EVENING NEWS.

Thursday, June 29, 1876.

By Telegraph.

PER WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH LINE.

Last Night's Dispatches.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, 28.—In continuation Jones argued that money panics were of larger duration and much more severe in countries having a gold standard of value alone than in countries having a double standard of gold and silver. Advocates of a bi-metallic currency did not propose any debased currency. They did not propose to make silver legal tender for any more than its value in the markets of the world. In conclusion he spoke in favor of the bi-metallic system.

Pending the discussion, Sargent, from the committee on appropriations, moved that the Senate insist on its amendments to the army appropriation bills, and agree to the conference asked for by the House.

Agreed to, and the Chair appointed Allison, Logan and Thurman members of the committee.

EASTERN.

Some Satisfied—Some Disgusted.

CINCINNATI, 28.—News of the nomination of Tilden was received here with quiet satisfaction by the hard money and with undisguised disgust by the greenback wing of the party.

The Enquirer, speaking of the nominaton of Tilden, says the nomination will fall heavily upon Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and other western states. There will be a revulsion all along the centre, for the party in its wisdom virtually abandoned these States. We prefer Tilden to Hayes, and shall advise the democratic organizers to stand by the nominee.

Disappointment.

INDIANAPOLIS, 28. — There is among democrats a universal disappointment.

Blaine at Home, Fatigued and Exhausted.

AUGUSTA, Me., 28.—Blaine reached home this evening, having come through on a special car in twenty-six hours from Washington. He was very much fatigued and exhausted by the journey and was taken immediately to his residence, not being able to stop a moment to receive the congratulations of a large number of friends who had assembled at the railway station to welcome him. He is now under the care of his family physician, and it is hoped that perfect rest and quiet will soon restore him to health.

How Tilden Received the News.

ALBANY, 28.—Tilden passed the day at the Executive Mansion, surrounded by the members of his household. He received but few dispatches from St. Louis and sent none there. This evening when the Associated Press bulletin dispatch announcing the nomination of Tilden on the second ballot was received, it was sent up to the Executive Mansion. There were present with the Governor, Comptroller Robinson, State Engineer Van Buren, and four or five other friends. Mr. Newell took the dispatch and read it aloud to the Governor. "Is that No. 2?" he inquired in the calmest tone, with not even a smile upon his countenance.

Subsequently the following dispatch was received—

"St. Louis, 28.

"To Governor Tilden—

"I congratulate you on your enthusiastic nomination. Kentucky will most heartily endorse you, with her 40,000 majority.

"JOHN C. UNDERWOOD,
"Lt. Gov. of Kentucky."

This was also read to the Governor, who then exhibited signs of interest, and inquired if anyone knew what the vote was and what the platform contained. The Governor then drew four or five of those present about him and in a tone scarcely above a whisper said—

"I can tell you what has been done. This nomination was not made by the leaders of the party. It was the people who made it. They want reform. They have wanted it for a long time, and in looking about they have become convinced that it is to be found here," pointing to himself. "They want it. That is what they are after. They are sick of corruption and the maladministration of their affairs. They want a change, and one for the better, a thorough reformation. You will find there will be a larger German vote polled next Fall than ever, and it will be largely cast for the democratic ticket. I know that."

Other dispatches were then received, conveying congratulations from all parts of the country, in the midst of which the Governor maintained almost stolid imperturbability.

A number of citizens secured the services of a band of musicians and at 12 o'clock proceeded to the Executive Mansion. The Governor received them, shaking hands with a large number, and receiving their congratulations. The crowd then retired to the grounds in front of his mansion, when, at repeated calls, the Governor stepped to the door and said—

"Citizens of Albany—I thank you for this impromtu expression of your kind regards. During my residence in your city the past two years I have received many like demonstrations. I assure you I feel grateful to you. At some other time I will be glad to give you a more formal reception, and now will only say good night."

LOST.—This morning, a Brown Leather Pocket Book, containing a number of U. S. currency bills. The finder will be rewarded on leaving the same at this office, for the owner. 184
