THE SEMI-WEEKLY NEWS.

THE GREAT COUNTRY PAPER OF THE WEST.

It issued Mondays and Thursdays and contains all the cream of the Daily and Saturday News.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

There will be a setting of jury cases before Judge Stewart on Sept. 1, to commence trial on Sept. 14.

A. Howcroft of Green street, aged 17, has lost a finger through amputation, because of a bruised hand hurt while well digging.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Miss Kilduff, 1014 Second street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. S. D. McConnell, wife of a prominent New York Episcopal clergyman, and their son, Dr. Guthrie McConnell of Philadelphia, are at the Wilson on a transcontinental trip.

H. E. Robinson of Provo, an employee of the Utah Construction company, suffered a fractured leg yesterday by a trolley accident near Provo. He was brought to St. Mark's hospital in the afternoon, and he is now doing well.

The Christian union met Monday night and decided to hold a series of evangelistic meetings Sept. 25-27 next in this city. It was thought best to hold them in a large tent, if a tent could be secured; but if not, the meetings will be held in the First Presbyterian church.

The first case of smallpox for nearly three weeks, came to notice yesterday afternoon. It was that of H. H. Butler, recently arrived from Pocatello, Idaho. He was found upon the street with the disease well developed. He was taken by the health officers to the quarantine hospital.

During the present month 40 cases of typhoid fever have been reported. The last three cases were reported yesterday and are as follows: Edward Riches, 411 West Sixth street; Frank Land, 908 Hazel street and the 11-year-old daughter of Mr. Whalen, 222 Third South street.

The funeral of the late Daniel Eyer will be held Friday, at 4 p. m., from his late residence, 900 Fifth East street. The pall bearers will be Frank Knox, William McGilvray, Dr. Ira Lyons, Charles O. Farnsworth and E. S. Best. The services at the house will be in charge of Salt Lake lodge No. 2 of Odd Fellows, with interment in Mount Olivet cemetery. Friends are invited.

The Women of Woodcraft are holding a picnic at Lagoon today, the first affair of the kind they have given in three years. Prizes are being offered for various things, among them the prettiest baby and the oldest woman in Woodcraft on the grounds. The committee to decide the prettiest baby have made arrangements for a special train on which to escape from the country just before the award is announced.

W. E. Ware has returned from his picturesque pilgrimage to the upper Green river. While in that country Mr. Ware discovered petrified remains of a Bronzovian whose thigh bones weighed eight tons, and there was a tale like a telephone mast. The gentleman lived in the Jurassic period, which Mr. Ware regrets was some little time before he himself was born, as he would have been pleased to have met the late lamented.

The management of the Consolidated Railway and Power company is thinking of starting a local express service for which a franchise will be asked next month from the city council. The matter of a freight service has been considered, but the trouble and expense are such that the street railway people hardly think it would pay to change in it. Vice President Reed is working out the express service scheme, however, and believes it can be made to work successfully.

The fact that the electrical automobile has its disadvantages, was illustrated yesterday when J. D. Bransford's car gave out on south East Temple street, and had to be hauled home by an express wagon. There are at present but two charging stations in this city, one at the barn of Col. Holmes, and the other at the warehouse of the Salt Lake company. It is claimed, however, that charging stations are to be located in different parts of the city, so that the present inconvenience attending the use of the electric automobile in Salt Lake will be obviated.

HOW SPENCER WAS KILLED

Was Pushing Fifteen Sticks of Giant Powder Into a Newly Drilled Hole.

Further investigation of the case of Samuel Spencer, who had his head blown off by a premature explosion of giant powder while blasting slag at the old Germania smelter yesterday, seems to show beyond doubt that no one was to blame in the matter.

The facts are that shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning while Spencer and Isaac Harrison were engaged in blasting slag, they loaded two small holes and then went away to load a large six-foot hole, which they had drilled the day before. The deceased was pushing 15 sticks of giant powder together and was pushing it into the hole when it exploded. The slag struck him in the face, knocking him 16 feet, killing him instantly.

Harrison, his partner, who was the only witness to the tragedy, was standing right behind him and was knocked up and thrown about 15 feet by the explosion, and that he too was not instantly killed seems miraculous.

The deceased was a native of England and about 60 years of age. He came to this country in 1874 and leaves a wife and six children, besides a large circle of friends. His wife, who has for a long time been an invalid, was prostrated by the shock. The body was taken to the morgue at Murray. Notice of the funeral will be later given.

Loss of Appetite.

Is commonly gradual, one dish after another is set aside till few remain. These are not eaten with much relish, and are often so light as not to afford much nourishment.

Loss of appetite is one of the first indications that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best of all tonics.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

Sentence of C. E. Shuff for the Murder of Eugene Kline, Mine Bookkeeper.

(Special to the "News.") Butte, Mont., Aug. 20.—Judge Morgan yesterday sentenced Chalmers E. Shuff to life imprisonment for the murder of Eugene Kline, bookkeeper at the mines at Macle, Idaho. Shuff demanded that Kline give him cash for his work instead of a check and upon Kline telling him that such an act was beyond his authority Shuff left the office vowing he would blow up the place with giant powder. Later he returned with a Winchester and shot Kline, killing him instantly. Insanity was the defense.

WHERE ROLLS THE OREGON

City Council Formally Decides to Visit Picturesque Puget Sound.

The council committee last evening decided to take a trip to the Columbia river and Puget sound country. They will leave on a special car over the Oregon Short Line at 12:30 Saturday night. Other city officials will probably accompany them. The trip will include Portland and probably Seattle and other points along the line.

James Hegney appeared before the committee on police and prison last evening and explained that he was in California when his barkeeper kept open on Sunday and that the violation of the law was against his positive instructions. It was decided not to revoke his license for the Albany, at Second and Sixth West streets.

R. S. Campbell and F. M. Unger, representing north East Temple street property owners, appeared before the committee on streets to object to the grade line between East and West Temple on First North street as proposed by the city engineer. The profile of the city engineer was adopted by the committee, but it is said no further action will probably be taken for the present.

Prevents Heat Prostration.

Take Horstford's Acid Phosphate during hot weather. A delightful Acid Tonic that quiets and strengthens the nervous system and induces refreshing sleep.

Amusements.

At the Grand last night the Wiedemann company changed its bill, but in spite of this fact, it was evident from the size of the audience that no sort of attraction can play successfully, against the warm weather. The specialties between the acts were the main features of the evening. The play entitled "A Steam Laundry," while amusing in places and while it was well played by several of the people, is not a very heavy piece of dramatic construction on the whole, and a number of the lesser parts were in very mediocre hands. The same bill goes tonight, but tomorrow night and Saturday afternoon and evening will see a change in the play of "A Pair of Tramps," with the usual vaudeville features between the acts being announced.

Tomorrow at the Salt Palace theater Indian free day and every lady will be admitted both to the grounds and theater without charge.

NEARLY DROWNED.

Escaped from Lagoon.

An accident which came near resulting in the death by drowning of John Richards, an aged resident of Morgan, occurred at Lagoon last night. The gentleman had wandered off from his relatives and fell into the lake and had it not been for the fact that his cries were heard by Officer Dwyer he probably would have drowned in short order. As it was, however, the officer rushed to the rescue and succeeded in getting him out before the spark of life had taken its flight. It was some time, though, before he was restored to his normal condition.

HICKOX DEFENDS HIMSELF.

Says He Has Acted Impartially in Enforcement of Sheep Laws in Wyoming.

Agent George S. Hickox of the bureau of animal industry holds that his position with regard to the sheep scab trouble in Wyoming is correct, and claims that he has not acted unjustly. He says that the department rules regarding scab are the same as those in Wyoming, so that he has acted impartially. He recommended modification in instances where he has noticed the regulations acted too stringently and thinks the sheepmen are unreasonable.

Live Stock Agent Ira Tuttle of the Short Line says Mr. Hickox has justly placed Utah and Wyoming under quarantine, and that through his efforts the scab is being eradicated. Mr. Tuttle says:

"Mr. Hickox deserves credit instead of censure for his work. He has followed out his instructions to the letter, and no one knows it better than I. If the other sheepmen of the Short Line and Union Pacific are doing in the way of requiring clean bills of health for all sheep before allowing them to enter a corral, the scab would disappear in a year. Hickox is strict, but he is required to be so by his department. The sheepmen are sore because they have to disinfect their sheep before we will handle them; it is too expensive for us to do, so they have to do it."

HERE AFTER FOX.

Deputy Sheriff Comes From Alabama for Alleged Murderer—Who Gets Reward?

W. A. McDowell, deputy sheriff of Monroe county, Ala., will leave the city this evening with W. W. Fox, the man wanted for murder. The officer arrived from Alabama last night armed with the necessary papers and at once identified Fox as the man wanted. The deputy sheriff was a witness of the killing of Stuart by Fox on July 7. The two men quarreled on an excursion train over a game of craps.

Now that Fox has been arrested a question has been raised as to who is entitled to the reward offered for his capture. The man was located and arrested first by Detectives Raleigh and Norrell. Later upon habeas corpus proceedings he was released, as it was held that the private detective had no authority to arrest him. Hardly had Fox been released when Sheriff Emery pointed upon him and placed him in the jail. The detectives claim they located because they located the man, while the sheriff thinks he is entitled to the money because he held the prisoner.
