NEW THEATER FOR JUNCTION CITY

Cort Interests to Put Up Handsomest Playhouse in the State.

DEATH OF MRS. A. J. PALMER.

Grocers Fined for Selling Unlabeled Butter—Chicago Symphony Orchestra in Ogden May 12.

Ogden, April 23.—The theatrical war in Ogden promises to become of more interest than was at first supposed. Not to be beaten out of a house in Ogden, in addition to the Uthman theater, which he has secured a five-year lease upon, John Cort, president of the Northwestern Theatrical association, will begin the immediate construction of a new theater in this city which it is understood will surpass anything in the state in beauty and architecture.

While no official announcement has been given out on the matter, it has been learned that Mr. Cort's architect from Seattle is in the city conferring with the capitalists who will advance the money for the new theater and with R. A. Grant, the Utah representative of Mr. Cort. It is expected that the official announcement concerning the new theater will be made within the next two or three days.

When it was learned several days ago that the Orpheum circuit had secured a lease on the Grand Opera House, which has been held by John Cort for a number of years and that Mr. Cort had sold the house, a number of local capitalists whose names are being withheld for the present, immediately came forward and offered to build another theater. The offer was accepted and an architect of the Northwestern association was instructed to come to Ogden to attend to the preliminary matters.

From a well authenticated source it has been learned that the theatrical situation will not be confined solely to the Cort and the Orpheum interests, but that the Shuberts, Fiske, Belasco, and other members who are fighting Klaw & Erlanger, will have a representative in the person of one of the Shuberts in Ogden within three weeks to look over the field with a view to establishing a house in this city.

DEATH OF MRS. A. J. PALMER.

Mrs. Alfred J. Palmer died at the family residence, 2235 Madison avenue, Wednesday night at 11 o'clock, of leakage of the heart, after a lingering illness. The deceased was born in Slaterville 42 years ago. She is the daughter of Thomas and Mary Slater. She is survived by a husband, one daughter and three sons and other relatives. The funeral will be held Sunday noon at the

Are prepared by C. I. HOOD CO., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists and sent by mail. Price, 25c.

Third ward meetinghouse. The interment will be in the city cemetery.

PROCEEDS FINED.

F. R. Watkins, G. A. Nicholas and J. R. Condon, grocers of Ogden, were each fined $5 in the city court yesterday before Judge Murphy upon the charge of violation of the pure food law. The case was the first one to be tried and was therefore the reason the grocers were given the minimum fine and to show that the state pure food commission means business. The charge against the men was selling butter without the name of the maker or the weight marked upon the package. Hereafter no butter will be sold in this state unless the name of the maker and the weight of the package is stamped upon the outside wrapper.

MOTION & PICTURE CO.

Articles of incorporation of the Progressive Motion & Picture company have been filed with the county clerk. The capital stock is $25,000 with shares of the par value of $100 each. The officers are Albert Scovroff, president; Charles Zelman, vice president; W. Hodgkinson, secretary, and H. A. Sims, treasurer. The company will be incorporated in Ogden tomorrow and will be to handle films for moving picture machines and equipment in the intermountain region.

WANTS TO ADMINISTER.

W. J. Seibold has filed in the probate division of the district court, a petition for letters of guardianship in the matter of the estates of Clara, Vera and Margie Fleming, minors. The estate consists of $2,000 life insurance left by the father of the children, John Fleming, CHICAGO SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra of 60 men and six soloists will appear in Ogden under the auspices of the Ogden Tabernacle choir on the afternoon evening of May 12. The organization, which played in Ogden last year, was given an enthusiastic reception which undoubtedly will be repeated upon its appearance here next month. The Grand Opera House has been secured for the appearance of the company.

HELD FOR ROBBERY.

Frank Krebs, Herman Evans and James Bruns are held at the county jail upon a warrant issued by Special Agent Hart of the Union Pacific, who charges them with a number of box car robberies. It is alleged the men have been operating between Ogden and Granger and the information at hand connects them with a number of such robberies. They will be charged with burglary in the second degree.

FORESTRY INSPECTORS.

O. P. Price, associate forester, James B. Adams, assistant forester, and P. F. Wells, general counsel of the forestry service, with headquarters at Washington, will arrive in Ogden tomorrow morning for a visit to the local district headquarters. They have completed an inspection of the districts in the west and northwest and are now en route to Washington.

DEFENSE IN LAWHORN CASE.

Indian War Veterans Choose West Square for Site of Monument. Special Correspondence.

Provo, April 23.—In the Lawhorn murder trial yesterday, Drs. E. S. Pyne and J. W. Aird testified for the state to the effect that, from the symptoms preceding the death of Daniel E. Snow, the death was in their opinion

SUMMER COTTAGE THE TAFTS WILL OCCUPY AT BEVERLY, MASS.

Mrs. Taft has decided to take the Robert C. Evans cottage at Beverly, Mass., for the summer residence of the presidential family. The president left the matter of selecting the summer capital entirely to Mrs. Taft. They will go to Beverly as soon as Congress adjourns. The cottage is two stories and a half and is painted green. There is a great covered portico over the private driveway leading to the house, and running around three sides of it is a wide veranda, while on the ocean side is a tower crowned with a dome. The entire house is sumptuously furnished, and there is a stable large enough for eight horses; also a large garage. The house is lighted by electricity and has every modern convenience. Adjoining it are golf links, where the president will take most of his outdoor exercise.

caused through a blood vessel of the brain being ruptured as a result of the blow he had received on the jaw.

DEFENSES INNING. Atty. Houtts made the opening statement for the defense. He claimed the defendant had been attacked by Snow, and had thrown the empty can, which defendant picked up on the ground, at him to defend himself, and denying that any rock or brick had been thrown or used. The defendant then took the stand. His testimony practically agreed with that of the witnesses for the state up to the time the two young men, witness and Snow, had been put out of the house. On the outside, witness said Snow attacked him. He picked up an empty can and Snow called out "drop that rock." Witness then threw the can, which struck Snow on the chin. Defendant denied using or throwing any rock or brick.

Suit has been brought by W. A. Boyer against G. W. Straw for $123.80, which amount plaintiff claims defendant is indebted to him for the use of three work horses used in railroad construction work. The Indian war veterans held a meeting in the courthouse last evening for the purpose of discussing questions connected with the proposed Indian war veterans' monument. Chairman Joel A. Johnson was elected chairman and Albert Jones secretary. Chairman Johnson explained the object of the meeting, and stated that the project had met with general approval, but there was some difference of opinion about the most suitable site for the monument, some favoring the west square and others the intersection of Academy avenue and Center street. The city council through its committee had signified its willingness to grant a site wherever it had the power to do so. After considerable discussion on the subject, a unanimous vote was taken favoring the west square as the site. The veterans were in active service the west square was the center of the city and the place where the minute men were called together. It was being converted into a public park and would be a beautiful and appropriate place for the monument.

EXHIBIT OF HAFEN'S PAINTINGS. Last night the parlors of Prof. A. C. Lund's residence were thrown open to the public for an exhibition of Hafen's pictures. About 50 ladies and gentlemen appreciated the works of art, and were greatly pleased with the evening's entertainment. Forty-two beautiful paintings were shown, the subjects being Utah and Indiana scenery. The most noted of the paintings was "The Sycamore Tree," a painting that was given the place of prominence at the Brown county art exhibit in Indianapolis last January, where paintings by the leading artists of Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana were exhibited. Sketches were made by Prof. Lund, Mr. Hafen and J. B. Fairbanks. Mr. Hafen's remarks showed the use of the beautiful and the advantage to the individual and the nation resulting from cultivating a love for the beautiful. He drew illustrations from history, and from nature showing that the Creator had not forgotten the beautiful in the creation of the world.

Prof. Lund spoke along similar lines. Mr. Fairbanks made some practical suggestions, advocating the showing of appreciation of the works of art, while they lived rather than withholding it till they are dead.

The Misses Hindley and Henrie and David Afleck of the sixth ward who has neglected to send his three children to school during the entire year was brought before the court and given until Monday to see that the law is complied with from now on.

FORESTRY PLANTING. Supervisor W. W. Clark of the Cache national forest says that over 15 acres will be planted in forest trees soon this season. The tree seed planted will consist mainly of yellow pine and spruce.

Cities are now being taken to the range as fast as they can be counted out by the rangers. A herd was driven from Smithfield yesterday, and one from Hyrum today. The ranger in the Logan canyon is not yet ready for cattle on account of the backwardness of the feed.

W. H. A'dair, a student of the U. A. C. who recently passed the civil service examination, has been appointed a ranger on the local national forest with his station at Garden City.
