according to their works. This is a wonderful community unique from every standpoint. They are not understood, neither is the char-They ter of their work. Ever since the days of Christ those who believe in Him en praying to Him in reference to His Kingdom being established, The speaker quoted the prayer set down by the Savior as a model prayer, and pointed out that it referred to the establishing of the Kingdom of heaven. It has been offered to various ages in the history of this planet, but it has been rejected because of the wrongful use of the free agency men enjoyed. Hence in all former dispensations men have arrayed themselves against the establishing of the Kingdom of God They have stoned the prophets and ob-literated the Kingdom. When John ame, preaching, he said he baptized with water, but one should come after him, whose shoe latchet he was un-worthy to unloose. He came and emtablished his Kingdom, organized it. It was an organization that had a distinc-tive character. In it He placed Apostles, and prophets, and all other officers recorded in the history of His trans-actions, What constitutes the King-dom of heaven is the authority of heaven. The Kingdom grew and spread, but suffered the fate it had always suffered. The Church was withdrawn, The laws of the kingdom are that man must repent of his sins, and be baptized by immersion for the remission of sins and to have the Holy Ghost conferred upon him by the laying on

MOTHERS' CONGRESS.

The last meeting of the Mothers' congress on Saturday was distinguished by a much larger attendance than the previous ones, and the enthusiasm marked by the addresses made by the speakers and the entire program is a good augury for the future work and sessions of the organizations.

A new set of officers was elected after the regular program on Saturday after-noon, resulting in the following being

State organizer, Miss Mary C. May; State organizer, Miss Mary C. May, assistant State organizer, Miss Carrie Williams: president, Mrs. William Stewart, first vice president, Mrs. Em-ma McVicker; second vice president, Mrs. Ida Dusenberry, Provo; third vice president, Mrs. Ferry, of Park City; fourth vice president, Mrs. Amy Ly-man; fifth vice president, Mrs. G. urer, Mrs. H. E. Schüler. Miss May appointed as mother-re-gents Mrs. B. Cluff, of Utah county, Mrs. Lucy A. Clark, of Davis county, and Mrs. Mary A. Allen, of Summit county. A resolution was offered by Mrs. E.

E. Shepherd, as follows: That we, the members of the Moth.

er's congress, appeal to the city fathers to enforce the laws of the city prohibing girls from entering winercoms and s innd against selling cigarettes to minors, that our families may be protected from the evils that threaten us. This, after being amended by Mrs.

R. T. Hilliard of Ogden to include the enforcement of the compulsory education laws, was passed. The Child's Culture club of Ogden through its president, Miss Whalon, was admitted as a member of the congress, and the meeting adjourned after a rising vote of thanks tendered the retiring officers.

BURIED YESTERDAY.

The funeral exercises over the remains of Nels J. Gronlund, who died last Friday morning, took place in the Seventeenth ward meeting house yesterday at noon. The speakers were Elders Duncan McAilister, John C. Sandberg, Martin Christopherson, An-drew Jenson, J. M. Sjodahl, Aurellus Miner and Bishop Walter J. Beatle, The grave was dodleated by Elder Andrew

Elder Gronland was universally nown throughout the community a few years ago, in Salt Lake busi-ess circles; but lost all his property ness circles; but tost all his property through a combination of bad luck and hard times. He was a native of Swe-den, being born in Gryby, near Lund, Malmahus Lan, Oct, 13, 1843, and emi-grated to Utah in 1849. In 1875-80 he filled a mission to New Zealand, and in 1876 also a short mission to Sweden. He was a member of the Third quorum of Seventy, of the hands of authorized agents. The speaker spoke of the ordinance of baptism, saying that it typified something greater than itself, that of the death and burial and resurrection of the Savior. He further spoke on the subject pointing out its beauties, and the authority that is necessary to make it effective Sometimes we appreciate more that which is passed than that which is with us. We have a country here which is beautiful to behold. We have other things here that are infinitely more wonderful, incomparably won-derful. One of the most wonderful things of the nineteenth century is the existence of this community. How did they come here? Did the power of man bring them here? No: the power of man could not have brought them and made them so conspicuous in the world We look back upon the flight of the children of Israel from Egypt, when children of israel from Expypt, when they were about to be destroyed, and the Red Sea opened and permitted them to pass over, and be saved. But the existence of this people is more won-derful than that. They are from all nations of the earth. Their ways and manners have always been different but here you will find the most homogeneous community in the most non-tas spoken to them. He has raised up a prophet to re-build His kingdom, to send forth messengers into the world to call men to repentance that they may receive the witness of the Holy Spirit by taking the proper steps. And when these steps were taken the wit-ness was given and the promise of the Savior is fulfilled that they shall know of the doctrine whether it be of God or of men, Here then is the nucleous to a marvelous work, a work that relates to the redemption of the world, and the bringing about of an era of peace and righteousness. Heretofore the kingdom has been rejected, but the Prophet Dariel tells of the organizations that will exist in the world until the last days when the God of heaven will set up a kingdom that shall enlure, and that it shall never be given. to another people. This work has been fought and opposed in every manner conceiveable but when a crisis has been approached when disintegration of the Saints seemed inevitable, a split has appeared in the clouds and the sunlight of heaven has again shone upon the de-voted heads of the Saints. The reason of this is that this organization is inof this is that this organization is in-destructible, it is a branch of the kingiom of heaven, come to stay, and to bring about the reign of pence, when the Redeemer will come down upon the earth to reign with His people one thousand years.

The trouble, said the speaker, is that the people of the world come to their conclusions before their investigations of this work begins. President Angus M. Cannon spoke
