Sheriff Emery and His Deputies Arrest an Even Dozen in a Dive.

ONE MAN AND ELEVEN GIRLS

M. H. Davis, Over Sixty Years of Age, Abuses Officers and Lands in Jail With the Rest.

Another raid on women of the town was made at 10 o'clock last night by Sheriff Emery and a squad of deputies. The raid was on a dive at 57½ Commercial street and 11 women and one man were arrested and lodged in the county jail. The man arrested was M. H. Davis, said to be more than 60 years of age. He was charged with resisting an officer and with using profane and obscene language.

While the deputies were waiting for the women to accompany them to the county jail, Davis interfered and began to abuse the officers.

"You just wait you—Mormon—! Wait until after election and we'll show you," he howled. "Never mind girls, I'll see that you get out all right."

The officers stood the fellow's abuse for some time and then placed him under arrest. The place raided by the officers was running under the guise of a roominghouse and was conducted by a woman named Willie Campbell. The other 10 women are colored and are among the very worst element of the city. They are dips and women of the town and some of them have been in trouble before. They were locked up in default of $300 bail each.

Shortly after the crowd had been landed at the county jail, Charles Fish, furnished $100 bail for Davis and the latter rustled $300 for the Campbell woman. The prisoners were informed by Chief Deputy Sharp that it was not the purpose of the authorities to be unnecessarily severe upon them but it was their determination to run them out of town. Several of the women expressed a willingness to leave Salt Lake and some said they would even be willing to walk out of town. The prisoners will be arraigned before Justice of the Peace Bishop on charges of vagrancy.

BELLIGERENT DREAMER

Drunken Bartender Goes to Sleep and Then Gets Really Angry.

A belligerent person by the name of Watts created somewhat of a flurry at the city and county building yesterday, and barely escaped being sent to jail for his unseemly conduct. When awake Watts was a terror, and when asleep he terrorizes for the loudness of his snoring.

About 11 o'clock the man was found asleep on a bench in the corridor of the fourth floor of the building. A pen of hogs could not have made much more noise than he did with his loud snoring. Neither could they have emitted a much fouler odor than was occasioned by the bad whiskey the man had imbibed. Court Bailiff Bridge stepped up to the sleeper and tried to awaken him, but he paid no attention to the most violent shaking. A newspaper man came to the officer's assistance, and it was only after they had lifted the big fellow to his feet that he gave any sign of returning from the land of dream-land and slumber.

He was advised in a friendly way to seek the open air, but he returned curses and imprecations for the counsel given, and declared his intention of remaining there until 3:30 o'clock, or just as long as he pleased. He said he had friends in the building and he would "clean out the whole smoot bunch." He changed his mind, however, about going and sought a retreat in the inner room of the office of Supervisor of Waterworks Tom Hilday.

It was learned later that the fellow had at first heard a moving street car on State and Fourth South, and was dragged a considerable distance. Deputy Sheriff Joseph Burdette assisted him, and received the same kind of thanks that was accorded Deputy Sheriff Burdette. Burdette followed Watts into the building, but fell asleep before he could carry out his avowed intention of "doing him up" for presuming to help him out of the gutter. Watts is said to be a bartender.

"UNSEEN" LANGUAGE.

Ella Schuppe, a female rounder, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Vandevoort. At the station she became abusive and used vile language toward the policemen. The charge of using obscene language was then filed against her. While being led out to jail she shrieked: "I'll get even with you—for arresting me for using 'unseen language'." The woman is an old-time offender and will probably be given a few days in jail to ponder over her folly.

ACTION OF BOARD DRAWING COMMENT

Resolution Thought by Some to Be a Slap at University,
Which is Denied.

SUPT. CHRISTENSEN TALKS

He Gives Light on the Question and Regrets That an Improper Construction Was Made.

The resolution passed by the city board of education Tuesday evening, censuring educational institutions that take teachers away from the city schools during contract with the board, caused considerable discussion in school circles yesterday.

The resolution was by some interpreted to apply more particularly to the University of Utah, but Supt. Christensen says that such is not true, but that the coat was intended for anybody that it might fit. It is true that the Training school, a department of the University, had added to its corps of teachers from the ranks of the city schools. As to why this was done and how it was done, explanations are not forthcoming from Supt. Christensen and President Joseph T. Kingsbury, there being little, if any variance in the statements. Yesterday the former authorized the following, as his view of the situation:

BY PROF. CHRISTENSEN.
"It is to be deeply regretted that the purpose of the resolution adopted by the board of education Tuesday night was partially misunderstood. Of course, the University of Utah was not the object of censure. Universities and colleges are not in the habit of recruiting their faculties from elementary schools. Possibly the fact that several teachers have withdrawn from our schools to accept more lucrative positions in the Training school may have been responsible for the inference made.

"I am sorry that the resolution has been the occasion for so much discussion, and that it has been given such wide publicity. However, I recognize that it is a legitimate item of news for publication.

CITY IS FORTUNATE.

"Salt Lake City is indeed fortunate in having in its schools many of the very best teachers in the country. There are few places, if any, in which the teaching force will average better than here; but unfortunately many places pay decidedly better salaries. The result is that our city is sort of a recruiting ground. Practically every large city in the west pays better for the services of teachers than we do, and yet there is perhaps not a single city in which a larger proportion of school revenue goes to the salary fund than in Salt Lake City. The fact that we have more pupils in proportion to the total population and a smaller assessed valuation of property than in most other cities of equal size accounts for one of the difficult problems that the board must meet."

CANADA'S BUMPER CROPS.

Thomas Duce Tells of Conditions in Alberta State.

Thomas Duce of the presidency of the Alberta State of Zion is among the visitors at conference. Mr. Duce says Canada has had a bumper crop season and the farmers are having all they can do to take care of their crops. "Sometimes we have an off year or so, when the crops fall down," said Mr. Duce, "but when the good year comes it makes up for all the shortcomings of the other ones." Mr. Duce says western Canada has only just commenced to grow, and that its development will be rapid and sure. He was one of the early settlers in the Alberta country, and is now located at Cardston, which was named after the father of the settlement, the late President C. O. Card.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Last night Miss Merce Berkley and Lucius B. Fuller were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Berkley, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. L. White, Miss Winifred Lynn being bridesmaid, and Robert Fairbanks best man. The rooms were beautifully decorated in yellow and white, the parlor being in white roses, palms and smilax, and the library and diningroom in yellow chrysanthemums, the table in the diningroom having a Cluny lace cloth over yellow satin, and candles shaded in the same color with a centerpiece of the flowers. The bride wore a handsome gown of white satin with trimmings of Duchesse lace, a long tulle veil fastened with a wreath of white marguerites, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Lynn wore a gown of white embroidered net over yellow and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Fred T. Fairbanks played the bridal music and Mrs. E. D. Hammond presided in the diningroom. Mr. and Mrs. Fuller left afterward for an eastern tour, the bride wearing a gown of dark blue cloth.

Mrs. Fisher Harris and Mrs. Pfoutz entertained at tea this afternoon for Miss Mary Parsons.

Mrs. Charles Read and Mrs. Elmer Darling will entertain at a reception next Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Moylan C. Fox and Commodore and Mrs. H. T. Stevenson were guests of honor last night at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Keyes.

Mrs. Raymond S. Masson leaves today for her home in Arizona.

Miss Bess McMillan leaves shortly for Spokane to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Luelwitz.

Mrs. Grant Hampton entertains the Daughters of the American Revolution this afternoon.

Miss Elizabeth Niles, who has been visiting friends in the east since leaving school last spring, has returned.

Mrs. Isadora Mayer and daughter, Mrs. C. C. Crismon, were hostesses at a bridge tea yesterday, about 40 being present. The rooms were decorated in autumn vines and nasturtiums with beautiful effect, and a number of friends assisted the hostesses, among them Mrs. S. L. Mayer, Miss Frances McChrystal, Miss Mary Halloran, and Miss Katie Adams. Prizes were won by Mrs. W. S. Henderson, Mrs. W. W. Armstrong, Mrs. John Calne, Mrs. Henry Nelson, Mrs. Ellen Elliott, Mrs. Verhlemmer, Mrs. Richard Savage, Mrs. John C. Daly, Mrs. H. L. Mayer and Mrs. H. C. Hoffman.

Miss Jean Odell and Miss Edith Sutherland will be guests of honor at a dancing party tonight to be given by Miss Julia Cullen.

The Utah State Council of Women met yesterday at the Exponent office with a large representation from various states. The chief business transacted was the election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Emily S. Richards; vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Eichnor; second vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Hayward; secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Cohen; assistant secretary, Mrs. Anne T. Piersey; treasurer, Mrs. Hannah Lapsch. Mrs. Emmeline B. Wells was made a member of the national executive board, and Mrs. Margaret Zane Witcher chairman of the local executive board.

Today Miss Raddie Ormsby, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. C. Ormsby of Rexburg, Idaho, and Orson John Hyde, were married in the Temple, and this afternoon the event is celebrated in a family dinner at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hyde, the rooms being prettily decorated in autumn leaves and American Beauty roses, and about 16 being present.

The marriage of Miss Florence Tuddenham, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Tuddenham and Mr. J. E. Langford will take place next Wednesday in the temple at noon. No cards have been issued, but an informal reception will be held at the home of the bride, from 7 to 10 p. m.

Tomorrow the Genealogical society will meet at B. Y. Memorial hall at 4 o'clock, room 21, and lectures will be given under the auspices of the auxiliary committee of the Society. All interested are invited to be present.

HARD COLDS.

People whose blood is pure are not nearly so likely to take hard colds as are others.

Physiology goes into the reason. Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure, causing healthy action of the mucous membrane and giving strength and tone to all the organs and functions.

This great medicine recovers the system after a cold, as no other does.

The Young Man's Excuses for Getting Small Salary

We told the young man his employer had said he ought to study in the Association Institute's evening classes if he wanted a raise.

The young man replied:

"My company won't pay any more than it has to. I'm afraid it wouldn't pay more salary for the work I do, no matter how much I study at night."

"Besides, I'm pretty tired at night. And I am hard pressed for money."

"I'd rather make a little money on the side than spend a little more for education."

"But I do want to get ahead."

"And I should like to spend two nights a week studying if my boss thinks it would help me."

"I'll think it over and let you know."

This was Saturday. Tuesday night the young man saw the Educational Director and said:

"I've decided. Enroll me!"
