

Original Poetry.

For the DESERET EVENING NEWS.
THINK OF ME.

When joy and gladness fill thy heart,
And tranquil peace sweet memories bring,
When hope reveals a future bright
And pleasures o'er thy pathway fling;
When sitting in the household throng,
Where gloom no harbor dares to find
And loved ones circle round thy knee,
Then let a thought of me be kind.

When silent in the moon's pale light
You sit and think of friendships dear,
Or when you gaze on starry skies
And breathe the fragrant evening air.
When future hopes illumine thy path,
And fill thy soul with ecstasy
And naught disturbs the picture fair,
Let one bright theme bring thoughts of me.

When other hearts their vows shall breathe
And other hands shall thee caress,
When other eyes thy path shall watch
And strive to steal away distress;
And truly all thy ways are peace,
And all thy days glide happily,
And bliss supreme thy cup has filled;
I pray thee then, O think of me.

A leading lecturer classifies his audience as follows: The "still-attentives," the "quick-responses," the "hard-to-lifts," the "won't-applauds," and the "get-up-and-go-outs."

"Here's a man fallen into this slough!" exclaimed one laborer; "hurry, for he's up to his ankles." "If that's all there's no hurry." "Yes, there is, for he's fallen in head first."
