

COL. MAXSON ON WATER PROBLEM

Says Salt Lake Route Will Not Have Much Trouble in Nevada.

FIFTY FEET BELOW SURFACE

Secretary of National Congress Talks in an Interesting Vein Regarding the Situation.

Col. H. B. Maxson, the man who did the legislative work in Nevada for the Salt Lake Route, later commanded the Clark forces in the bloodless battle on the ground at Caliente, and still later was a factor in the now historic right-of-way map injunction, arrived in Salt Lake last evening from Nevada.

Col. Maxson is also well known as the secretary of the National Irrigation Congress, which holds its eleventh session at Ogden, Sept. 8 to 11. He is here on combined Salt Lake Route and irrigation matters.

This morning when asked as to the water situation in the districts to be traversed by the main line of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake, he said: "I do not anticipate that there will be any trouble in getting water between Caliente and Las Vegas. There are great opportunities for developing water, while at Clover Valley there are some of the finest springs in the country. Through the Las Vegas valley, too, water can be struck anywhere at 40 or 50 feet in depth. As far as Nevada is concerned, the water problem for the construction camps and the subsequent operations of trains will not be a great thing to solve, although it will of necessity cost money. On the desert case, however, I am not prepared to talk about, but then engineers will solve most anything nowadays. Coming down to the local board of control, the National Irrigation Congress pending at Ogden, Col. Maxson stated that Willis Beardsley, his assistant at Ogden, was doing fine work and getting things into good shape, while the local board of control was a great success. "Everything," he said, "points to the coming convention being the most successful yet held from whatever way you look at it."

GETTING READY FOR WORK.

San Pedro Officials Leave for Caliente to Look Over Situation.

This morning General Manager R. E. Wells, Assistant Chief Engineer H. M. McCarty, Superintendent Henderson, Auditor Rule and other Salt Lake Route officials left for Caliente on a trip of inspection prior to the arrival of the San Pedro men from New York Thursday or Friday.

Heavy Yellowstone Travel.

Assistant General Passenger Agent D. S. Spencer this morning stated that the Yellowstone Park travel over the Oregon Short Line this year had to date passed all previous records with indications that the lead would be increased as the season advanced. In addition to the editors who left this morning, with more to follow tomorrow, on Saturday the Kingport-Gillette excursion, made up of 75 New Yorkers traveling in a special train, is due to arrive in Salt Lake and leave for the Park the next day. Following this party will be 100 or more Christian Endeavorers from the big convention in Denver. A number of smaller parties are en route for the Park also. Reports received at Short Line headquarters denote that the accommodations have been greatly improved.

ANOTHER TONOPAH ROAD.

Work Has Already Commenced and Maps are Filed in Carson.

Word comes from Tonopah to the effect that the road from Rhodes to the line of the Carson & Colorado to Tonopah will be completed by Dec. 1. Charles S. Lennon, who has been promoting the scheme, has returned from an extended trip east and states that the necessary money has been subscribed and that work had commenced a few miles south of Rhodes in the Narrows. Last Monday week the profile map of the road was filed with the secretary of state of Nevada, which shows that the road will be 62 miles in length, the heaviest grade will be two and one-half per cent and the maximum curvature six degrees. The road will be 15 miles in length and will enter the range at about 2500 feet below the crest starting at the head of the south fork of Boulder creek, on the eastern slope, with the exit on the western slope near the head of James creek, which flows into Pyramid river. Working under pressure it is estimated that the tunnel will take all of two years to complete.

THE MOFFAT TUNNEL.

Some Dimensions Regarding Great Undertaking Through the Divide.

According to W. J. Frazer of Denver, who is spending a few days in this city, the projected tunnel which is to be cut through the Continental Divide on the line of the Denver, Northwestern & Pacific is even a greater undertaking than was at first supposed. The tunnel will be two and one-half miles in length with a bore of 16 feet in width and 24 in height throughout. It is estimated that the main part of the work will be through solid rock and consequently the drilling that will be done will be something enormous. It is the intention to install power plants for operating the air drills near both portals. The tunnel will be elevated 9,500 feet above sea level and will enter the range at about 2500 feet below the crest starting at the head of the south fork of Boulder creek, on the eastern slope, with the exit on the western slope near the head of James creek, which flows into Pyramid river. Working under pressure it is estimated that the tunnel will take all of two years to complete.

HOT WAVE IS BROKEN.

Mercury Was Eleven Degrees Lower Today Than Yesterday.

The excessive heat that has prevailed for several days has been broken and people are breathing with much relief. This morning at 6 o'clock the thermometer read at 83 degrees as compared with 76 degrees at the same hour yesterday. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the mercury had reached to only 84 degrees and a further gain but not marked decrease is predicted. There were storms last night of considerable magnitude both at Denver and about Grand Junction, while in parts of South Dakota there was a moderate rainfall. Throughout this region there was no disturbance of note and settled weather with considerable heat was quite general.

The case was set for hearing Friday next, at 3 o'clock.

JUDGE BOOTH IS REVERSED

Supreme Court Changes Judgment in the Riddle Case.

PLURAL MARRIAGE ILLEGAL.

Hence Says the Court, It Has No Power to Compel Defendant to Support Plaintiff.

The supreme court today handed down an opinion reversing the judgment of the lower court in the case of Mary Caroline Riddle vs Isaac Riddle, appellant, which was appealed from the Fourth district court at Provo, Judge Booth presiding. The opinion holds that the plural marriage between plaintiff and defendant, which took place in the Logan Temple on Nov. 3, 1886, was illegal and hence the court has no power to compel defendant to support the plaintiff herein.

Mrs. Riddle in her complaint asked to be awarded separate maintenance and the court below rendered a decree in her favor, awarding her $15 per month and compelling defendant to provide a suitable residence for her at Provo. The opinion of the supreme court, which was written by Chief Justice Eakin and concurred in by Justices Barch and McCarty, holds that, inasmuch as Riddle had two other wives living at the time he married plaintiff, his marriage with her was illegal, and he is not legally bound to support her. However, it is the opinion of the court that he became, and still is, morally bound to support his plural wives and their children begotten by him, but as secular courts are powerless to enforce any but legal obligations, the judgment must be reversed and the complaint dismissed.

CRUSHED UNDER A WAGON.

Little Eddie Kenner Meets With a Serious Accident.

Eddie, the nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Kenner, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon on Fifth East street. The little fellow, it appears, was engaged in innocent amusement with a number of playmates and seems to have run after a wagon proceeding northward with a load of hay. In some manner, quite clear to those who witnessed it, the boy was thrown to the ground in such a way that one of the wheels of the wagon passed over his head, crushing one side of it very badly, so badly, in fact, that it is feared the lad has suffered a concussion of the brain. He was carried to his home near by and Dr. Fisher summoned.

ASSAULTED HIS WIFE.

Peter Robertson of Mill Creek Arrested For Violent Conduct.

Peter Robertson made a vicious assault upon his wife, Ruth Robertson, at their home in Mill Creek last night about 9 o'clock and cruelly beat and kicked her about the face and body. Her right ear was badly split by a blow from her husband's fist and she carries a black and blue mark on her cheek from the effects of coming in contact with the man's fist. It is said that Robertson went home drunk last night and proceeded to administer a beating to his wife and during the mix-up he kicked her several times.

Mrs. Robertson called upon the county attorney today and swore to a complaint charging her husband with assault and battery. The complaint was issued by Assistant County Attorney Whitaker and was filed in Justice Riddle's court at Mill Creek, where the man will be given a preliminary hearing in the near future.

Catarth of the Stomach

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete much, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by all druggists.
