

LOCAL NEWS.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY JAN. 23.

The Postal Delivery.—Postmaster Lynch has received the official order to arrange for the establishment of a free postal delivery. He is at work maturing the matter, selecting the most suitable sites for the fifty-six boxes and attending to other details. The east and west portions of the city will each be served by a mounted postman, and the more central part by five on foot. The seventh man will attend to the central part proper, including East Temple Street, and will superintend the work of the other six.

Surprise to a Returned Missionary.—From Reuben McBride, a Fillmore correspondent, we learn the particulars of a very pleasant surprise greeting that was tendered on the 19th to Elder Alma Greenwood of that place, who has recently returned from a mission to New Zealand. Our space will not admit of our publishing the account in full, but we are always pleased to learn of such demonstrations in favor of returned missionaries, whose friends can thus appropriately show their appreciation of their friends' labors while abroad and their joy at the return of the absent.

Hurt While Coasting.—About half-past nine o'clock last evening, while a large company of old and young were coasting on First Street, Canyon Road, Miss Nellie Hardy and Mrs. L. G. Hardy were on a sled coming rapidly down the hill, when they collided with an empty "schooner" that was being drawn up almost in the middle of the track. The two ladies were thrown to the ground violently and considerably bruised, especially the former, whose leg it was thought for a time was broken, but such did not prove to be the case. It was fortunate that the accident was not more serious. Coasting is a dangerous pastime, and those indulging in it should exercise great care.

Supreme Court To-day.—John W. Lowell et al., respondents, vs. James T. Parkinson et al., appellants, from Third District. In this cause counsel for appellants orally represented that the real estate of appellant had been sold under the judgment of the District Court therein, and moved that all such sales be vacated, and all real estate so sold be restored to appellant. Such motion was opposed by counsel for respondent. Submitted and taken under advisement.

The People of the Territory of Utah, appellants, vs. Josiah Rogerson, respondent, from the Second District, was argued for the People by Mr. Dickson and by Messrs. Denney and McBride for respondent. The case was then submitted and taken under advisement, after which the court adjourned until to-morrow at 10 a.m.

An Excellent New Book.—A. L. Bancroft & Co., the well known San Francisco publishers, have issued a work that is sure to win its way everywhere. Its title aptly defines its character—"Noble deeds of the Great and Brave." Vigorous sketches are given of heroic actions from the earliest to the present time, in the choicest literary style. It is a book whose inspiration tends to stimulate the higher and better qualities of its readers, and is such a one as youthful perusers specially delight in. Besides the numerous acts of personal devotion to higher aims depicted by this valuable work, it imparts information upon many prominent historical incidents. Withal the tone pervading the work is decidedly healthful. It is in splendid shape mechanically, and its extent is over 500 pages. We regard it as a valuable addition to the literature of the country.

Another Veteran Gone.—Brother James G. Bleak, writing to us from St. George, January 15, 1885, sends the following account of the death of one with whom many of our readers were familiar:

Addison Everett, well known to all the early settlers of Utah, passed to his rest in this city on the 12th inst., and was interred with becoming honors on the 14th.

Deceased was born October 19, 1805, in Walkill, Orange County, N. Y. He was baptized into the church on the 1st of Sept., 1837, by Elder Elijah Fordham, and was the first member of the New York branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He was ordained a High Priest in 1841; gathered to Navaho in 1844 and left there with other Saints in 1846. He was Bishop of one of the wards at Winter Quarters, and then one of the pioneers to Utah, after which he became Bishop of the 8th Ward, Salt Lake City, and so continued for a number of years. At the October Conference, 1861, he was called, with others, on the Southern mission, and arrived on the site of this city in December of that year. Brother Everett has been, during his 47 years' association with the Church, an earnest, devoted and zealous servant of God; and has crowned his former labors by his untiring energy in administering for his dead in the St. George Temple during the last eight years, he and his wife Orpha having been endowed for upwards of 2,000 of their kindred. He has kept the faith, endured to the end, and will rise with the just to inherit glory and eternal lives, for which God be praised.

THE CANNON CASE.

BEFORE COMMISSIONER MCKAY.

LAST EVENING.

The following testimony was given last evening after we went to press:

Mrs. Parsons was next sworn—Have known Angus M. Cannon for some time. Am employed at the Deseret Hospital. He frequently visits the sick in company with other brethren. I know Miss Mattie Hughes. She occupies a room in the cottage part of the Hospital. I can't say how often Mr. Cannon visits the Hospital. He generally visits in the day time, but sometimes in the evening. Have not noticed what time in the evening Mr. Cannon came, I am too busy attending the sick to notice everything of that kind.

Mr. James Wm. Harris—I am steward at the Deseret Hospital. Mr. Cannon visits the Hospital once or twice a week. Have never known of his staying at the Hospital all night. Don't remember stating within the past two weeks that Mr. Cannon has staid there all night. Have seen him come at night and have seen him in the morning. Don't know that he ever stayed over night. Have not received any instructions regarding my testimony since I was subpoenaed. He came early one morning after his horse, which was at the hospital. I suppose the horse had been lent to Miss Hughes. I have said that I thought it was a case of polygamy. My belief that it was a case of polygamy was simply based upon the universal talk and conjecture of polygamy, when a man is seen in company with another woman.

Have never seen him come at night and leave the next morning, so I can't say he ever remained over night. I don't know of anything that warrants me in a firm belief that Mr. Cannon and Miss Paul are married. I have been offered money on the street to find testimony tending to prove the alleged marriage. Have never seen them out together. I know of only one horse belonging to Mr. Cannon.

Mrs. M. J. Foreman—I know Amanda, Clarissa and Sarah Maria Cannon. Sarah M. is my sister. I visit there often. Have heard Mr. Cannon speak of the little girl as his child. Don't know whether Mr. Cannon has recently occupied the same room as Sarah M. Cannon or not.

Eliza A. Foreman.—Am acquainted with Amanda, Clarissa and Sarah M. Cannon. Have heard Mr. Cannon introduce them as his wives. He takes his meals with them alternately.

Mrs. Angus M. Cannon, Jr.—I live in the same house as defendant. I am acquainted with Amanda, Clarissa and Sarah M. Cannon. Mr. Cannon takes his meals alternately with all three. Think I have heard him introduce them as his wives. The little girl Alice is acknowledged by the household as defendant's daughter. She is more than three years of age. I was not present at a difficulty between Angus M. Cannon, Jr. and his father.

John M. Cannon: I am 19 years old. Sarah Cannon is my mother. I live with her. Father eats with us about every third day. Don't know that he ever stays over night. My mother is about 56 years old. Geo. M. Cannon is my brother; he is married. Don't know as father ever called Alice his daughter, nor have I heard her called his daughter in his presence. Don't know Mattie Hughes; never heard that she was married to my father; never heard him affirm or deny it.

Court adjourned until 2 o'clock to-day, at which time the witnesses who had not already testified were instructed to be present.

THIS AFTERNOON'S PROCEEDINGS.

George M. Cannon, County Recorder—I am in my 24th year. Sarah M. Cannon is my mother. Defendant is my father. Mother has four children, and has resided where she now lives about two and a half years. I think I have heard father introduce Amanda and Clarissa as his wives. Have no recollection of hearing Alice called his daughter in his presence. Clarissa occupies a room in the northeast corner of the second floor; father's room is in the southeast corner on the same floor. Amanda's room is also on the same floor. My father has taken his meals one-third of the time at my mother's house and one-third of the time with each of the other ladies. The room which my father occupies was formerly used by his daughter. This was something over two years ago.

Clarissa C. Cannon—I am 40 years old. Have lived at my present home about 9 years. I occupy two rooms on the first floor, one on the second and one on the third. Defendant has occupied his present room about two years and a half. Previous to three years ago he occupied my room part of the time and Amanda's part of the time. My youngest child Alice is over three years of age. Her birthday was on Jan. 11.

The next witness desired was Miss Mattie Hughes, and as she could not be present until half-past three, the court adjourned until that hour.

The court resumed at 3:30 and remained in session for fifteen minutes. As the anticipated witness, Miss Hughes, failed to appear, the case was continued till 11 a. m. to-morrow.

One of the richest things connected with the examination was that during the brief recess taken by the Court, Commissioner McKay offered to furnish the accused with a subpoena if he would go and serve it on Miss Hughes. It is needless to state that this generous tender was declined.

FROM FRIDAY'S DAILY, JAN. 23.

Bust of Brigham Young.—Brother J. H. Brown, Jr., the young sculptor whose work we have had occasion to refer to before, brought to our sanctum to-day a specimen of his latest production in sculpture, in the shape of a plaster bust of the late President Brigham Young. Our readers may judge of its merits from the opinion passed upon it by a relative of the original, who called a moment afterwards, and who unhesitatingly pronounced it the best of the subject yet executed.

Brother Brown's price for the bust is $10, and he is prepared to fill orders for it from the public.

Ogden Items.—We had a call this morning from friend Joseph Hall, of Ogden, who is down here for the purpose of attending his mother's funeral. He tells us there has been a good deal of litigation of late over questions of real estate, water rights, etc., in Ogden, and just now the question of the coming election of municipal officers is the all-absorbing topic there. A "Liberal" mass meeting was held there last Monday evening, in the Opera House, at which the usual anti-"Mormon" spouting was done by General Kimball and F. A. Shiels, the former of whom disgusted even his own party by his obscenity. The ice harvest is furnishing employment for quite a number of men and teams, and a much larger quantity than usual of the frigid element is being stored away for summer use. The health of the people generally in that region is good at present.

Supreme Court.—The Territorial Supreme Court opened this morning at 10 o'clock, with Justices Zane, Emerson and Twiss on the bench.

The first decision rendered was in the case of the United States, respondent, vs. Rudger Clawson, appellant, from the Third District. This cause having been heretofore argued and submitted and the Court being sufficiently advised thereon, it is now here considered, ordered and adjudged (Emerson), A. J., expressing no opinion thereon, the District Court therein, be and the same is hereby affirmed.

On motion of Charles C. Richards, Henry H. Rolapp, who had formerly practiced law in Michigan, was admitted to practice in this court, and the usual oath was taken by him.

His honor Stephen P. Twiss having heretofore tendered the resignation of his office, such resignation taking effect on the appointment and qualification of his successor, retired from the bench, and the Hon. Jacob S. Boreman produced his commission as Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the Territory of Utah, subscribed to the necessary oath and took his seat on the bench as a member of this court.

Giovanni Cereghino, appellant, vs. Antonio Cereghino, respondent, from Third District. Counsel of appellant suggests diminution of the record in this cause, and move that certain papers filed on the 22nd inst. be supplied thereto. Counsel for respondent objects, and the question is reserved for final hearing of the cause.

Death from Asphyxia.—Miss Hattie Colbath, a young lady of twenty-two years, came from her home in the east a short time since on a visit to her uncle, L. U. Colbath, of this city, at whose residence, in the 12th Ward, she has since been staying. She was in her usual health yesterday, and engaged in writing a number of letters, after which she retired in good spirits. This morning the servant girl of the house, who occupied the bedroom on the opposite side of the hall from Miss Colbath's, arose at a quarter past six and proceeded down stairs to light the fires. While engaged in doing so in the fire beneath the one occupied by the young lady she heard groans, apparently from some one in distress. She immediately notified Mrs. Colbath, who without waiting to dress herself, rushed to Miss Colbath's room, but found the door locked, and was unable to gain an entrance. She immediately called her husband up, and he burst the door open when the young lady was found lying upon the bed with the coverings thrown off, and, though alive, unable to speak. The windows of the room were found to be closed tightly, the damper in the stovepipe turned so as to prevent the smoke from ascending the chimney, and the room completely filled with coal gas and smoke.

Mr. Colbath at once gave her some brandy to try to revive her, and then, leaving his wife to attend to her, set off with all possible haste for Dr. Fowler, but before he could return or the Doctor could reach there, she was dead. There can be little doubt that the death was accidental, and was the result of asphyxia, from coal gas, but an inquest is to be held this afternoon to determine the real cause.

The "News" Statement Correct.—The following statement from Mr. James McCurdy, the deputy marshal who served the subpoenas upon the members of President Angus M. Cannon's family, appeared in the Herald this morning:

"The DESERET NEWS on Wednesday evening published a number of things about my visit to Mr. Cannon's house, and my serving Mrs. Amanda Cannon and Mrs. Clara Cannon with a subpoena, which were totally unwarranted and totally false. I went there and knocked at the door, a servant girl opened it, and I asked to see Mrs. Amanda Cannon. I went in with her, and remained in the hallway while she knocked at a door. She said that Mrs.

Cannon was sick. I asked if she was too sick to see me, and she said, "Oh, no!" I went into the room with her and read my subpoena to Mrs. Cannon, who sat near a stove. I was conscious of nothing unpleasant, no delay, no attempt to evade me, and nothing that could warrant the News' article. On going out I met Mrs. Angus Cannon, Jr., whom I am accused of speaking familiarly to. That is true, because I used to go to school with the lady, and I knew her quite well. I asked her if she could show me Clarissa C. Valentine Mason's room. She apparently did not know Mrs. Clara Cannon by that name, and said she would enquire whether her Aunt Clara was the lady I wanted. She found that she was, and I served my subpoena, and that is all there was of the story out of which the News has made so much."

We obtained the information contained in the article referred to from witnesses of the affair on the spot where it occurred, and the following note received this morning will substantiate the truth of all that we said concerning it. The ladies who witnessed his conduct unhesitatingly declared that it was the opposite of gentlemanly and courteous:

SALT LAKE CITY, January 23, 1885.

Editor Deseret News:

After having carefully read the article in Wednesday evening's News concerning the serving of subpoenas upon inmates of Angus M. Cannon's residence by Deputy Marshal James McCurdy we declare the statements it contains to be strictly in accordance with the truth.

Utah County Stock Association Meeting.—About twenty persons were present at the Stock Growers' meeting at the City Hall this afternoon. Mr. Faust arose and said:

Gentlemen—It seems the notice of this meeting has not got out into the country as we intended it, and some of the gentlemen have merely got word. I think Wednesday was the first day that the notice was published, and it is deemed advisable to postpone, or put this meeting off, to this day week at 1 o'clock p.m. in this place, and we will send out again and give all parties interested due notice."

All present were in favor, and the meeting adjourned.

President Cannon Bound Over.—Commissioner McKay's court met this morning at 10 o'clock, to continue the examination of the Cannon case, but as the remaining witness, Miss Mattie Hughes, had not yet been subpoenaed, the discouraged Prosecuting Attorney said he did not wish the case continued any longer, but desired defendant bound over for unlawful cohabitation.

The Court said he would look over the reporter's record of the evidence, and would give his decision at 2 o'clock p.m.

At that hour Court opened and the defendant was declared discharged on the first count of the complaint, but was placed under $1,500 bonds, to answer on the second count, unlawful cohabitation. The bonds were furnished by Messrs. John R. Winder and Elias Morris.

ONE OF THE SPOTTERS.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sanpete Co., Utah, January 22d, 1885.

Editor Deseret News:

There has been a suspicious looking character lurking around here the last few days, prying into family relations. I understand he has been to other settlements in Sanpete on the same errand. He is a rather heavy man, weighing about 170 pounds. He has reddish or sandy whiskers or beard; had on a long gray blanket coat lined with brown ducking, black pants and vest. People should look out for him.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore.

A few years ago the health of Mrs. Livermore became so impaired that she was forced to retire from the lecture field. How and by what means she was restored to health is related in an interesting letter to Drs. Starkey & Palen, of Phila., dated Feb. 1, 1884. From this letter we make the following extract:

"Four years ago this spring, at the end of a very severe and exhaustive winter's work, I found myself utterly broken down in health. My superb constitution had hitherto carried me triumphantly through every task I had imposed on myself. But I was now completely prostrated, with no power of recuperation. I could sleep but two or three hours or the twenty-four, and then only in a semi-sitting position, because of a difficulty of breathing—suffered excruciatingly from sciatica and neuralgia of the stomach—experienced the torment of indigestion, and the train of ills that follow, and was harassed by optical illusions, which were a source of great discomfort, although I knew them to be illusions. My mental depression was as severe as my physical prostration. I believed the hopeless invalidism, which I had dreaded, had come to me, and my chief aim was to hide myself from friends and acquaintances who were afflicted on my account.

"My physician recommended a trip to Europe. The change brought no radical improvement. While in England some American acquaintances told us of the Compound Oxygen, and were enthusiastic in its praises.

"My husband immediately ordered a Home Treatment. I used it for a month, punctiliously obeying the directions, before I began to rally. Then my return to good health was rapid, and since then I have enjoyed almost uninterrupted perfect health and youthful vigor. I resumed work immediately, and have assiduously followed the most laborious vocation ever since, although long past the time of life when it is considered safe to toil severely and unremittingly."

In another letter Mrs. Livermore says: "I have always and everywhere proclaimed the excellence of the Compound Oxygen. I could not live without it, unless I abandoned all my work and simply existed, and I would rather die than do that."

A "Treatise on Compound Oxygen," containing a history of the discovery and mode of action of this remarkable curative agent, and a large record of surprising cures in Consumption, Catarrh, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Asthma, etc., and a wide range of diseases, will be sent free. Address Drs. Starkey and Palen, 1109 and 1111 Girard St. Philadelphia.

Orders for the Compound Oxygen Home Treatment will be filled by H. E. Mathews, 606 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.
