WASHINGTON, 27.—The Postmaster General to-day appointed the following fourth-class postmasters:

Montana—Sand Coulee, James A. Walker.

Iowa—Riverside, Nathan Hultz.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was attended by all the members except the Postmaster General, who is out of the city. The session was devoted principally to the consideration of the boundary line between the United States and Mexico, and resulted in the removal of a series of restrictions on the officers engaged in this service on behalf of the Government. The question of allowing the publication by the press of the annual reports of the bureau officers in advance of their being submitted to Congress was also considered, and it was decided to leave the matter entirely to the discretion of the heads of the respective departments to which the bureaus are attached.

point the appointment to West. He said when a vacancy occurs, He said the young man should be considered and very propoisingly personal appearance, with but little to suggest Indian blood in his vein. He dresses for his years. He was at the War Department to-day, and made a very favorable impression upon the officials there.

The Star to-night says: It is understood that Secretary Bayard does not contemplate making any changes in the consular service in the countries of the United States for some time yet.

It is the policy of the State Department to cultivate more friendly relations with the people, and to extend our commercial intercourse in that direction. For this reason the will be of greater service just now than would new men who have to devote most of their time at first to making acquaintances and winning confidence. The delay in the consular and diplomatic positions is due not more to a desire to respect the tenure of office than to a wish to maintain a high standard for the service.

The Postoffice department has rendered a decision declaring that postal cards having a special delivery stamp affixed shall be immediately delivered the same as letters with the extra stamp on them.

conducting operations of the troops pursuing the hostile Apaches, under date of Santa Fe, Oct. 9th: "The 1st Cavalry, 2d Infantry, Telegraph Battalion, 1st and 2d Artillery, have been in the Dragoon and Chiricahua Mountains, in Arizona, since the last of September. On the 1st inst., the 1st Cavalry, on the 6th inst., by two troops of the Twelfth Cavalry and a party of cowboys, have ordered five troops of the 1st Cavalry to occupy the line from Chumbeby, on the Southern Pacific Railway, to Mineral Wells, Chiricahua and to patrol this line to the Rio Grande, the Arizona line. These posts with daily patrols will watch the country better than the former posts on the Mexican border. I get earlier information of the movements of the Apaches."

ins, about ten days ago, was incorrect. A party of Navajos hunting in that country, were mistaken for Apaches. Major Sumner of the Eighth Cavalry reports that he found no fresh trails in the Mogollon Mountains. Lieutenant Goodwin, a party of men, was disengaged between Bear Creek and the Sapillo. He followed them some distance, but they escaped to the mountains. This party has probably committed the depredations that are being charged to the Indians. Major Sumner will endeavor to find out the whereabouts of this party, as far as known, and there are none of the hostile Apaches in New Mexico, though, as they have been driven out of Arizona, it is very

The difficulty grew out of an attempt to arrest a Navajo Indian charged with stealing a horse. Shots were exchanged, and one Indian is reported as wounded. The dispatches of last evening announce that the difficulty is over. Colonel Crofton thinks it was caused by the hasty action of the whites and it may lead to some further action on the part of the civil authorities.

been devoted to the hearing of applicants for office and the determination of appointments. Much of the time has also been consumed in the public good. Some of it has been sacrificed to the indulgence of the people in their natural insistence on useless interviews, and some of it has been unjustifiably wasted. The public welfare and due regard for the claims of those whose interest in the claims of the Government is directly disconnected with office-holding, imperatively demand that in the future the time of the President be differently occupied, and he confidently expects all good citizens will acquiesce in the following plan adopted to that end:

new to those seeking public positions for their advocates. On Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 10 to 11 in the morning, he will receive such other persons as call on strictly public business, and on the same days, at half-past 1 in the afternoon, he will meet those who merely desire to pay their respects. On all other days and times, during that month, he will receive only cabinet officers and heads of departments.

Survivors of "Stevenson's California Expedition."

NEW YORK, 27.—The annual reunion and dinner of the society of the survivors of "Stevenson's California Expedition of '46," known as the first regiment of New York volunteers that served in California during the Mexican war, was held at the residence of John H. Welsh last evening, it being the thirty-seventh anniversary of the discharge of the regiment in California. In charge thirty gentlemen sat down to

John C. Fremont and Major E. C. Slemmons, Fremont's battalion founder, were members of the Alta-California. In 1846, Slemmons was guested by Major Francis O. Clark, president of the Society. Clark resided. His annual report showed that seven deaths of comrades had occurred during the past twelve months, while during the same period six comrades were killed. Slemmons, the title of "Whereabouts Unknown," had been heard from and their names added to the roll of survivors." Of the 844 who served with the regiment there are 160 survivors, 110 of whom live in California. Joseph Evans, secretary, read letters received from many comrades on the Pacific Coast, as also
