MECHANICAL DESIGN COURSE AT WEBER ACADEMY

(Special Correspondence.)
OGDEN, Nov. 20.—The Weber academy has instituted a course in mechanical design for the purpose of giving to young men an opportunity of securing a liberal education. It is not intended for the poor nor for the rich, nor for the young men of the city, nor for the young men of the country, but for all who are earnestly seeking technical education. Mr. S. A. Shreve, of the firm of Shreve & Madison, architects, has charge of this course, and he firmly believes that in this time this department can be made one of the best west of the Rocky mountains. The greatest stress is laid on getting the student to a stage where he can draw with the hand and the eye. The various mediums, pencil, pen and wash drawings. No student can advance to the problems in design who is not capable of making a good drawing with neat lettering. The course is divided into two parts: mechanical design and modern construction. Four hours per week are given to this work during the first semester, of which one hour is given to modern construction. The domestic science department, which began last Thursday after school. At the present time they are studying the process of flour making. The next number on the lecture course will be the famous Whitney brothers, who will appear Wednesday, Nov. 24. Their program is most popular. It abounds in mirth and will be one of the most entertaining numbers on the course. On Friday of last week Mr. Porter called at the Agricultural college at Logan and spent Saturday in the interests of the new agricultural department. He received the same wholehearted treatment which is always accorded visitors to the college. Through the courtesy of President Whitcomb, the agricultural work at the academy will be strengthened by the addition of a number of books and bulletins, as well as by special lectures by members of the A. C. U. faculty. This week numbers of specimens of insects and other zoological material arrived from Mexico. This material was donated by Mr. Porter.

NEGRO HELD FOR FORGERY.

OGDEN, Nov. 20.—Officer O. H. Mohrman, returning from Boise, Idaho, Friday, brought with him David Woods, a negro, to answer to the charge of forgery. The complaint against Woods is that he forged the name of John T. Rutter to a check drawn by H. L. Griffith in favor of Rutter. The forgery was committed by indorsing the check in the name of John T. Rutter. While the officers are glad to land Woods in jail, with the hope of ultimately bringing him to justice for the alleged forgery, they also feel they have captured an important witness to the murder of Officer Riley in Salt Lake a few weeks ago. Woods is suspected of being the negro who was associated with Driscoll and Kennedy in certain robberies and thefts committed in Ogden a short time ago, and that he is the negro who stood across the street as a lookout in Salt Lake when Officer Riley was shot down.

OGDEN, Nov. 20.—It was learned yesterday that the employees of the Southern Pacific company will not receive their October pay until about Dec. 1. When the pay car will arrive and distribute the checks or vouchers to the local men. The old method of paying the railroad men was with the pay car over the road but this has been abolished and the local officers distribute the money monthly. However every eight or 10 months, the paymaster, in order to get into close touch with the employees and to check up their names, makes a trip and oversees the distributing of money himself. In this way he is able to detect whether there are any names appearing on checks being OGDEN, Nov. 20.—An immense steel girder was received Friday at the Ogden theater, weighing 3,000 pounds. This massive beam, which is 32 feet long and 4 feet wide, will be hoisted to the top of the building and the balconies in the theater will be suspended from it. There will be no posts in the auditorium to interfere with the view and therefore every seat in the house will be a good one. Those who have seen this great steel beam, feel that they will be more than willing to trust to its strength to hold up the balconies. The work on the building is moving forward as rapidly as possible and a large gang of plasterers is now busy on the interior of the auditorium.

BRIGHAM CITY PIONEER LAID TO REST

(Special Correspondence.)
BRIGHAM CITY, Nov. 19.—Lucy Ann Olney Nichols, wife of the late Bishop Alvin Nichols, died at her home in the Second ward some time on Monday night. She went to bed apparently hale and hearty Monday evening, having done a big washing and cleaned up her house during the day. Tuesday morning when she did not appear as usual she was found dead in bed, having gone peacefully to sleep never again to wake up in this life. Aunt Lucy Ann, as she was generally known, had often said that she had been promised that she should not taste of death, but that she would be "changed in the twinkling of an eye."
Mrs. Nichols was born near Johnstown, Canada, Dec. 28, 1830; she was baptized when about eight years of age, and moved with her parents to Nauvoo,

Ill. when first the Saints began to gather there. As a young girl, she was well acquainted with the Prophet Joseph Smith, and always bore a faithful testimony to his divine mission. In 1847 she became the wife of Alvin Nichols, and they came west in 1852 with her father's family, walking across the plains. They moved to Brigham City in 1858, where she has resided ever since. She is the mother of nine children; seven of them are still living.
Funeral services were held in the Second ward meetinghouse this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and were very largely attended. Many beautiful tributes were paid to her memory.

POLICE COURT CASES.

BRIGHAM CITY, Nov. 19.—Wednesday evening when Dr. A. W. Ensign came across the street from his office he noticed a large bird sitting on the top of an electric light pole. He went into Christensen & Knudsen's hardware store and borrowed a target gun. The doctor, being an expert Nimrod, took aim and down came a beautiful specimen of the grouse family. Some of the doctor's friends went to Deputy Game Warden Heber Walker and told the story, the officer promptly came and arrested the sportsman with the game in his hand. He was taken before Justice J. P. Bowring, who gave the doctor a lecture on the cruelty of killing birds, especially out of season. Ensign pleaded guilty and thought it looked pretty serious when his honor sentenced him to pay $10, fine of $10, and to have his hunter's license revoked for one year. But when the judge smilingly told him that sentence would be suspended during good behavior, he felt so happy that he presented the judge with the bird.

Another case that came up in Judge Bowring's court yesterday was that of a big 250 pound hunter who came in from duckville and after imbibing too freely of Joe's worst, thought he could ren the town. After the saloon was closed he demanded more whisky and swore that no officer in Brigham City could arrest him. He required several taps on his cranium by Officer Lilly-white's billy before he decided to quietly go with them. He tried to buy off the officer and the judge when he found this meant business. He was told that he was mistaken in his location this was Brigham City and not Salt Lake City so he pleaded guilty and was fined $10.

BRIGHAM CITY BRIEFS.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Nielsen of the Second ward are rejoicing over the arrival of a 14 pound baby boy. This being the first son makes him the more welcome.
Last Friday a little girl came to gladden the hearts of Mr. and Mrs. J. Nephi Hansen of the First ward.

RECENT DEATHS

MURDOCK, E. M.—At Charleston, Utah, Nov. 18, death claimed Esther M. Davie. She was born in eastern Canada, March 13, 1828. Her father, Franklin Judson Davie, with his wife and four small children, started for Utah in 1850. The mother fell a victim to cholera on the plains, and "Aunt Esther" had to take her place as head of the family. In 1857 she was married to N. C. Murdock, and nine children were born to them, three of which survive here, also three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. She was a loving mother and neighbor, and has well earned her reward as a nurse among the sick, without money or price. Impressive services were held in the ward house, and though the flowers in her path of life were few and far between, the elegant white casket was densely covered with well merited, beautiful flowers.
