When the An-gel told Joseph at the age of 17 or 18 years that his name should be known or good and evil in all the world, it nust have appeared beyond ordinary hust have appeared beyond ordinary belief. Yet this prophecy has received (xact fulfillment. There are those who associate with the name Joseph Smith, all the evil concelvable; while there are thousands of whom we are a part, who hold his name in reverence. We feel very grateful to God that the Gospel bescome to method the cospel has come to us through the instrumen-iality of the Prophet.

President Lund read a passage from the revelation given to Joseph before the meeting where the Church was or-ganized was dismissed, in which the Prophet was called a seer, a translator, and a revelator, and, indeed, Joseph was a seer. He brought back to the comprehension of men some of the most glorious principles revealed to the cient Saints. The speaker instanced doctrine of the Godhead, revealed ancient Saints. to the Prophet in the first vision. this doctrine is in full harmony And with all the teachings given in the Hebrew scriptures. The world hates us, as they assert, for teaching false doctrine; and yet, President Lund said the world had not proved them false. On the contary they are the same as have been target by all the Saints of ancient days. And the agreement is not coh-fined alone to the wording of the prin-ciples; the same power attends them

Miss Lottle Owen then sang "Palm Branches.

Elder Joseph E. Robinson, president of the California mission, reported the condition of his part of the Lord's vineyard, not a great many converts were made in that mission; but the Elders are preaching the Gospel nevertheless, they are warming men prior to the ad-vent of our Savior. Those who are joining the Church there are ci the better and more stable class. Elder Robinson spoke of the changes that have occurred in the doctrines and ideas of men since the introduction of the Gospel. Infant damnation has been cast aside as a false doctrine; the bot-tomless and everlasting hell of literal fire, has now been abandoned as a tenet of religion; in some quarters we hear of religion; in some quarters we hear of the principles of tithing, temple building, and quorums of apostles; and so the conceptions of men respecting Deity have undergone serious modification, as also have their ideas con-cerning the relation which we sustain cerning the relation which we sustain towards God. In like manner, he said, changes had occurred in scientific prili-ciples. He instanced the regulation which so many corporations that em-ploy large numbers of men, have adopt-ed, prescribing as a requisite that their employes shall not use tobacco; and the modifications of the laws of modern sci-ence concerning matter-ideas which ence concerning matter-ideas which been taught for years by the Lat-

president of the Northwestern States mission, was the next speaker. He said that in the mission over which he pre-sided there had been about 75 persons baptized during the last year. They held street meetings, at which there were sometimes only a few people and sometimes several hundred. But they fait that whatever was the result of felt that whatever was the result o their labors, they had done their duty Elder Pratt related instances to show their

Elder Pratt related instances to show the good spirit that actuated the mis-sionaries in that part of the world. Ho particularly mentioned a Priesthood meeting held not long ago, at which there was such an outpouring of the Holy Spirit. The Elders there know that President Smith is a true Prophet, for they had received testimony of this faot. They had often received the spirit of inspiration of the Lord. ' He closed by bearing a strong testispirit of inspiration of the Lord. He closed by bearing a strong testi-mony of the truth of the Gospel. Elder Joseph A. McRae, president of the Colorado mission, next reported. He said in part: The Colorado mission is now in a better condition than ever before. In the city of Denver there are jul homes in which the Elders might, at any time in the evening, so and read the Book of Mormon. There are three young ladies in the missionary field, who have access to homes where the brethren missionaries have been forbid-den to come.

Elder McRae testified that he knew Joseph F. Smith to be a Prophet of the Lord. Elder German E. Ellsworth, president of the Northern States mission, report-ed the condition of the Church in his field of labor. Every Elder in the mis-sion is doing his best to preach the Gos-sion is doing his best to preach the Gos-pel. He said that in some parts of the mission they have invitations from peo-ple whose ministers have forsaken them because they cannot pay enough. So the Elders go there and are well received; the people declare that they cannot af-ford to get ministers half so good as the Elders who come for nothing. The speaker said that there is a spirit in that part of Illinois from which the in that part of Illinois from which the

They would descend o a level where they will be unable a account of their condition, to use any influence against the people or the ork of the Lord,

President Smith then presented the authorities of the Church. All the vot-ing was unanimous with two exceptions; and President Smith invited those who had so voted to state their grievances to the proper authorities, and they would be considered. The list of names as sustained is as follows:

ROAD COMMISSION.

The Idaho intermountain wagon road commission adjourned this evening af-ter a two days' session. The commis-sion was organized by the election of M. E. Lewis, one of the members, as secretary, and by the adoption of a resolution providing that in all cases where roads were built, the section benefited would have to pay half the expense of constructing the road. Dur-ing the two days' session the commisommission adjourned this evening afing the two days' session, the commis-sion gave audience to a number of delegations desiring to present the claims of certain localities for roads. The commission has prepared the following statement of proposed road improve-ments, with the estimated cost and length of each road and trail:
