

The Texas Drought.

RAY, August 2.—The terrible drought which has prevailed in Northwest Texas for nine weeks was broken last night by a storm, followed by a refreshing rain. Only two drops of rain fell for nine weeks in the area north of San Antonio for 200 miles. The cotton bolls, which were just coming from the stems, the corn crop was ruined and the cattle ranges had been parched. A appalling condition prevailed for two weeks past. Along the Rio Grande, from Pecos to El Paso, the water was so low that the cattle were driven from the water. The country is now without a drop of water. The cattle are suffering from thirst and the loss of a considerable number of cattle is feared. Last night's storm was very much needed by the country.
