EXCITING CHASE AFTER DESPERADO

Deputy Sheriff Belpap and Sheriff Josephson Run James Walker To Earth.

CRIMINAL CASES IN COURT.

Sugar Beet Digging Begun—Death of Miss Nettie Cox of Hooper—September Weddings

Deputy Sheriff Joseph Belpap returned to Ogden last evening, having in custody two prisoners, James Walker, alias John Young, alias John Murphy, the desperado, and Ralph Douglas, alias John Young, alias John Murphy. Walker is the man who held his gun on Deputy Belpap on the afternoon of Sept. 6, and later stole a bicycle and by a gun display forced the railroad men who chased him on an engine, to get back on their engine and start back to the depot yards, and the same evening frightened Daniel Haxson by pulling his gun on him in Haxson's bath.

From the time Deputy Belpap had his unpleasant experience with Walker, he has been determined to get his man, dead or alive, and is desiring of much credit for his successful chase in capturing his man. Sunday morning Mr. Belpap learned that Walker had gone north. He left that morning for Brigham City, where he was joined by Sheriff Josephson of Josephson county in the chase. The two officers drove to Corinne and there took a train to Promontory, where they were met by J. A. Nelson, foreman for Corey Brothers' Construction company, who took them to Blue Creek, where Walker had been, but he had left and gone over to Blind Springs, to which place they rode horseback, but they found he had left there and gone to Valley View, to which place they were pursued, the officers riding all night, until they were nearly exhausted, to find he had started for American Falls on horseback. This information was obtained from some travelers, who had met him and also told the officers that he had shaved and had his hair cut short and traded his first horse for a suit of clothes. The officers rode horses over to Collinston Monday morning and caught the north bound passenger train, which took them to American Falls, arriving there Monday evening at 7:30. Sheriff Josephson got off the train on one side and Deputy Belpap on the other. They went slowly to the hotel and secured a room, to which Mr. Belpap went, and where he was met by a man who was waiting his description had put up a horse at the Valley stable, and in a short time he located him on the street, and immediately went to the hotel and notified the police of the chase. The officers were discussing their plans when they entered the hotel and asked for a room, to which he was shown by the lady at the hotel, who took him to a room next to the one the officers had secured. After going to the room with the lady, the lady he started back to the room with the lady when the officers came up on him suddenly, each one taking him by the arm. He fought hard to get away, but he was loaded and fastened to his belt. He was then taken away from him with great difficulty. He was finally handcuffed, and then he gave up, realizing the arrest was at the mercy of the officers. The arrest took place at 8 o'clock Monday night, and the officers arrived here with the prisoner last evening at 6 o'clock.

While waiting at Pocatello yesterday, Deputy Belpap met Ralph Douglas, well known in Ogden, who is wanted by the Salt Lake officers on the charge of entering a barber shop at Murray and straining a quantity of barber tools about two years ago. Mr. Belpap immediately placed Douglas under arrest and handcuffed the two prisoners together to bring them to Ogden. Sheriff Josephson, who did some extensive work in the capture of Walker, while at Pocatello he heard that a man from Glover's livery stable at Brigham City some time ago was seen in the city. He went to look for the man, but he was not found. He was very strange circumstance about the trip was Sheriff Bailey sent him a telegram to Promontory giving him additional information about the officers left and a key to go to Pocatello. The telegram arrived after the officers left and a key to go to Pocatello, and the officers then went to Pocatello, where they were met by a man who was waiting his description had put up a horse at the Valley stable, and in a short time he located him on the street, and immediately went to the hotel and notified the police of the chase. They left Brigham City Sunday morning until yesterday morning about three o'clock, when they placed the prisoners in the Pocatello jail and went to the hotel. Walker admits that he is the man who pulled the gun on Mr. Belpap a week ago, but denies having stolen the sheep from Thomas Ballantyne. He has the appearance of being a desperate man and stated to the officers that he never buys a horse. When he wants one he goes to someone's barn and takes one. He will have to answer to the charge of grand larceny and possibly to the charge of assault with a deadly weapon.
