from California. If some enterprising capitalists would develop the marble deposits of the Territory, the necessity for such importations would soon vanish, and the community would be benefitted.

Afflicted.—A man fell down in a fit yesterday evening, at the Z. C. M. I. corner. He seemed to suffer greatly for about half an hour. Some bystanders rendered him what assistance lay in their power. A person who stood near said the unfortunate young man contracted the affliction through jumping into some water to rescue his sister from drowning.

Good.—We have seen Mr. Alfred Lamborne's last picture, "Sunrise on the Plains." It represents an emigrant train of ox teams and wagons starting out at early dawn, in the vicinity of Chimney Rock, a waymark well remembered by those who crossed the plains before the railroad was built. The painting possesses many points of merit, and combines delicacy and force. Mr. Lamborne is a very promising young artist.

Beautiful Views.—We have been shown, at the art gallery of Mr. Savage, a fine collection of beautiful views of the Yellowstone country, photographed by Mr. J. Crissman, of Bozeman, Montana, who is now in town. The pictures are interesting, both on account of their excellency as specimens of art and the character of the scenery depicted. The Yellowstone region abounds in wonders and curiosities of nature.

A Serious Difficulty.—There is a large number of boys in this City who are growing up towards manhood, and whose parents find it exceedingly difficult to obtain suitable employment for them. Every place where there appears to be any chance for a boy to get an opportunity to "learn a trade" is flooded with applications. The often expressed opinion that every young man should learn a trade, is a correct one, and it is time that some remedy was provided with a view to enabling those disposed to learn trades to do so, by giving them a fair opportunity.

Butchering.—That fat hog just killed by Levi Garrett, the dressed weight of which is 810 pounds, is of the Ohio White Chester breed, and was one among a number of others imported by Mr. Paul A. Schettler, and was raised by Mr. George D. Watt, on his farm. It is said to be the largest pig ever raised in Utah.

There is some "splendid stall fed beef in the market just now, from Cache Valley. It is the opinion of a large number that farmers who can do so would find it advantageous to feed cattle at certain seasons of the year specially for the beef market. For instance, good beef cattle just now command a ready sale at paying prices, money down.

Delivered.—On Thursday the sheriff of Morgan County delivered to the custody of Warden Rockwood, on a mittimus from the Probate court of the county named, one Jacob Arthurs. The latter had been sentenced by that Court to imprisonment at hard labor in the Territorial penitentiary for four years, and to pay a fine of $100 and cost of prosecution, for the crimes of seduction of, and lascivious cohabitation with, his step-daughter, and the mittimus directed the warden to see that the sentence was duly executed upon the prisoner.

Imprisonment for one year and payment of costs was the penalty affixed for the crime of lewd and lascivious cohabitation in the case, imprisonment for three years and a fine of $100 for seduction.

Assault.—Mr. Henry Brunton, proprietor of the Overland House, appeared before Justice Clinton to-day, to answer a charge of assault and battery upon one Clifford Irvine. The evidence showed that the latter went into Mr. Brunton's place of business yesterday evening and, presenting a card, asked Mr. Brunton's patronage for himself and a person by the name of Swift, who had opened a labor exchange or intelligence office. Mr. Brunton, not holding a very high opinion of labor exchange concerns, requested him to leave the house. Irvine refused, and Mr. Brunton struck him. Justice Clinton assessed a fine of ten dollars for the assault and five dollars for profane swearing. The defendant gave notice of appeal, but afterwards reconsidered the matter and paid the fine.

FROM MONDAY'S DAILY, APRIL 6.

Lots of Them.—There are between fifty and sixty lawyers in this City.

"Charlie" Moore Dead.—Charles Moore, well known to most of our citizens, died last evening, at the residence of his sister, in the 17th Ward.

Storm.—The rain, hail, and snow, mixed storms, on Sunday afternoon and evening, were another prolongation of the wintry weather and backing of spring growth.

Not So.—Mr. W. Willes informs us that he is not the owner of the dog which was shot through the lower jaw and was starving to death in consequence, as previously stated.

Fire Clay.—Messrs. Morris & Evans have purchased a deposit of fire clay, said to be about the best ever discovered in this country. It is situated in Lewiston, Camp Floyd District, and the price was only $1,000.

Will Move.—The Church quarrymen, who are getting out the rock for the Temple, will soon remove from Granite City to a point a mile higher up the canyon and another about two miles above. The quarters for the men will shortly be constructed.

Thrown Out.—This afternoon as the horse and wagon belonging to the 20th Ward Co-operative store was travelling along South Temple Street, the axle-tree broke, tilting the vehicle and spilling Elijah Cox and Amos J. Lucas upon terra firma. The latter, who was driving, held on to the lines, and the young men escaped with a few bruises. The detached wheel took to traveling some distance on its own account.

Too Attentive by Half.—A man in soldiers' clothes, and carrying more "spirit" than discretion, on Saturday, entered some houses on South Temple Street, and endeavored to make himself familiar and agreeable to the "women folks," but only managed to make himself disagreeable so, his room being considered infinitely preferable to his company. Some people have a way of making themselves more free than welcome.

An Egg Story.—When a little boy was at breakfast the other morning, he was surprised upon divesting an egg of its shell, to find some characters distinctly traced upon the white. He called his parent's attention to it, who recognized them as English letters, some turned right side up, others vice versa, showing that the printer had not thoroughly studied his business. Therefore, nothing could be made out of them, but this is not strange, as the work must have been done by a foul (fowl) compositor.

Night Prowlers.—A party of four or five men, on Sunday morning, from one to three o'clock, amused themselves by attaching telegraph wires to the knobs of the locks of the doors of a house in the 16th Ward, and fastening the other end, of the wires to the adjacent trees. When remonstrated with, these men indulged in damning, cursing, and other abusive language. Some of the inmates of the house had to get through the windows to get outside the house.

This is a dangerous kind of amusement, and it may be indulged in once too often, if there is any virtue in buckshot.

Third District Court.—According to adjournment the District Court for the Third Judicial District opened at 10 o'clock this morning. The Marshal elected by the legislature, and the individual appointed by the Governor to that office were both there, but they received no official recognition from Chief Justice McKean, who himself uttered the customary "Hear ye, hear ye, the District Court for the Third Judicial District is now open," after which he announced his readiness to hear ex parte motions.

Attorney General Z. Snow read the following motion for a grand and petit jury for the Third Judicial District—

"Territory of Utah, } s.s.
Salt Lake Co. }

"Third Judicial District Court, Hon. James B. McKean Judge:

"Now comes Z. Snow, Attorney-General of this Territory, and informs the Court that no venire for either a grand or petit jury has been issued returnable at the present term of this Court as provided by law. And that there is a large number of cases which ought to be submitted to a grand jury, and a large number of cases on the calendar of this court ready to be submitted for trial, as he is informed, to a petit jury. He therefore prays for a venire to be issued, returnable at such times as the Court shall name.
Z. SNOW,
Att'y-General."

His honor read an opinion in the case of C. Youman, vs. Salt Lake City, taken up on habeas corpus from Justice Clinton's Court. The ruling sustained the latter and remanded the plaintiff to the custody of the City authorities. The opinion, in alluding to the main point in the plaintiff's argument, the unreasonableness of the amount of the liquor license charged by the City, the case being one in which Youman was fined for selling without license, stated that, although perhaps no other City charged so much, the Court was of opinion that, when the circumstances of this City were considered, $1000 was not unreasonably high.

The judge rendered an opinion in the case of O. F. Strickland vs. the Flagstaff Mining Company, in which an attachment had been issued against the defendants. An application for a stay of execution and to re-open the case had been previously granted, for a stipulated time, on condition that the defendants pay the plaintiff $20. The ruling went against the defendants, because they had paid the $20 to the clerk of the court, as an intermediate party and not to the plaintiff, and because certain papers in the case were not accompanied by a venue, and were therefore void. The decision was that the attachment was in force. Mr. Baskin, for the defendants, gave notice of an appeal, and he was given ten days in which to prepare necessary papers.

The calling of the law calendar was then commenced, the first case brought up being Joseph Silver vs. Salt Lake City, Appleby for plaintiff, Snow and Hoge for defendants. The plaintiff's attorney not being present, the case was dismissed for want of prosecution.

C. W. Tappan vs. Salt Lake City. This was a case wherein the plaintiff had been fined $100 by Justice Clinton for keeping a house of ill fame, and in which an appeal was taken to the Probate Court, but the case was subsequently brought before Judge McKean on certiorari. The judge stated that he was ready to hear the argument, but Judge Haydon, counsel for Tappan, said he didn't know
