

MRS. E. S. TAYLOR LAIN TO REST.

Impressive Gathering of Young And Aged at the Assembly Hall Yesterday.

STERLING WOMAN HONORED.

Speakers, One and All, Paid Tribute To the Memory of Departed Y. L.
M. L. A. President.

It was a beautiful tribute that was paid to the life of a Utah woman by those with whom she labored and of whom she was a leader and a friend, at the funeral services of the late El-

Church, and all its members. "To her family and husband I would say," he continued, "may your hearts be comforted, and may you follow in the example she has set."

MRS. MARIA Y. DOUGALL.
Mrs. Maria Y. Dougall, first counselor to President Taylor, had the difficult task to fill of bearing her testimony of love for one whose loss was a deep and personal sorrow to her. She said that the life of Mrs. Taylor was an example, worthy of being followed.
"I have worked with her for nearly 20 years," she continued. "In all my life I have never met so noble and so capable a woman. My heart goes out in deepest sympathy to her family."

ELDER J. GOLDEN KIMBALL.
Elder J. Golden Kimball was the next speaker. He referred feelingly to the esteem in which he held Mrs. Taylor during her life, and said that he was not concerned about her rest in the future world, for he believed that beyond death was an organization such as was here on earth. Her work here, he thought, would only be an education for a greater work beyond. He concluded by extending his sympathy to the bereaved family, and endorsing the successful efforts in organizing the young women of Utah, carried out by the organization of which Mrs. Taylor was the head.

PREST, BATHSHEBA W. SMITH.
President Bathsheba W. Smith of the tell you that she has finished her mission with honor, and that she is accepted of the Lord."

MRS. EMMELINE R. WELLS.
Mrs. Emmeline R. Wells spoke under great emotion, and with deep feeling of a loss to the friend of whom she had to speak. "I rejoice that I have known her," she said, "as I contemplate her life and our association together. Many vivid pictures come up to my mind of her presence when we have rejoiced together in spiritual gatherings, as well as in counseling together. I am sorry for all those within her family circle in the great loss which they have met with. She was an exceedingly strong personality, one of the strongest, one of the bravest, one of the most self denying, one of the most devoted women in the Church. The work that Sister Taylor has done cannot be told in a few minutes, nor yet the pleasure of her acquaintance. But I do feel that these young ladies who have been associated with her must feel that they have suffered a great loss. I have her friendship, her wisdom, her judgment, her advice, her wisdom, her judgment, her advice to the Gospel, her integrity to the truth."

RUTH M. FOX.
Following Mrs. Wells Ruth M. Fox, in a few words spoken with great difficulty, and under a high pitch of emotion, added her sentiment of tribute to the memory of one to whom she had learned to look for counsel in hours of difficulty. She said that it was a tribute for her to realize that her friend would be with her no more, but that the certainty of the future made the present occasion a most joyous one.
Mrs. Taylor was a woman, she said, against whom no one could say a word in criticism. Her executive abilities had been marvelous. Her judgment and justice were supreme.

Mrs. Fox concluded with a tribute to the personal aid which Mrs. Taylor had extended to her through all her life.

PRESIDENT JOSEPH F. SMITH.
The final tribute of respect was paid by President Joseph F. Smith, who stated that he could not let that hour pass without adding his word to that of the others, who had known and who had reason to love the sister who had departed.

In prefacing his remarks he quoted from the Bible, the passage from the first chapter of John, beginning: "My little children, these things I write unto you that you may know the truth." He then said:
"I do not wish to detain the congregation, I wish to say that I endorse without reserve, all that I have heard said today respecting the character, life, labors, virtues, wisdom, judgment and intelligence of our sister, Emmeline S. Taylor. Pardon me if I make such a broad expression, but I will say that most people walk very largely in a light that is borrowed, like the light of the moon borrowed from the sun. There are those whom I have known, and there are few men and women in the world, who do not seek borrow light, for the light is in them and they walk in it, and they have fellowship with Jesus Christ and with his associates, with the Kingdom of God in the earth, and the blood of Jesus Christ has indeed cleansed them from all sin. I will give it as an opinion which I have held many years, because of my connection with these Mutual Improvement associations and with Sister Taylor, that she was one of the few in the world who had the light within her, and who had the inspiration and the intelligence that is born of truth and of the forgiveness of sins, of the cleansing blood of Jesus Christ, and she was in it, and therefore she had power among her associates and her sisters. She was legitimately the head of the organization over which she was called to preside. She borrowed no light from others. She bore her own influence upon the minds of those with whom she was associated. There came out of her soul the spirit of wisdom, counsel and judgment, and her mind was clear in regard to truth, and she always spoke as one possessed of more than ordinary intelligence, which she really did possess."

Now it is not my custom to speak praise of our departed loved ones. I would rather dwell upon the goodness and glory of God's message of life and salvation to the children of men. But I have felt to say these few words in endorsement of what has been said by our brethren and sisters with respect to Sister Taylor. It was said that she was a strong character. She had a very strong personality. This is true. But the very strength of that character and personality was tempered and softened by the choicest spirit of kindness, of love, of mercy, and of charity that ever, in my judgment, adorned woman-kind; and while she possessed this strength of character and this strong personality, it was always bent in the direction of righteousness, in the direction of truth, and for uplifting of her associates. Herein is where she shone most brightly, because all her thoughts and all her energies were directed in the right channel and for the right cause. And she was singularly free from mistakes and from those little imperfections or weaknesses which are so often exhibited by fallen human natures."

My brethren and sisters, we have lost a valuable soul from among us in the flesh. I sometimes marvel why it is, when these spirits are so few and far between."

TO HANDLE MEN.
To Do So Successfully One Must Acquire Self-Control.

A foreman in a great locomotive works tells how he acquired self-control after it had been lost through the coffee habit:

"I find myself obliged to write you about Postum Coffee. I have been a coffee drinker for over 40 years and can say that it made me almost a total wreck. I am a night worker in the American Locomotive Co., and have to take my dinner with me; also a bottle of tea or coffee. In time it got to be so that there was not a night for over a year, but that I would have a headache or heartburn or both. I went to the doctor's and most every week to see if they could do something for me. They said it was the coffee habit that did the mischief."

"So I gave up tobacco, but it did not help me. I got so nervous that I could not sleep. I did not like to work for me as I could not use them as men ought to be used. I was nervous, irritable and would find fault all the time."
"Two months ago I took dinner with some friends who gave me what I supposed was a cup of coffee. They explained that it was Postum Coffee and my friend's wife said that she had used it about six months and that during that time had not been nervous and was formerly subject to, and that she felt so well all the time. That evening I took a package of Postum home with me and began using it."

"The result was that the doctors were wrong—it was not tobacco but tea and coffee that upset me. So. During the two months that I have used Postum I have had neither headache or heartburn, my nervousness has left me and I have gained 14 pounds in weight."

"Use this if you want to, as I have gained 24 pounds to drinking Postum instead of coffee. They saw what it had done for me. I have given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich."

TEA The aroma of tea—fine tea —is almost enough to define the word to a dead man.

between, that they should not, in the providence of God, be permitted to remain a little longer with us. She was not so old but she might have lived for many years and continued her labor among us. But in God's providence, the youth even, the brightest, sometimes, amongst us, and the most faithful, the most diligent, those who seem to be qualified to accomplish the greatest good, are often permitted to go before, while those who need light, who borrow light, who are seeking light and intelligence and who are susceptible to it and are striving to absorb in their souls that it may become a part of them, remain to struggle along with their imperfections and with the difficulties that they have to meet with in life, to do the best they can. And I conclude that God intends that we shall feel and know that it is not man, nor the arm of flesh that we shall depend upon Him, but that we shall depend upon Him, and put our trust in Him, though the way is crooked, and all the forces, it seems, of evil, are arrayed against the work of the Lord.

One of the sisters remarked that if the world could see and know the virtue and the purity of life of such women as Sister Taylor and her associates in the Young Ladies' Mutual Improvement associations, that it would hold their tongue. This I fear is mistake. I believe that God intends that we shall feel and know that it is not man, nor the arm of flesh that we shall depend upon Him, but that we shall depend upon Him, and put our trust in
against the work of the Lord.

The Lord bless you. I will say to Bishop Taylor, God bless you, and help you to continue to be the man that you are; all good wives help their husbands to be good, that is, if there is any good in them. To him I say, the Lord bless you, comfort your heart, give you that strength that is needed to enable you to continue your labors as a shepherd in Israel and as a guide to the flock, over which you preside as a Bishop of the Church, and that you and yours may be blessed and filled with joy, satisfaction and the knowledge that you possess all the glorious privileges and rights that belong to her that has gone before you, that you will meet her again and enjoy her society forever and ever in the mansion that is prepared for you and for her. When you shall be gathered into the kingdom of our God, this is my prayer for you. Ever be true to the Gospel of life; be true to the examples of your mother, wait and follow in her footsteps, for she was indeed a true mother in Israel, and a wise counselor, a glorious, good woman. God bless her memory to all those who knew her; in regard to her fate and her name be handed down from generation to generation by those who love God and who strive to keep His commandments, is my prayer in the name of Jesus. Amen.

The choir sang a concluding number "Rest on the Hillside, Rest," after which benediction was pronounced by Elder Rudger Clawson of the Council of the Twelve Apostles.

PALLBEARERS.
The pallbearers were Rodney C. Badger, J. Golden Kimball, Nelson Morris, Douglas N. Todd, William B.
Douglass and Thomas Hull.

The floral offerings were rarely beautiful, and included pieces from each of the three organizations of which Mrs.
Taylor was an officer, and from many admiring friends in addition.

At the conclusion of the exercises in the Tabernacle the remains were escorted to the grave by a large concourse of friends. The grave, in the family burial ground, was dedicated by Nephil L.
Morris, president of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH
Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and be Cured.

If a few years ago some one had said you can cure catarrh by breathing air charged with healing balsam, the idea would have been ridiculed and it remained for that eminent investigator, Dr. T. Booth, to discover in Hyomei this method of cure.

Breathe Hyomei through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and it will cure the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects a complete and lasting cure.

Salt Lake City there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. It does not help you F. C. Schramm will return the money you paid for Hyomei.

GENERAL BALDWIN HERE.
Commander of the Department of the Colorado Arrives.

Brig-Gen F. D. Baldwin, commanding the department of the Colorado, arrived from Denver early this morning, accompanied by Mrs. Baldwin.

Mrs. Osborne, First Lieut. H. A. Drum of the Twenty-seventh Infantry and wife. The party will remain at the Kenyon while in town. After breakfast, the general went out to Fort Douglas where there was a parade and review of the garrison, followed by inspection of the buildings and fixtures about the post.

DISCUSSED WATER. Real Estate Association Debated the Bonded Indebtedness Scheme.

The Real Estate association and invited guests spent the entire Saturday afternoon at the Commercial club discussing the question of incurring a bonded indebtedness of $500,000 for the purpose of increasing the water supply, and a bonded debt of $150,000 for establishing a supplemental sewer system.

Mayor Morris contended that it would be safe and proper to follow the scheme as devised by the special committee; that the proposition to exchange water with the farmers was the best that could be presented at this time. He said enough money could not be provided to buy the land owned by the farmers in order to secure to the city perpetual first rights to the water. Some farmers wanted $1,000 an acre and others would be satisfied with $500 an acre for their lands. The borrowing power of the city was limited to $1,500,000, a very small sum for the purpose of valuation within the corporation.

Councilman Fernstrom held there was no other way to get an adequate water supply except that embodied in the ordinance and in the plan submitted by the committee and adopted by the council.

J. E. Dooley contended that the measures provided for were unjust to the city, that the contract with the farmers made them absolute dictators in case of disagreement over the water supply, that official government reports showed that the inflow of Utah lake was growing less yearly and was likely in a few years to cease altogether during the dry season, and that the contract contains a provision making the city liable in the courts for damages to the farmers in the event of the failure of the exchange water provided for.

The ordinance contains a provision that in the event of failure to deliver water to the farmers for twelve hours they may take their water the same as though no contract existed, and that they may seek damages in the courts for any injury that may result to their crops by reason of the failure of the city to fulfill its part of the contract.

"There is no question about the supply in the lake being sufficient for the purpose, having my opinion on the records of the past 10 years taken by the government. I have made an investigation of the city's plans in this connection, and the only thing that has occurred to me as something to be possibly guarded against is whether, if for any reason the government project should not go through, there might be danger in time of extreme drouth of the city's infringing upon the rights of others in the matter of pumping from the lake the additional water required. While the supply might be ample it is hardly possible that the pumping might lower the level of the lake to such an extent others who have equal rights there could claim that they were consigned extra expense in getting their share. As I say, this is the only thing that has occurred to me in the way of a disad-vantage, and it may be a very remote possibility."

The question was finally referred to the board of governors for investigation as to the legal status of the two quarters of bonded indebtedness, and to report next Wednesday afternoon.

CATARRH Cannot be cured By Sprays or other Local Applications

Catarrh is not, as is generally believed, a local disease, but is due to serious causes deep-seated in the blood. Blood Taint and Lowered Vitality are the conditions which give rise to Catarrh and sprays, washes, smoking preparations or other local remedies cannot do more than temporarily relieve the symptoms and can never reach and cure the disease itself. Many doctors direct their efforts to relieving the mere symptoms of Catarrh, treating it as a strictly local disease and totally ignoring sight of the real causes that underlie the outward signs of this malady. Catarrh if not promptly arrested and cured, may cause consumption or lead to very serious diseases of the digestive organs.

Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) cures Catarrh quickly, thoroughly and permanently. Its curative properties act directly on the blood, driving out the poison, purifying and strengthening the whole system. It relieves immediately the disgusting symptoms of Catarrh, such as hawking, spitting, nose bleeding, ringing in the ears, the dropping of a catarrhal matter into the throat, sick stomach, etc. It absolutely and permanently cures all forms of Catarrh—Catarrh of the Nose, Ear, Throat, Eyes, Lungs, Stomach, Liver or Kidneys. If you have any of the symptoms of Catarrh, don't waste time and money on worthless local remedies but get B. B. B.—the medicine that is guaranteed to cure.

Botanic Blood Balm (B. B. B.) is sold by all druggists. Price $1.00 per large bottle. If taken in sufficient quantity according to directions on label and not cured, money is refunded.

markable cures made by B. B. B.

The Christmas Store

This store had a tremendous trade Saturday. It nearly equalled the day before Christmas of last year—and that was the greatest day the store has enjoyed. It now looks as though we will pass that record day this week. Every indication points to an overwhelming holiday trade, which will tax our fullest capacity to accommodate easily the eager, serving throngs. An increased force of salespeople has been added. Our splendid system of handling trade awakens the admiration of our friends.
The arrangement of the store is such, with its broad and spacious aisles, that shopping is a delight even in these exceedingly busy times.
