The public schools of Salt Lake were thronged with teachers from county schools this morning, each one of whom was following some course of study through the grades from the beginning to the graduating day.

The pupils and teachers were on hand and regular lessons were gone through with while the visiting teachers formed an audience for the work. Many questions were asked and replies given by teachers in explaining the methods used. From comment among the visitors it is evident that many innovations will go to the remote towns of the state as the result of the visits to the public schools.

CONVENTION OPENS.

The convention of state teachers got under way this morning after a social session at the University of Utah last night. At 10 o'clock the department meetings were called at the University of Utah buildings, and addresses were made by teachers, to those directly interested in the department discussed.

HIGH SCHOOL SECTION.

Principal Geo. Eaton presided over the high school section, and a paper was read on the "Civic Importance of the High School" by C. A. Blotcher of Park City. It was followed by another on "Methods of Instruction in Secondary Schools" by Maudie Hall of the L. D. S. university. A business session concluded the meeting.

PARENTS' SECTION.

The parents' section met in the general assembly room and was addressed by Milton Bennett of the University of Utah on facts which the parent should know about school children. Dr. E. G. Gowan also spoke on the physical and physiological state of the child.

Following these two meetings the teachers separated to visit the schools of the city.

This work took up this afternoon, and this evening the general assembly will be held, to listen to an address by Dr. Hall, who spent today as a guest of the University club.

A LARGE ATTENDANCE.

As was predicted by Principal Van Cott and others in touch with the situation, the attendance at the present session of the association is a record breaker. Out of 1,800 teachers in the state over 1,400 are present in Salt Lake at the convention, and over 1,000 attended the opening session last night.

MRS. COOLEY HERE.

Mrs. Alice W. Cooley, president of the department of elementary education of the National Educational association, and an author of note on topics connected with the teaching of English in the grades, arrived in Salt Lake this morning. She was met by President Cummings and escorted to the Knutsford where she will remain during her visit.

"You know," she said to the "News" this morning, "that it has been a common belief that the teaching of literature begins properly in college, and it is my idea that it begins properly on the first day a child enters school. I favor beginning the work in literature at the bottom of the grade schools, and as great as the university field is, I sometimes think that after all the primary grades are where the child receives his most lasting impressions, and where the beginnings ought to be on the subjects he meets later in life."

A CULTURED WOMAN.

Mrs. Cooley is from Minneapolis, although recently she has been a member of the faculty of the North Dakota university. She began her work in the schools in Minneapolis where she taught first in the grade schools, then was principal of a grade school, and in 1900 left this work to become a member of the faculty of North Dakota university. Her specialty in this work has been to prepare teachers for work in literature and language. She is the author of "Language Lessons from Literature," a joint work with W. F. Webster of Minneapolis, of a language series of text books extending from the fourth grade through the high school. Mrs. Cooley's first lecture is scheduled for the Assembly hall tomorrow afternoon.

ANNUAL ADDRESS.

The big assembly room of the University was so crowded last night that it was with difficulty that President Cummings made himself heard in his annual address, and when he later introduced President Hall he had to wait until the teachers who suddenly found themselves neighbors to friends they had not seen for years, had finished their greetings.

President Cummings said in part: "We greet ourselves again among our own mountains and realize that it is better to be closely identified with our own state."

"The Utah Teachers' association exists: (1) To enable the teachers to gain new inspiration from the great educational leaders and to exchange ideas with one another; (2) to ennoble the profession and make it respected among men; (3) to protect the profession and make it possible to attain greater efficiency; (4) to unify the system, encourage effort and obtain the best results possible.

PROBLEM IS LOCAL.

"Our field is Utah. We look out upon our mineral resources and put forth great effort and expend vast capital in opening up the treasures of our mountains. We gaze upon our ripening fields and rich meadows; upon our salt-laden sea and bounding mountain streams and dream of vast agricultural and manufacturing possibilities. Here are fields that call forth our best powers of brain and hand. But these mighty material opportunities do not compare with the possibilities presented to every school teacher in the upturned faces before him each day.

A NOBLE PROFESSION.

"The teachers' profession, the noblest of all professions, presents greatest possibilities, and should be a life work not a makeshift for temporary bread and butter.

"We cannot be satisfied until the profession is recognized and respected by all citizens, and supported by legislation and privileges of School Trustees." "We must not be satisfied until the name of Utah is known and respected throughout the nation. The teachers can bring this about."

DR. HALL SPEAKS.

Following President Cummings, Dr. Hall spoke briefly on educational ideas which he pointed out that education is the one creed to which the world is tending, and that the field of the teacher is becoming larger and larger.

Musical numbers were given by Miss Lillian Turner, W. C. Clive, and Ervin C. Larson. Following the brief program dancing was indulged in and refreshments were served in the gymnasium building.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them. They litter the whole system. Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had skin rheum on my hands so that could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." Mrs. Ira O. Brown, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

SUSPECT HOGAN IS ARRAIGNED.

Man Charged With the Assassination of Gov. Steunenberg Appears in Court.

SAYS ATTORNEY IS COMING.

Everything Points to His Connection With Blackest Crime in the History of Idaho.

(Special to the "News.")
Boise, Ida., Jan. 3.—Suspect Hogan was taken before the probate judge at Caldwell this morning and arraigned, charged with the assassination of ex-Gov. Steunenberg. He had demanded a release, and action was necessary to hold him. When arraigned, Hogan asked if his arrest had been telegraphed to newspapers, saying: "If Spokane papers publish my arrest, a lawyer will come to defend me; otherwise I need two days to get one from that city." The hearing was set for Saturday.

Besides Hogan, five others are in jail, held as suspects. Two are known to have been in consultation with Hogan at Nampa, nine miles from Caldwell, the day before the murder occurred. They give their names as Frank Campbell, alias "Scarface," and Warren Allen Herron. The latter two are miners, and have been working in rock-cut on the Idaho Northern Railroad grade, which job they quit two weeks ago. Three others in jail refuse to give names, and when asked for their identity they declined to talk. Efforts are being made to find parties to identify them. Officers connected with the Cour D'Alene riot cases are on their way to Caldwell for the purpose of connecting any under arrest with the defendants in those convictions.

Rewards amounting to $25,000 have been served to put many detectives at work on the case. The result is friction between foreign and local officers. Captain Swain of Thiefs attempted to take charge, which was resented by Sheriff Nichols. Swain has possession of Hogan's effects, among which were found a white powder resembling plaster of Paris, a bottle of liquid supposed to be nitro-glycerine, players used by miners to crimp fuming caps, and that some character of powder as that found in the gate post at Steunenberg's where the explosion occurred. A new year's card addressed to the president of the Federation of Labor was found in Hogan's clothes in his room at the hotel. Hogan refuses to explain possession of the articles, and says he will prove his innocence when his attorney arrives.

ALL ARE SINGING HOME SWEET HOME

Oregon and Washington Strongly Commend the "See America" Scheme.

SWITZERLAND IS SURPASSED.

Scenery Here as Attractive as Any That Can Be Seen Abroad—A Few Examples.

The following of local interest is from a recent issue of the Portland Oregonian:
"There are encouraging reports as to results of the effort put forth in the states of the Pacific coast and Rocky mountain regions to develop tourist travel from the east. A convention will be held at Salt Lake in January at which Oregon will be represented by Governor Chamberlain, H. M. Calk, A. L. Craig, Tom Richards and William Blakely. Co-operation is being arranged between the railroad companies, the commercial organizations and the state and city officials.
"The movement to induce the American people to see their own country before touring Europe is receiving some attention in the eastern press, which is a good sign," said A. L. Craig, general passenger agent of the Harriman lines in Oregon.
"Scenery UNSURPASSED."
"Harper's Weekly has commented favorably on the proposition. The American Lumberman, published by Debevoise at Chicago, contains a lengthy article strongly supporting the idea. Railroad men are, of course, heartily in favor of the movement, and will do all in their power to encourage it. There is no question that the western part of the American continent has more and better scenery than can be found anywhere else. There is no end of delightful places where eastern people may spend a summer in the Pacific northwest. As for mountain climbing, which many go to Switzerland to enjoy, the ascent of Mount Hood is as interesting as any one could desire. A railroad that is now under construction in Hood River valley will shorten the stage ride to Cloud Cap Inn. The terminal of the new road will be about four miles from the present stage station and 11 miles from the Inn."
"All the transcontinental lines are displaying an active interest in the work proposed by the Salt Lake convention promoters and the prospect favors a great and successful meeting of shrewd, earnest business men who have determined to see the country before they go to Europe."
"See Europe if you will, but see your own country first," is the slogan, and it will be used to the attention of tourists all over America with the hope of turning their faces westward."

A VOICE FROM WASHINGTON.
The Tacoma, Wash., Ledger says: "An organized plan for the development of the thorough advertising of the Pacific northwest was discussed last night by the board of trustees of the chamber of commerce. Before the meeting adjourned, it was voted that Tacoma should be strongly represented at the commercial convention at Salt Lake, Jan. 25."
"The Tacoma delegation has not been named, but Secretary L. W. Pratt has been decided on as the first member, and may be chairman.
"The whole proposition is to divert travel from Europe to the Pacific coast," said Mr. Pratt. "The call for a convention of representatives of the commercial organizations of the northwest is signed by John C. Cutler, governor of Utah, Richard P. Morris, mayor of Salt Lake, and Heber M. Wells, president of the Commercial club. The slogan of those who initiated the movement is: 'Europe if you will, but America first,' a sentiment that was heartily approved by the chamber last night. The board decided that it would be represented at the Salt Lake meeting, but the delegates will not be named until after the first of the year."

WHO STOLE THE FRUIT?
Short Line Section Boss Sues Davis County Farm for Libel.
A libel suit has been filed in the district court by George Phelps, section boss on the Oregon Short Line railroad in Davis county, against Joseph C. Wood, a resident of Davis county, in which plaintiff asks damages in the sum of $1,000 for alleged defamation of character. The complaint alleges that on or about Aug. 21, 1905, the defendant maliciously wrote the following letter of and concerning plaintiff to John McEntee, roadmaster for the Short Line.
"The family of Mr. Phelps, your section boss, are very helpful in helping themselves to my tenants' garden, that is the boys, and on Aug. 13, 1905, Mr. Phelps himself was doing the same for which I earnestly plead for his removal and severe public disgrace."
Plaintiff claims that said statement was false and defamatory and that his reputation has been damaged by the same in the sum of $1,000, for which he asks judgment.

THREE MURDER CASES IN COURT.

Frank Womack, Frank Mazza And Jess Thomas Each Arraigned Today.

ALL THREE USED A REVOLVER.

Slayer of Joseph Mathews Pleaded Not Guilty to Murder in the Second Degree.

Three prisoners charged with murder were arraigned before Judge Armstrong in the criminal division of the district court today. One of them pleaded not guilty and the other two were given until next Monday, Jan. 8, to plead.
Frank Womack pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree. The information alleges that Womack, on Oct. 22, 1904, shot and killed Joseph Mathews at the latter's residence in this city, where Womack was boarding. At the preliminary hearing Womack was bound over to the district court by Judge Diehl upon the charge of murder in the first degree, but it appears that District Attorney Leebour has reduced the charge to murder in the second degree. Womack was represented in court today by Col. M. M. Kallgren.
Frank Mazza, the Italian who shot Joseph Vatralla on Sept. 5, 1905, inflicting a fatal wound from which the man died Sept. 18, was arraigned upon the charge of murder in the first degree and was given until next Monday to plead. He was represented by Attorney Newton.
Jess Thomas, a colored man, was arraigned upon the charge of murder in the first degree and was also given until next Monday to plead. Thomas is charged with shooting Harry Wilson, another colored man, on Oct. 23, 1905. It was thought for a time that Wilson would recover, but he finally died on Dec. 6. Atty. S. A. King was in court to represent the defendant.

MUTUAL MUST PAY.
Reversal of Decision by Judge Marshall of Interesting Insurance Case.
The case of Geo. H. Payne against the Mutual Life Insurance company, which has become historic among local legal battles, has again been brought to notice by a reversal of the opinion handed down by Judge Marshall in favor of the defendant, in the circuit court of appeals at St. Paul.
The case started soon after the death of Mrs. George H. Payne, who died in 1904, a year after taking out a policy. Her husband attempted to collect on the policy, but payment was refused on the ground that the policy had not been taken out in good faith. The agent who wrote it up was contesting for a gold watch to be given the agent doing the best work, and he paid the premium himself. Mrs. Payne's note for it. He never delivered the policy, but on her death offered it to her husband if he would share with him the money collected.
Judge Marshall held that the company need not pay, and the circuit court of appeals now finds for the plaintiff, on the ground that the company received the premium which was duly paid, and is therefore liable.

A CHECK FOR MORMIE.
Murray Justice Gets a Set Back from District Court.
Judge Lewis today rendered a decision in favor of the petitioner in the case of James Supple, who asked for a writ of prohibition against Justice of the Peace J. P. McOmie, to prevent him from prohibiting the latter from taking any further action in a case wherein John Seppich secured a judgment of $37 against Supple. A peremptory writ of prohibition was issued against the justice and Supple was given judgment for his costs in the action.
Supple alleged in his petition that Justice McOmie had issued any judgment whatever in the case as neither the plaintiff nor defendant were residents of Murray and the contract sued upon was not payable in Murray. Supple was a resident of Salt Lake City at the time the action was commenced in the justice court and Seppich was a resident of Wyoming.
A motion was made by Supple to dismiss the action for want of jurisdiction, but the motion was overruled by Justice McOmie, who proceeded to take further action in the case. A writ of prohibition was granted by the circuit court of appeals today, and held that McOmie had no jurisdiction in the case. The justice is therefore enjoined from taking any further action in the case and will also be compelled to pay the costs incurred by Supple in his proceedings in the district court.

SUIT AGAINST SAN PEDRO.
A. G. Nelson Seeks to Recover Board Bills From Railroad Company.
Suit has been filed in the district court by A. G. Nelson against the San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake Railroad company to recover the total sum of $2,162.81. Of that amount it is claimed that $1,400 is due for board and lodging for employees of defendant and the sum of $762.81 is alleged to be due for merchandise sold to defendant at Black Rock on Aug. 7, 1905. It is alleged that defendant agreed to deduct the amount due from plaintiff for board and lodging of its employees from their salaries and to pay the same to plaintiff, the latter now claims that defendant has deducted the said money but has failed to pay it to plaintiff.

UTAH MADE A GOOD GAIN.
Washington, Jan. 2.—The preliminary estimates of the director of mines upon the production of gold and silver in the United States in the calendar year 1905 shows a gain of approximately $6,000,000 in gold and 1,000,000 ounces of silver over the product of 1904. The gain in gold is almost entirely represented by the increased output of Alaska, the product of which is placed at $14,650,100, against $9,160,500 in 1904. The Alaska gain is nearly all in the Tanana district, the returns for which are $5,107,000. California shows a loss of about $1,500,000, due, it is said, to severe drought, which not only brought hydraulic operations to a standstill, but interfered with quartz mills to some extent. Nevada shows a gain of about $400,000 and Utah as much. Colorado gained about $1,000,000; South Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Arizona are estimated at about the same as in the previous year. The Klondike continues to fall off, and is about $2,000,000 below 1904.

We beg to announce for the benefit of our readers and inventors generally that we have established in connection with our paper a patent bureau and have associated with us at Washington, D. C., an attorney who has been in continuous practice for the past 20 years and we will guarantee that any patent matters placed in our hands will receive prompt and careful attention, and that the charges will be moderate in all matters relating to patents.
Inventors are requested to send us a rough sketch and description of their inventions and we will have our attorney give a free opinion as to whether a patent can be secured.
If an inventor desires a search of the patent records made and a report submitted giving a full and accurate opinion as to the chances of securing a patent and sending copies of all patents in the line to which his invention relates, he should send $5.
